Washington, March 12 (AP)—A widening cleavage between Father Coughlin and Senator Long was seen today in the latest renewal of the spectacular battle of epithets between them, on one side, and General Hugh S. Johnson on the other.

For the most part, the priest and the senator preach the same economic doctrines, but on one point, taking their words at face value, they were widely apart today. That point was the question of supporting President Roosevelt.

"Roosevelt or Ruin"

Long has lost no opportunity to lambast the administration with accusations of broken promises to redistribute the nation's wealth. Coughlin last night renewed and reaffirmed his 1932 slogan of "Roosevelt or Ruin."

This followed a long period in which the supposition by many here was that the priest was rapidly nearing a position of outright opposition to the administration.

There was speculation without verification as to whether the White House had been in touch with Coughlin since Johnson's first speech attacking him and Long, and it was pointed out that the refinancing move announced at the treasury over the week-end was in conformity with Coughlin's views.

Meanwhile, Johnson preparing to return to the attack in the immediate future, with plenty to say" went into seclusion awaiting, as he said, a popular call to lead a nation-wide campaign to exterminate the influence of the senator and the cleric.

He denounced them jointly last night as:

"Political termites"—"economic shysters"—"public enemies number one and two"—after Coughlin has assailed him as a "political corpse"—"braggart"—"chocolate soldier"—distorter of history."—"preverter of logic."

Long had his say in a radio speech following the first by the general, in which he described the former NRA head as the "late, lamented, pampered excrown prince."

Irrelevant Speeches

He was up and down all day in the senate, talking about the pending work-relief bill, but said nothing about the Johnson assault.

Meanwhile, Representative Cannon (D. Wis.) took the senate to task for permitting Long to "handcuff and obstruct important business" with "long speeches day after day on irrelevant matters." He referred to the works bill, which Long has threatened to delay until he gets a vote on his proposal for an investigation of Postmaster General Farley.

"Huey Long," said Cannon, "consumes the nation's time with talk which is beneath the dignity and importance of the senate, and which I contend has no place when important problems are under discussion. But, I do say that some of his talk is not altogether footless or meaningless.

"Huey Long is not a joke. He is no Tom Heflin (former Alabama senator) whose tirades used to empty the senate and

"I Am Taking on the Appearance of an Ape!"

* * * * * * *

Californian Afflicted by Rare Disease

Eight years ago a strapping man of nearly six feet. Today, shrunken to a bare five feet, spine lengthening into a tail, legs bowed and head grown to nearly three times its size. Those facts describe the plight of George Bocklet, 49, of Azusa, Calif., shown at left as he appears today, a victim of the rare, incurable and lingeringly painful Piaget's disease which caused him to write to a Los Angeles physician: "I am taking on the appearance of an ape." How his head has enlarged is shown at right, the upper photo portraying him before his affliction.

'Ape Man' Fights For Life in Sanitorium

Los Angeles, March 12 (AP)—George Bocklet, who says his strange affliction is making him look "more and more like an ape," began a desperate fight for life in a sanitorium here today.

Dr. Frank G. Nolan, physician and surgeon, said unless doctors can determine what is wrong with the 49-year-old Azusa, Calif., commercial artist, he is faced with possible death within two years.

Bocklett's body is shrinking mysteriously, while his head is growing larger.

Beginning an exhaustive examination, doctors started tests today which Dr. Nolan feared for a while might be halted by death as Bocklet suffered a severe hemorrhage—probably caused by his street car ride from Azusa.

Although Bocklet continued shrinking and again said he felt like an "ape man," Dr. Nolan said the shrinking may make him feel as if he were becoming more Simian, but there is nothing in his disease that could be said to be definitely reversing the evolutionary process.

Dr. Nolan said he was inclined to the belief a "malfunction of the parathyroid or pituitary glands causes this strange reversal of calcium deposits. But to say that Bocklet is growing a tail, while it might make good reading, is hardly the case."

Upper Peninsula 1934 Fair Shows Loss Of $45,836

Lansing, March 12 (AP)—The state agricultural department received a report Tuesday showing that the Upper Peninsula Fair incurred a net loss of $45,836 in 1934. A state administrative board appropriation of $20,000 and a like sum from the state racing commission will absorb most of the loss. The last profit for the Escanaba fair was $1,338, in 1930.

NEGRO LYNCHED IN MISSISSIPPI

Alleged Slayer Hanged From Tree by Mob Of 50 Men

Slayden, Miss., March 12 (AP)—Alternately singing and praying even as the rope was tightened about his throat, Ab Young, negro tenant farmer suspected of slaying a highway employe, was lynched today in a school yard three miles east of here.

A mob of approximately fifty men hanged the negro from a tall oak tree a couple of hours after he was seized at Rossville, Tenn., just across the Mississippi line. Young was wanted in the killing of Hardy Mackie, 45-year-old highway worker.

"You'd better sing a hymn," one of the group told the negro as a rope was placed about his neck. He endeavored to sing.

"You'd better pray," he was told. The negro prayed.

The rope was fastened about his neck. The other end tied to the tree. He was pushed atop a small coach automobile. One of his captors drove the car away, leaving the negro's body dangling in the air.

Mackie, a native of Marshall county, had returned from Holly Springs, Miss., Saturday night when he stopped his automobile in front of a store at Slayden.

The officers said Young had been drinking and was shooting across the road.

"Stop that shooting, or you will kill somebody," they said Mackie warned the negro. The officers reported the negro turned and fired in the direction of the highway employe. Mackie fell, mortally wounded

Haber Thinks CCC Will Be Retained

Lansing, Mich., March 12, (AP)—Dr. William Haber, state emergency welfare relief director, expressed confidence today the civilian conservation corps camps in Michigan would be retained and enlarged.

The director laid plans for another enrollment for the camps which now hold 11,000 men. Present appropriations of congress for financing the camps are exhausted.

The camps paid volunteers $3,000,000 during the first year, $2,500,000 of which was returned to their dependents.

GREEK REBEL LEADER FLEES NATIVE CRETE

WARSHIPS SURRENDER TO LOYAL FORCES

Rome, March 12 (AP)—Diplomatic circles said tonight the Greek government was preparing a demand for the extradition of former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos from the Italian island of Cassos, where the rebel cruiser Averoff landed him today with his wife and other revolt leaders.

The demand, they said, would be based upon the fact that he is not merely a political refugee but the leader of a revolution that cost the lives of hundreds of men and resulted in a loss of millions of drachm to the Greek government.

Therefore the contention is that he is not to be accorded the usual asylum for political exiles.

It was considered extremely unlikely that the Italian government would give up Venizelos.

(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)

Athens, March 12—Fiery Eleutherios Venizelos, his 12-day insurrection against Premier Panayoti Tsaldaris' government at an end, fled from his native Crete today to gain haven on the little Italian island of Cassos.

The cruiser Averoff, "flagship" of the rebel fleet, conveyed Venizelos, his wife and several other revolt chieftains to the 25-mile-square islet, and afterward radioed the government that it was continuing to Greece.

With Venizelos' flight, and the smashing of the rebels' land forces in Macedonia, the government's victory apparently was complete.

Seek Normalcy

The strife-racked Hellenic republic, its business and economic life at virtual standstill since the insurrection flared, began moving slowly back toward normalcy.

Recapture by loyal forces of the Averoff, which was expected to anchor off Phaleron tomorrow completed the reconquest of the insurgents' sea forces, which for several days held Athens and its seaport, Piraeus, in fear of bombardment.

Earlier in the day the rebel destroyers Psara and Leon and the submarine Nereus were taken over by loyal forces. The rebel submarine Katsonis arrived at the Italian island of Patmos to be interned with all her compliment.

An official announcement said the toll of both sides in the land operations in Macedonia was only

SPRING BEAVER SEASON LAUDED

Militant Campaign Planned on Violators of Game Laws

Marquette, Mich., Mar. 12 (AP)—Belief that the spring beaver trapping season will eliminate much of the violation of this law was expressed today at a conference of upper peninsula district and regional supervisors of the state conservation department held here in the office of Colonel William A. Bergin, chief conservation officer in the upper peninsula.

The new beaver trapping season, which opens April 1 and continues to April 15, was discussed and plans made for the apprehension of beaver violators. The season formerly opened in December, but was changed recently by the state conservation commission.

The conference was called by H. R. Sayre, of Lansing, chief and administrator for the department of conservation, who has general supervision over its law enforcement activities. Clarence Paquin, head of the department's educational division, and J. R. Robson who has charge of fire towers and communications, also attended.

The supervisors were instructed to be especially alert for game poachers, particularly those who are killing deer. It was pointed out that since the middle of February a large number of violators have been arrested for "shining" deer or having venison in their possession and in all cases the persons arrested have been convicted.

Colonel Bergin, Sayre and Paquin will attend a meeting of the Wolverine Conservation club in Escanaba Thursday. M. J. Fox, of Iron Mountain, and Joseph Rabitly, of Newberry, members of the state conservation commission, also will attend.

Roosevelt Acts to Ban Holding Firms

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—With the flat dictum that "to avoid governmental socialism" congress must ban all except "necessary" public utility holding companies, President Roosevelt today sent to the capitol a twelve-point plan for dealing with the subject.

Slashing sharply in the same special message at what he called organized "propaganda" against the projected legislation, the president drew assertions from two utility groups that he had "prejudged" the case.

Slaps Propaganda

Mr. Roosevelt left little doubt, however, that the weight of the administration would be thrown behind the effort to push through utility holding company legislation at this session. After hitting at what he called "propaganda to exploit the most far-fetched and fallacious fears," which, he said, left him "unimpressed," Mr. Roosevelt added:

"Except where it is absolutely necessary to the continued functioning of a geographically integrated operating utility system the utility holding company with its present powers must go."

Among the repercussions from the presidential message were:

The American Federation of Utility Investors, through its president Hugh S. Magill, said in a statement tonight that the president's words indicated a state of mind that "cooly disregards the pleas of the people in the exercise of their constitutional right to petition their own government for a redress of grievance."

The committee of public utility executives, through a statement of its chairman, Philip H. Gadsen, asserted: "In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the president sends a message to congress today which seeks to prejudge the case."

Senator Norris, Nebraska's independent Republican, said the presidential message was "dandy" and that he would propose an in-

Washington Island Accident Victims Removed From Bay

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., March 12 (AP)—After two days of grappling in 70 feet of water off Washington Island, coast guardsmen late today recovered the last three bodies of six men who drowned Sunday when their automobile plunged through thin ice on Green Bay.

The bodies of Roy Stover, Raymond Richter, and Leroy Einardson, all 20 years old, were found trapped in the car which was brought to the surface today.

Earlier the body of Norman Nelson, 20, had been recovered. Those of John Cornell, Jr., 21, and Ralph Wade, 30, were found yesterday.

GIRL ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

Helen Banninga Admits She Wrote Ransom Note to Father

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Fourteen hours after Helen Jean Banninga, 18, returned to her home after a week's absence, federal agents accused her formally today with sending an extortion letter to her parents.

Miss Banninga has signed a statement, Detective Inspector Frank J. O'Malley of the local police, said, admitting that she conceived the "kidnaping" in an attempt to obtain money for "pretty clothes."

She was quoted as admitting that she wrote the note found at the Banninga home after her disappearance, demanding $5,500 ransom, and that she also was the author of a letter mailed from Detroit, also purporting to come from a kidnap gang and demanding money.

Stayed in Detroit

It was the second letter that formed the basis for the warrant issued this afternoon by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond. U. S. department of justice agents who worked on the supposed abduction case signed the complaint.

The girl had been detained since her return, early today, but District Attorney Joseph M. Donnelly said bond was being arranged.

Miss Banninga insisted she conceived the idea and carried it through alone. She said that, while officers all over the country looked for her, she was staying in Detroit rooming houses.

M. F. Glenn, a U. S. department of justice agent, said, however, that a small automobile apparently was trailing the girl when he found her walking toward her home early today, and that the car sped away at his approach.

Miss Banninga was a state's witness in the trial of Henry Marshall, who was convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp at Lowell when he tried to halt an automobile carrying suspected bank robbers in 1932.

When the girl first disappeared last Tuesday, fear was expressed that she might have been kidnaped by members of the robber gang who still are at large.

Foreign Trade Day At Michigan Fair

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—Representatives of more than a dozen nations interested in Michigan's $200,000,000 export program were guests today at the Detroit and Michigan exposition. It was foreign trade day.

The visitors dined, at a buffet luncheon, upon buffalo meat from Clare county, apple pie from Kent county and other Michigan foodstuffs.

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint and former governor of Montana, were to be guests of honor at a ball tonight in connection with the exposition.

Restaurant Prices Advance With Food

Detroit, March 12. (AP)—Charles A. Bowen, secretary of the Michigan Restaurateurs, Inc., attributed today to rising prices of foodstuffs the increase in restaurant prices. He listed the following increases in prices for the year ending in February: bacon, 43.8 pct.; beef ribs, 52.9 pct.; lamb, 12.9 pct.; pork loin, 81.8 pct.; veal, 38.5 pct.; sausage, 47.4 pct.; salad oils, 76.4 pct.; shortening, 61.8 pct.; lard, 93.7 pct.; milk, 14.4 pct.; eggs, 46.7 pct.; malt, 18.7 pct.; flour, 8.4 pct.; carrots, 18.9 pct.; apricots, 27.3 pct.

SENATOR FACES JAIL SENTENCE

Wilkowski Found Guilty of Contempt, Plans To Appeal

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—State Senator Anthony J. Wilkowski, who claimed he was immune from judicial processes during the legislative session, faced an indefinite jail sentence today for refusal to testify about the recount of last December.

Recorder's Judge Thomas M. Cotter, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation of the recount, found Wilkowski guilty of contempt today because he ignored three court summonses.

He fined the Detroit Democratic senator $250; ordered him jailed until he agrees to testify, and then granted a stay of execution until Friday to permit an appeal to the supreme court. C. Walter Healy, Wilkowski's attorney, said the appeal would be made and indicated that legislative immunity would be the defense.

Said Records Lost

Wilkowski was chairman of the legislative committee that recounted votes cast in Wayne county last fall for secretary of state. On the committee's recommendation, Democratic legislators, in "joint convention," proclaimed Guy M. Wilson, Democrat, elected in place of Orville E. Atwood, Republican winner on the face of official returns. The supreme court subsequently upheld Atwood's claim to the office.

Senator Wilkowski testified two weeks ago before Judge Cotter, then was ordered to return the following day with tally sheets and other records of the committee. Instead, he sent a letter saying the records had been lost or mislaid, and that he was going to be busy in Lansing the remainder of the legislative session.

Judge Cotter issued a formal summons. Wilkowski disregarded it. Judge Cotter issued another order, for Wilkowski to appear and show cause why he should not be cited for contempt. Wilkowski ignored it. A third order followed, for Wilkowski to appear this morning.

When the senator ignored that, too, the judge found him guilty of contempt and fixed the penalty.

WORK MEASURE WINS IN TESTS

Insurgents Will Try to Reduce Appropriation By Two Billions

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—Senate administration leaders herded the $4,880,000,000 relief bill through two test votes today, only to meet later with a determined insurgent effort to clip the proposed appropriation to half its size.

The majority chiefs succeeded in downing with a 75 to 5 vote an amendment by Senator Long (D-La.) to set aside a billion dollars of the fund to provide college educations for needy youths.

Then they mustered a 56 to 32 vote to beat an amendment proposed by Costigan (D-Colo) which would have broadened the terms of the bill to include "useful public works," especially state, municipal and other non-federal projects.

The big measure then ran into a siege of debate led by Democrats both from the agricultural sections and big city states. From both came questioning of the value of the measure to the unemployed in their respective types of communities.

After Senator Byrd (D-Va.) made public a report from the treasury showing that $1,500,000,000 of the $3,300,000,000 public works fund appropriated two years ago remained unexpended, Senator Copeland (D-N. Y.) opened the battle to cut the new relief outlay to $1,880,000,000. Byrd favors a $1,000,000,000 appropriation.

Other developments during the day were:

The senate adopted committee amendments eliminating miscellaneous purposes of the bill.

The McCarran amendment to specify irrigation and reclamation projects in the $500,000,000 earmarked for rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken farm areas, although objected to by Senator Byrns (D-S. C.) as unnecessary was accepted by Glass in order to expedite the bill.

An amendment by Costigan to specify water conservation and transmountain diversion, and one by Steiwer (R-Ore.) to specify rivers and harbors in the $350,000,000 earmarked for flood control and miscellaneous projects also were accepted by Glass.

Prince Juan, Spain, Engaged To Marry

Paris, March 12 (AP)—Spanish royalists said today Prince Juan, last remaining unmarried son and claimant to the throne vacated by former King Alfonso of Spain, is engaged to marry Princess Marie Mercedes, of the two Sicilies branch of the house of Bourbon-Anjou.

Princess Marie Mercedes is the daughter of the Infante Carlos of Bourbon-Anjou and Princess Louise of France—sister of the Duchess de Guise, whose husband is pretender to the throne of France.

Don Juan, who is serving as a midshipman aboard the British destroyer Winchester, declined to comment on reports of his engagement.

I. W. Stephenson III Wedding Announced

Hartford, Conn., March 12 (AP)—Announcement of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Biddle and Isaac Watson Stephenson, III, of West Hartford and Marinette, Wis., was made here today. The wedding took place March 7 at Waukegan, Ill.

Stephenson is the son of Mrs. I. W. Stephenson, Jr., of Marinette and a grandson of the late Wisconsin senator. He is an engineer at an aircraft company here. (Pratt and Whitney.)

PROMOTED BY SCHOOL BOARD LAST EVENING

NEW PRINCIPAL TO BE SELECTED LATER

John A. Lemmer, principal of the Escanaba high school for the past ten years, was elevated to the position of superintendent of public schools of Escanaba, by the board of education at their meeting last evening. He will succeed R. E. Cheney whose resignation as superintendent here was accepted by the board last week. Cheney has accepted a position as superintendent of schools at River Forest, Ill., and his resignation here is effective in June.

The school board did not act in selecting a successor to Lemmer as principal of the senior high school at their meeting last evening, deciding to hold that appointment in abeyance until Mr. Lemmer had been consulted in the matter.

John Lemmer was graduated from the St. Joseph high school here in 1912. He attended Northern State Teachers college and later matriculated at Notre Dame university where he was graduated with a Bachelor degree in 1918. He received his Master's degree from the University of Michigan and later took additional graduate work at the University of Oregon. In 1931 he received his Doctor's degree at Columbia university.

He began his teaching career in Delta county rural schools, teaching for two years in this county before accepting a position at Portland, Oregon. He was at Portland one year and then returned to Escanaba as instructor of mathematics and public speaking. He acted as debate coach at the local high school and made an enviable record in this field. After four years as an instructor in the high school here, Mr. Lemmer was appointed principal in 1925, succeeding R. E. Cheney who was promoted to the superintendency upon the resignation of W. E. Olds.

Goodrich Suspect Gets His Release

Sedalia, Mo., March 12 (AP)—A man arrested at a transient camp here on suspicion he was Merton W. Goodrich, wanted for the slaying of 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher at Detroit last September 26, was released today when his finger prints were found not to be those of Goodrich.

The man gave his name to police as Marvin Good of Elkhart, Ind., although they said he registered at the camp Sunday as Marvin Goodrich, 29, of Detroit. He stoutly denied any connection with the slaying of the girl whose body was found in an apartment occupied by Goodrich and his wife. The girl was last seen entering the apartment building to sell punch-board chances to a school benefit.

Babies' Epidemic Worry Lawmakers

Oklahoma City, March 12 (AP)—A bill appropriating $10,000 to prevent epidemic of babies, was approved by the Oklahoma house today.

It was a printer's error. The money will be spent to combat rabies.

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

The president reiterated his demand for dissolution of public utility holding companies which prove unnecessary.

Donald Richberg advocated abandonment under the revised NRA of all codes affecting only "local" industries.

The house passed the home owners loan corporation bill, increasing its capitalization by $1,750,000,000.

The work relief bill, after surviving tests on two amendments, ran into determined efforts to cut the $4,000,000,000 work appropriation.

William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, at a turbulent senate munitions hearing defended his campaign for more warships.

Secretary Perkins and Chairman Biddle of the labor relations board aired their differences over the Wagner labor disputes bill before a senate committee.

Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee predicted renewal of the 12-cents a pound loan on the 1935 cotton crop.

Some divergence between the Long and Coughlin camps was seen in their opposing stands on support for President Roosevelt.

The officers said Young had been drinking and was shooting across the road.

"Stop that shooting, or you will kill somebody," they said Mackie warned the negro. The officers reported the negro turned and fired in the direction of the highway employe. Mackie fell, mortally wounded

Haber Thinks CCC Will Be Retained

Lansing, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Dr. William Haber, state emergency welfare relief director, expressed confidence today the civilian conservation corps camps in Michigan would be retained and enlarged.

The director laid plans for another enrollment for the camps which now hold 11,000 men. Present appropriations of congress for financing the camps are exhausted.

The camps paid volunteers $3,000,000 during the first year, $2,500,000 of which was returned to their dependents.

GREEK REBEL LEADER FLEES NATIVE CRETE

WARSHIPS SURRENDER TO LOYAL FORCES

Rome, March 12 (AP)—Diplomatic circles said tonight the Greek government was preparing a demand for the extradition of former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos from the Italian island of Cassos, where the rebel cruiser Averoff landed him today with his wife and other revolt leaders.

The demand, they said, would be based upon the fact that he is not merely a political refugee but the leader of a revolution that cost the lives of hundreds of men and resulted in a loss of millions of drachm to the Greek government.

Therefore the contention is that he is not to be accorded the usual asylum for political exiles.

It was considered extremely unlikely that the Italian government would give up Venizelos.

Athens, March 12—Fiery Eleutherios Venizelos, his 12-day insurrection against Premier Panayoti Tsaldaris' government at an end, fled from his native Crete today to gain haven on the little Italian island of Cassos.

The cruiser Averoff, "flagship" of the rebel fleet, conveyed Venizelos, his wife and several other revolt chieftains to the 25-mile-square islet, and afterward radioed the government that it was continuing to Greece.

With Venizelos' flight, and the smashing of the rebels' land forces in Macedonia, the government's victory apparently was complete.

Seek Normalcy

The strife-racked Hellenic republic, its business and economic life at virtual standstill since the insurrection flared, began moving slowly back toward normalcy.

Recapture by loyal forces of the Averoff, which was expected to anchor off Phaleron tomorrow, completed the reconquest of the insurgents' sea forces, which for several days held Athens and its seaport, Piraeus, in fear of bombardment.

Earlier in the day the rebel destroyers Psara and Leon and the submarine Nereus were taken over by loyal forces. The rebel submarine Katsonis arrived at the Italian island of Patmos to be interned with all her compliment.

An official announcement said the toll of both sides in the land operations in Macedonia was only

Militant Campaign Planned on Violators of Game Laws

Marquette, Mich., Mar. 12 (AP)—Belief that the spring beaver trapping season will eliminate much of the violation of this law was expressed today at a conference of upper peninsula district and regional supervisors of the state conservation department held here in the office of Colonel William A. Bergin, chief conservation officer in the upper peninsula.

The new beaver trapping season, which opens April 1 and continues to April 15, was discussed and plans made for the apprehension of beaver violators. The season formerly opened in December, but was changed recently by the state conservation commission.

The conference was called by H. R. Sayre, of Lansing, chief field administrator for the department of conservation, who has general supervision over its law enforcement activities. Clarence Paquin, head of the department's educational division, and J. R. Robson who has charge of fire towers and communications, also attended.

The supervisors were instructed to be especially alert for game poachers, particularly those who are killing deer. It was pointed out that since the middle of February a large number of violators have been arrested for "shining" deer or having venison in their possession and in all cases the persons arrested have been convicted.

Colonel Bergin, Sayre and Paquin will attend a meeting of the Wolverine Conservation club in Escanaba Thursday. M. J. Fox, of Iron Mountain, and Joseph Rahilly, of Newberry, members of the state conservation commission, also will attend.

Roosevelt Acts to Ban Holding Firms

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—With the flat dictum that "to avoid governmental socialism" congress must ban all except "necessary" public utility holding companies, President Roosevelt today sent to the capitol a twelve-point plan for dealing with the subject.

Slashing sharply in the same special message at what he called organized "propaganda" against the projected legislation, the president drew assertions from two utility groups that he had "prejudged" the case.

Slaps Propaganda

Mr. Roosevelt left little doubt, however, that the weight of the administration would be thrown behind the effort to push through utility holding company legislation at this session. After hitting at what he called "propaganda to exploit the most far-fetched and fallacious fears," which, he said, left him "unimpressed," Mr. Roosevelt added:

"Except where it is absolutely necessary to the continued functioning of a geographically integrated operating utility system the utility holding company with its present powers must go."

Among the repercussions from the presidential message were:

The American Federation of Utility Investors, through its president Hugh S. Magill, said in a statement tonight that the president's words indicated a state of mind that "cooly disregards the pleas of the people in the exercise of their constitutional right to petition their own government for a redress of grievance."

The committee of public utility executives, through a statement of its chairman, Philip H. Gadsen, asserted: "In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the president sends a message to congress today which seeks to prejudge the case."

Senator Norris, Nebraska's independent Republican, said the presidential message was "dandy" and that he would propose an in-

Washington Island Accident Victims Removed From Bay

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., March 12 (AP)—After two days of grappling in 70 feet of water off Washington Island, coast guardsmen late today recovered the last three bodies of six men who drowned Sunday when their automobile plunged through thin ice on Green Bay.

The bodies of Roy Stover, Raymond Richter, and Leroy Einardson, all 20 years old, were found trapped in the car which was brought to the surface today.

Earlier the body of Norman Nelson, 20, had been recovered. Those of John Cornell, Jr., 21, and Ralph Wade, 30, were found yesterday.

GIRL ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

Helen Banninga Admits She Wrote Ransom Note to Father

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Fourteen hours after Helen Jean Banninga, 18, returned to her home after a week's absence, federal agents accused her formally today with sending an extortion letter to her parents.

Miss Banninga has signed a statement, Detective Inspector Frank J. O'Malley of the local police, said, admitting that she conceived the "kidnaping" in an attempt to obtain money for "pretty clothes."

She was quoted as admitting that she wrote the note found at the Banninga home after her disappearance, demanding $5,500 ransom, and that she also was the author of a letter mailed from Detroit, also purporting to come from a kidnap gang and demanding money.

Stayed in Detroit

It was the second letter that formed the basis for the warrant issued this afternoon by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond. U. S. department of justice agents who worked on the supposed abduction case signed the complaint.

The girl had been detained since her return, early today, but District Attorney Joseph M. Donnelly said bond was being arranged.

Miss Banninga insisted she conceived the idea and carried it through alone. She said that, while officers all over the country looked for her, she was staying in Detroit rooming houses.

M. F. Glenn, a U. S. department of justice agent, said, however, that a small automobile apparently was trailing the girl when he found her walking toward her home early today, and that the car sped away at his approach.

Miss Banninga was a state's witness in the trial of Henry Marshall, who was convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp at Lowell when he tried to halt an automobile carrying suspected bank robbers in 1932.

When the girl first disappeared last Tuesday, fear was expressed that she might have been kidnaped by members of the robber gang who still are at large.

Foreign Trade Day At Michigan Fair

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—Representatives of more than a dozen nations interested in Michigan's $200,000,000 export program were guests today at the Detroit and Michigan exposition. It was foreign trade day.

The visitors dined, at a buffet luncheon, upon buffalo meat from Clare county, apple pie from Kent county and other Michigan foodstuffs.

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint and former governor of Montana, were to be guests of honor at a ball tonight in connection with the exposition.

Restaurant Prices Advance With Food

Detroit, March 12. (AP)—Charles A. Bowen, secretary of the Michigan Restaurateurs, Inc., attributed today to rising prices of foodstuffs the increase in restaurant prices. He listed the following increases in prices for the year ending in February: bacon, 43.8 pct.; beef ribs, 52.9 pct.; lamb, 12.9 pct.; pork loin, 81.8 pct.; veal, 38.5 pct.; sausage, 47.4 pct.; salad oils, 76.4 pct.; shortening, 61.8 pct.; lard, 93.7 pct.; butter, 64.4 pct.; eggs, 46.7 pct.; milk, 18.7 pct.; flour, 8.4 pct.; carrots, 18.9 pct.; apricots, 27.3 pct.

SENATOR FACES JAIL SENTENCE

Wilkowski Found Guilty of Contempt, Plans To Appeal

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—State Senator Anthony J. Wilkowski, who claimed he was immune from judicial processes during the legislative session, faced an indefenite jail sentence today for refusal to testify about the recount of last December.

Recorder's Judge Thomas M. Cotter, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation of the recount, found Wilkowski guilty of contempt today because he ignored three court summonses.

He fined the Detroit Democratic senator $250; ordered him jailed until he agrees to testify, and then granted a stay of execution until Friday to permit an appeal to the supreme court. C. Walter Healy, Wilkowski's attorney, said the appeal would be made and indicated that legislative immunity would be the defense.

Said Records Lost

Wilkowski was chairman of the legislative committee that recounted votes cast in Wayne county last fall for secretary of state. On the committee's recommendation, Democratic legislators, in "joint convention," proclaimed Guy M. Wilson, Democrat, elected in place of Orville E. Atwood, Republican winner on the face of official returns. The supreme court subsequently upheld Atwood's claim to the office.

Senator Wilkowski testified two weeks ago before Judge Cotter, then was ordered to return the following day with tally sheets and other records of the committee. Instead, he sent a letter saying the records had been lost or mislaid, and that he was going to be busy in Lansing the remainder of the legislative session.

Judge Cotter issued a formal summons. Wilkowski disregarded it. Judge Cotter issued another order, for Wilkowski to appear and show cause why he should not be cited for contempt. Wilkowski ignored it. A third order followed, for Wilkowski to appear this morning.

When the senator ignored that, too, the judge found him guilty of contempt and fixed the penalty.

WORK MEASURE WINS IN TESTS

Insurgents Will Try to Reduce Appropriation By Two Billions

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—Senate administration leaders herded the $4,880,000,000 relief bill through two test votes today, only to meet later with a determined insurgent effort to clip the proposed appropriation to half its size.

The majority chiefs succeeded in downing with a 75 to 5 vote an amendment by Senator Long (D-La.) to set aside a billion dollars of the fund to provide college educations for needy youths.

Then they mustered a 56 to 32 vote to beat an amendment proposed by Costigan (D-Colo) which would have broadened the terms of the bill to include "useful public works," especially state, municipal and other non-federal projects.

The big measure then ran into a siege of debate led by Democrats both from the agricultural sections and big city states. From both came questioning of the value of the measure to the unemployed in their respective types of communities.

After Senator Byrd (D-Va.) made public a report from the treasury showing that $1,500,000,000 of the $3,300,000,000 public works fund appropriated two years ago remained unexpended, Senator Copeland (D-N. Y.) opened the battle to cut the new relief outlay to $1,880,000,000. Byrd favors a $1,000,000,000 appropriation.

Other developments during the day were:

The senate adopted committee amendments eliminating miscellaneous purposes of the bill.

The McCarran amendment to specify irrigation and reclamation projects in the $500,000,000 earmarked for rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken farm areas, although objected to by Senator Byrns (D-S. C.) as unnecessary was accepted by Glass in order to expedite the bill.

An amendment by Costigan to specify water conservation and transmountain diversion, and one by Steiwer (R-Ore.) to specify rivers and harbors in the $350,000,000 earmarked for flood control and miscellaneous projects also were accepted by Glass.

Prince Juan, Spain, Engaged To Marry

Paris, March 12 (AP)—Spanish royalists said today Prince Juan, last remaining unmarried son and claimant to the throne vacated by former King Alfonso of Spain, is engaged to marry Princess Marie Mercedes, of the two Sicilies branch of the house of Bourbon-Anjou.

Princess Marie Mercedes is the daughter of the Infante Carlos of Bourbon-Anjou and Princess Louise of France—sister of the Duchess de Guise, whose husband is pretender to the throne of France.

Don Juan, who is serving as a midshipman aboard the British destroyer Winchester, declined to comment on reports of his engagement.

I. W. Stephenson III Wedding Announced

Hartford, Conn., March 12 (AP)—Announcement of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Biddle and Isaac Watson Stephenson, III, of West Hartford and Marinette, Wis., was made here today. The wedding took place March 7 at Waukegan, Ill.

Stephenson is the son of Mrs. I. W. Stephenson, Jr., of Marinette and a grandson of the late Wisconsin senator. He is an engineer at an aircraft company here. (Pratt and Whitney.)

PROMOTED BY SCHOOL BOARD LAST EVENING

NEW PRINCIPAL TO BE SELECTED LATER

John A. Lemmer, principal of the Escanaba high school for the past ten years, was elevated to the position of superintendent of public schools of Escanaba, by the board of education at their meeting last evening. He will succeed R. E. Cheney whose resignation as superintendent here was accepted by the board last week. Cheney has accepted a position as superintendent of schools at River Forest, Ill., and his resignation here is effective in June.

The school board did not act in selecting a successor to Lemmer as principal of the senior high school at their meeting last evening, deciding to hold that appointment in abeyance until Mr. Lemmer had been consulted in the matter.

John Lemmer was graduated from the St. Joseph high school here in 1912. He attended Northern State Teachers college and later matriculated at Notre Dame university where he was graduated with a Bachelor degree in 1918. He received his Master's degree from the University of Michigan and later took additional graduate work at the University of Oregon. In 1931 he received his Doctor's degree at Columbia university.

He began his teaching career in Delta county rural schools, teaching two years in this county before accepting a position at Portland Oregon. He was at Portland one year and then returned to Escanaba as instructor of mathematics and public speaking. He acted as debate coach at the local high school and made an enviable record in this field. After four years as an instructor in the high school here, Mr. Lemmer was appointed principal in 1925, succeeding R. E. Cheney who was promoted to the superintendency upon the resignation of W. E. Olds.

Goodrich Suspect Gets His Release

Sedalia, Mo., March 12 (AP)—A man arrested at a transient camp here on suspicion he was Merton W. Goodrich, wanted for the slaying of 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher at Detroit last September 26, was released today when his finger prints were found not to be those of Goodrich.

The man gave his name to police as Marvin Good of Elkhart, Ind., although they said he registered at the camp Sunday as Marvin Goodrich, 29, of Detroit. He stoutly denied any connection with the slaying of the girl whose body was found in an apartment occupied by Goodrich and his wife. The girl was last seen entering the apartment building to sell punch-board chances to a school benefit.

Babies' Epidemic Worry Lawmakers

Oklahoma City, March 12 (AP)—A bill appropriating $10,000 to prevent epidemic of babies, was approved by the Oklahoma house today.

It was a printer's error. The money will be spent to combat rabies.

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

The president reiterated his demand for dissolution of public utility holding companies which prove unnecessary.

Donald Richberg advocated abandonment under the revised NRA of all codes affecting only "local" industries.

The house passed the home owners loan corporation bill, increasing its capitalization by $1,750,000,000.

The work relief bill, after surviving tests on two amendments, ran into determined efforts to cut the $4,000,000,000 work appropriation.

William B Shearer, big navy advocate, at a turbulent senate munitions hearing defended his campaign for more warships.

Secretary Perkins and Chairman Biddle of the labor relations board aired their differences over the Wagner labor disputes bill before a senate committee.

Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee predicted renewal of the 12-cents a pound loan on the 1935 cotton crop.

Some divergence between the Long and Coughlin camps was seen in their opposing stands on support for President Roosevelt.

IRATE WITNESS JOLTS HEARING

Shearer Advances Upon Senator Who Called Him Coward

BY PRESTON L. GROVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—Fists clenched, William G. Shearer, vociferous big navy advocate, brought an abrupt end to a turbulent senate munitions committee hearing today by advancing upon a committee member who had called him "cowardly."

The name of President Roosevelt, himself, was included in a list of "anti-Americans" which were found in a pamphlet published by Shearer in 1928.

This aroused Senator Bone (D-Wash.), who lashed the bulky Shearer and precipitated the outburst that ended when Chairman Nye (R-N. D.) crashed his fist on the table for order and shortly afterward brought the hearing to a close.

As was expected, Shearer made a lot of charges himself, among them that Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia, and Bernard Baruch, financier, were "anti-American." Baruch has been a favorite radio target of Father Coughlin and Huey Long.

Shearer Enraged

Shearer said the pamphlet, listing the name of the president with others under the heading "Knaves or Fools" was a "Hearst editorial."

He conceded, however, that he published the material in his pamphlet without naming its source.

"Are you so cowardly that you hide behind the cloak of Hearst's newspapers," Senator Bone snapped.

"I don't like that word cowardly," Shearer said, rising from the witness chair and swinging down the aisle. Chairman Nye (R-N. D.) shouted and pounded for order.

"Take your seat," he roared at Shearer.

"Then stop hurling that 'cowardly' stuff," Shearer declared amid the uproar.

He avoided answering directly any of Bone's questions as to whether he considered the president "un-American."

The exchange followed Shearer's defense of his actions in insisting on a strong American navy when he appeared at the Geneva naval limitations conference in 1927 as a representative of the shipyards.

The charge has been made that Shearer was largely responsible for the failure of the 1927 parley.

Shearer testified he shared the confidence of naval officials to such an extent that he was entrusted with secret documents of the navy department on his trips to Geneva.

"I wish to make it a matter of records," he declared, "that every fight that I made in the interest of the United States navy was made at the request of naval officers."

He charged that Drew Pearson, a newspaperman at the naval conference, had perjured himself in asserting an American naval officer had said Shearer "broke up" the Geneva conference.

He said Pearson had been engaged by Sir Wilmot Lewis, British newspaperman, to make the statement.

Shearer declared he was financed by William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, in a suit in 1924 to prevent sinking of the unfinished battleship "Washington."

The committee then was told that he protested any limitation on the American navy and advocated in 1926 and 1927 that naval gun ranges be increased.

Two Film Actors Held For Drunken Driving Tuesday

Los Angeles, Mar. 12 (AP)—Two motion picture actors were caught in the city's current drive on drunken driving today, Lyle Talbot pleading guilty and Grant Withers posting $250 bail.

Talbot, who was arrested when officers said he was steering his car in an irregular manner, was given a 30 days suspended jail term on condition he pay a $150 fine; remain on probation for six months; abstain from drinking any liquor for 90 days; drive his car only on business for the next month, and give an account of himself to the court clerk each month for six months.

Withers made bond to appear for arraignment on a charge of drunk driving before the same judge who sentenced Talbot, Justice of the Peace Cecil D. Holland.

Withers was charged with driving an automobile which was involved in a three-car collision last night.

Hauptmann Still Says He's Innocent

Trenton, N. J., March 12 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann told his spiritual adviser today he had "nothing to confess" about the Lindbergh baby kidnap-slaying.

The Rev. D. G. Werner of New York City, whom Hauptmann selected, asked Hauptmann to confess if he were guilty of the crime.

"'I have nothing to confess,'" he quoted Hauptmann as saying. "'If I had anything to confess I would have done it long ago in order not to go through these long trials.'"

Mr. Werner said he found Hauptmann "full of courage," hoping for another trial.

The clergyman said he told Hauptmann there of his six cell mates would go to the chair late this week, and he asked Hauptmann if that would unnerve him.

"'It will make no impression on me,'" he said Hauptmann replied.

MILWAUKEE IS SAFEST CITY

Wisconsin Metropolis Is Winner of Traffic Contest

Chicago, March 12 (AP)—Milwaukee is the safest city in the United States as far as traffic hazards are concerned, the National Safety Council announced today, in naming the Wisconsin metropolis winner of the third national traffic safety contest.

New Jersey, Minnesota, and Arizona won first place in the three groupings of the 31 participating states. Milwaukee was given the grand award over more than 600 other cities.

The winner's traffic fatality rate in 1934 was 10.8 per 100,000 population. The rate in New York City was 14; Chicago, 27.5; and the average for all cities, 19.1. Only Milwaukee, New York City, Pittsburgh and San Francisco were able to reduce their traffic death rates from those of 1933.

Bronze plaques will be presented to the winners in each of the six population divisions of the contest sponsored by the National Safety Council, the awards to be made in the various communities on March 28. Second and third place winners will receive certificates.

Winners in the largest population group (over 500,000) were: Milwaukee, first; Pittsburgh, second; San Francisco, third. Honorable mention, New York and Detroit.

The following Michigan cities won honorable mention in Group 6 (100,000 to 250,000): Menominee, Iron Mountain, Adrian and Mt. Clemens.

BOY'S SLAYING STILL MYSTERY

Police Without Clue to Brutal Murder of Streicher Lad

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 12 (AP)—Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp of Washtenaw county announced at a press conference tonight that authorities investigating the slaying of 7-year-old Richard Streicher, Jr., were still without a clue as to the identity of the fiend who killed him.

He said available evidence continued ot indicate the crime was the work of a sadistic degenerate rather than an act of revenge.

The prosecutor said three legible fingerprints were obtained from the sled upon which the child was coasting with two playmates only a few hours before he was brutally stabbed to death and his body stuffed under a culvert.

Three Questioned

Rapp said Richard's parents would be fingerprinted to determine if the prints found on the sled were those of a member of the household or if someone else had handled the toy. The prints were developed by Patrolman William Franklin of the Ypsilanti force.

Officers detained three men for questioning today, but expressed doubt that their stories would add materially to knowledge of the case.

Frank Hartwell, 57, who said he was a Romeo farm hand, was arrested on the Whitmore lake road north of Ann Arbor by sheriff's officers late today. Rapp said he will be questioned tomorrow.

Frank Gould, of Hamtramck, was returned to the custody of state police who arrested him after questioning failed to link him with the case. Anthony Beyer, unemployed decorator who lived in a section west of Ypsilanti known as the "jungles," was lodged at the county jail on a vagrancy charge.

The story of a playmate of Richard that the two had been coasting with another boy was verified by officers who interviewed the third lad, John Kruse, 13, today.

Denver Post Files Destroyed By Fire

Denver, March 12. (AP)—One man lost his life and a number of valuable newspaper files were destroyed by fire on the paper storage floor of the Denver Post tonight.

Either overcome by smoke or knocked unconscious by running into a wall while trying to get out of the room, the body of Frank Turner, 52, negro janitor, was found on the floor later.

Some Associated Press files on the floor also were lost.

The blaze was thought due to a short circuit.

Damage was confined to the top floor of the building.

10 dead and 91 wounded, indicating to observers here that the rebel resistance collapsed once Gen. George Kondylis, loyal generalissimo, got his weather-bound offensive under way.

A long expensive struggle lay before the Greek government to rehabilitate itself after the insurrection. There was no official estimate as to the monetary cost of the 12 days revolt and its consequent economic effect.

The flight of the 71-year-old Venizelos, whose scholarly appearance masks years of rough-and-tumble participation in the turbulent struggles of Greek politics, completed the debacle that began with the route of the Macedonian land forces.

Crete, which reports said Venizelos had declared an independent state, came back quickly to the loyal side, government representatives taking possession of all posts of authority.

Also back under the rule of Athens were the islands of Mytilene, Chios and Samos, which fell to the rebel warships last week. Jubilant crowds cheered posters announcing their recapture and Venizelos' flight.

Indian Guide Not So Hot, Says Cowboy

Salt Lake City, March 12 (AP)—The Indian guide of western frontier fiction—wily, preserving, with a nose like a bloodhound's—took an awful debunking tonight.

"Indian guides," said Knox Patterson, assistant U. S. attorney general here and former Utah cowboy, "are just a lot of hooey."

The question arose from a discussion of the reported use of Indian trackers in a recent hunt for a range war killer.

Quick to second the somewhat unromantic views of Patterson was Major H. P. Myton, former Indian agent at Fort Duchesne.

"I don't think they're any good as a guide," he said. "I've hunted with them—and for them—and never found them much help."

"They can't even trail a herd of horses," Patterson echoed, "let alone a man!"

Supply Of Butter Reveals Decrease

Chicago, Mar. 12 (AP)—The supply of butter in cold storage in the United States March 1 totalled 7,981,000 pounds, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimate showed today. With the exception of 1927, this was the smallest supply on that date since the bureau began compiling the reports.

Butter holdings were 28,872,000 pounds less than last year and 20,195,000 less than the 5-year average.

The butter figures were about 900,000 pounds less than the average of recent trade estimates, but it was pointed out that March 1 holdings are usually of little market interest.

ELECTIVE FARM LEADER SOUGHT

Democrats Retaliate at Governor; Luecke Has Zoning Bill

Lansing, Mich., March 12. (AP)—A proposal to make the office of state agricultural commissioner elective was submitted to the legislature Tuesday night. Under the terms of a bill introduced by Rep. George L. Teachout, Democrat, Flint, the office would be filled in the biennial spring election. Agricultural commissioners now are appointed by, and serve at the pleasure of, the governor.

The Democrat measure was viewed as a retaliatory step. Governor Fitzgerald has recommended that the office of state highway commissioner, held by a Democrat, be made appointive rather than elective.

The legislature returned from a junket to Detroit, where members viewed the Detroit-Michigan exposition, to resume consideration of controversial proposals. Bills proposing to abolish the mill tax grants for the University of Michigan and Michigan State college were ready for floor debate in the house but opponents sought to delay final action until revenue from some other source are guaranteed.

Luecke Offers Bill

The senate row over adjournment and control is expected to break out again Wednesday. A resolution setting a mid-April date for adjournment probably will be sent to the floor. The Democratic minority is pledged to vote against fixing an adjournment date at this time. Administration forces want the session ended in another month. They favor a later special session to enact the budget and tax relief measures.

Administration spokesmen claimed enough of the so-called Republican insurgent group will swing to their side to assure adoption of an adjournment motion.

Senator Luecke, Democrat, Escanaba, introduced a bill tonight permitting counties to set up planning commissions to zone lands into agricultural, forestry, and recreational districts. He said the measure was submitted at the request of the Upper Peninsula rehabilitation commission, a federal organization. A similar bill is in the house.

Senator Luecke said the measure is designed primarily to end the migration of settlers to cut-over and non-productive lands in northern Michigan.

MacDonald Plans His Retirement?

London, March 12. (AP)—Rumor continued busy today with the possibility of the retirement of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his succession perhaps by Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader.

Offsetting the rumors were reassuring official statements regarding the health of the prime minister, who has been ill with a severe cold.

Speculation as to the outcome was concerned with the possibility that sooner or later MacDonold might change places with Baldwin, who is lord president of the council and deputy prime minister.

Patient's Lung Is Removed By Doctor

Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 12 (AP)—Authorities at the University of Michigan hospital announced today that members of its surgical staff had removed the entire right lung of a patient in a rare operation to prevent the spread of cancer.

The operation was performed Thursday upon Mrs. William Ball of Coldwater. Two previous operations of a similar nature, performed here during the past two years, have proved successful.

A member of the surgical faculty said the operation had been performed only eight times in medical history.

Farm Scientists Seek "Resistant" Types Of Grain

Minneapolis (AP)—Resistance to disease and improvement of types are two of the biggest problems that scientists at the University of Minneesota farm school are trying to solve.

One of the major puzzles, says Dr. H. K. Hayes, chief of the division of agronomy and plant genetics, is corn. Although a good grade of hybrid corn has been evolved, plant breeders are convinced they can improve the grain's ability to stand up in the field.

With repeal, the demand for high grade barley has made new demands on the university's agricultural resources. At present efforts are being made to develop a high grade barley particularly adapted for malting purposes and untouched by disease.

Flax, too, has attracted the attention of experimenters, who are seeking a variety that produces a large seed with good oil quantity and quality and embodying resistance to wilt and rust.

vestigation by the federal trade commission of the "propaganda."

The twelve point program sent to the capitol by Mr. Roosevelt was drawn up by the president's power policy committee—composed of members of various federal power and utility regulatory agencies—and followed in most respects the lines of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

Defines Companies

The bill includes electric and gas companies in its definition of utilities but does not include telephone or telegraph companies.

The bill gives the following definition of a public utility company:

"Public utility company means an electric utility company and or a gas utility company."

In most congressional quarters, the presidential message was construed as a broad endorsement of the Rayburn bill which was prepared in collaboration with administration experts.

Mr. Roosevelt declared today that it was "idle to talk of the continuation of holding companies on the assumption that regulation can protect the public against them." He added, however, that the proposal to regulate during the five-year process of abolition was "sound."

"Regulation has small chance of ultimate success against the kind of concentrated wealth and economic power which holding companies have shown the ability to acquire in the utility field," he said of suggestions for permanent regulation.

"Except where it is absolutely necessary to the continued functioning of a geographically integrated operating utility system, the utility holding company with its present powers must go."

Further, in the course of his message, the president said of holding companies:

"It is a corporate invention which can give a few corporate insiders unwarranted and intolerable powers over other people's money.

"In its destruction of local control and its substitution of absentee management it has built up in the public utility field what has justly been called a system of private socialism which is inimical to the welfare of a free people.

"I am as much against private socialism of concentrated private power as I am against government socialism.

"The one is equally as dangerous as the other: and destruction of private socialism is utterly essential to avoid governmental socialism."

FEAR SPREADS THROUGH CUBA

Bomb Explosions Hurt 21; Curfew Law Is Enforced

BY EDMUND A. CHESTER
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Havana, March 12 (AP)—Bomb explosions injuring 21 persons brought immediate drastic enforcement of the military governor's nine o'clock curfew law tonight in a hailstorm of bullets from sub-machine guns, rifles and pistols in the hands of police and soldiers.

The paralyzing general strike showed signs of breaking up, but never in all its hectic revolutionary days was Havana in such a state of desolation and fear. Not 100 civilians of its 600,000 population were on the street.

Benton nipping any new movement against President Mendieta's government, Col. Jose Pedarza, military governor, slapped on the curfew order. At 9:25 p. m. heavy shooting broke out in several parts of the capital. The city was startled, tense, and closely shuttered. Police, soldiers and sailors ran wildly through the streets.

Half a block from the Associated Press office police descended upon a group of youths who had defied the curfew order, trouncing them with short lengths of rubber hose.

A few minutes later a police pursuit car bristling with machine-guns screeched up to the curbing in front of the office. Yanking out whips and pistols they ordered half a dozen men standing in the doorway to get back upstairs. The men explained they were working pressmen and had special passes.

"Passes or no passes," said the police, "you must get back in your offices."

An epidemic of bombing and shooting in the early evening had been terrorism's answer to the curfew law.

Helps Opponents To Win Election

Shelby, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Victor E. Cooper, nominated for village president while away on a trip, thought his opponent, Oscar E. Hawley, "the best man for the job" and spent the day before election campaigning for Hawley.

Hawley won, 173 to 39.

IRATE WITNESS JOLTS HEARING

Shearer Advances Upon Senator Who Called Him Coward

BY PRESTON L. GROVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—Fists clenched, William G. Shearer, vociferous big navy advocate, brought an abrupt end to a turbulent senate munitions committee hearing today by advancing upon a committee member who had called him "cowardly."

The name of President Roosevelt, himself, was included in a list of "anti-Americans" which were found in a pamphlet published by Shearer in 1928.

This aroused Senator Bone (D-Wash.), who lashed the bulky Shearer and precipitated the outburst that ended when Chairman Nye (R-N. D.) crashed his fist on the table for order and shortly afterward brought the hearing to a close.

As was expected, Shearer made a lot of charges himself, among them that Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia, and Bernard Baruch, financier, were "anti-American." Baruch has been a favorite radio target of Father Coughlin and Huey Long.

Shearer Enraged

Shearer said the pamphlet, listing the name of the president with others under the heading "Knaves or Fools" was a "Hearst editorial."

He conceded, however, that he published the material in his pamphlet without naming its source.

"Are you so cowardly that you hide behind the cloak of Hearst's newspapers," Senator Bone snapped.

"I don't like that word cowardly," Shearer said, rising from the witness chair and swinging down the aisle. Chairman Nye (R-N. D.) shouted and pounded for order.

"Take your seat," he roared at Shearer.

"Then stop hurling that 'cowardly' stuff," Shearer declared amid the uproar.

He avoided answering directly any of Bone's questions as to whether he considered the president "un-American."

The exchange followed Shearer's defense of his actions in insisting on a strong American navy when he appeared at the Geneva naval limitations conference in 1927 as a representative of the shipyards.

The charge has been made that Shearer was largely responsible for the failure of the 1927 parley.

Shearer testified he shared the confidence of naval officials to such an extent that he was entrusted with secret documents of the navy department on his trips to Geneva.

"I wish to make it a matter of records," he declared, "that every fight that I made in the interest of the United States navy was made at the request of naval officers."

He charged that Drew Pearson, a newspaperman at the naval conference, had perjured himself in asserting an American naval officer had said Shearer "broke up" the Geneva conference.

He said Pearson had been engaged by Sir Wilmot Lewis, British newspaperman, to make the statement.

Shearer declared he was financed by William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, in a suit in 1924 to prevent sinking of the unfinished battleship "Washington."

The committee then was told that he protested any limitation on the American navy and advocated in 1926 and 1927 that naval gun ranges be increased.

Two Film Actors Held For Drunken Driving Tuesday

Los Angeles, Mar. 12 (AP)—Two motion picture actors were caught in the city's current drive on drunken driving today, Lyle Talbot pleading guilty and Grant Withers posting $250 bail.

Talbot, who was arrested when officers said he was steering his car in an irregular manner, was given a 30 days suspended jail term on condition he pay a $150 fine; remain on probation for six months; abstain from drinking any liquor for 90 days; drive his car only on business for the next month, and give an account of himself to the court clerk each month for six months.

Withers made bond to appear for arraignment on a charge of drunk driving before the same judge who sentenced Talbot, Justice of the Peace Cecil D. Holland.

Withers was charged with driving an automobile which was involved in a three-car collision last night.

Hauptmann Still Says He's Innocent

Trenton, N. J., March 12 (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann told his spiritual adviser today he had "nothing to confess" about the Lindbergh baby kidnap-slaying.

The Rev. D. G. Werner of New York City, whom Hauptmann selected, asked Hauptmann to confess if he were guilty of the crime.

"'I have nothing to confess,'" he quoted Hauptmann as saying. "'If I had anything to confess I would have done it long ago in order not to go through these long trials.'"

Mr. Werner said he found Hauptmann "full of courage," hoping for another trial.

The clergyman said he told Hauptmann there of his six cell mates would go to the chair late this week, and he asked Hauptmann if that would unnerve him.

"'It will make no impression on me,'" he said Hauptmann replied.

MILWAUKEE IS SAFEST CITY

Wisconsin Metropolis Is Winner of Traffic Contest

Chicago, March 12 (AP)—Milwaukee is the safest city in the United States as far as traffic hazards are concerned, the National Safety Council announced today, in naming the Wisconsin metropolis winner of the third national traffic safety contest.

New Jersey, Minnesota, and Arizona won first place in the three groupings of the 31 participating states. Milwaukee was given the grand award over more than 600 other cities.

The winner's traffic fatality rate in 1934 was 10.8 per 100,000 population. The rate in New York City was 14; Chicago, 27.5; and the average for all cities, 19.1. Only Milwaukee, New York City, Pittsburgh and San Francisco were able to reduce their traffic death rates from those of 1933.

Bronze plaques will be presented to the winners in each of the six population divisions of the contest sponsored by the National Safety Council, the awards to be made in the various communities on March 28. Second and third place winners will receive certificates.

Winners in the largest population group (over 500,000) were: Milwaukee, first; Pittsburgh, second; San Francisco, third. Honorable mention, New York and Detroit.

The following Michigan cities won honorable mention in Group 6 (100,000 to 250,000): Menominee, Iron Mountain, Adrian and Mt. Clemens.

BOY'S SLAYING STILL MYSTERY

Police Without Clue to Brutal Murder of Streicher Lad

Ypsilanti, Mich., March 12 (AP)—Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp of Washtenaw county announced at a press conference tonight that authorities investigating the slaying of 7-year-old Richard Streicher, Jr., were still without a clue as to the identity of the fiend who killed him.

He said available evidence continued ot indicate the crime was the work of a sadistic degenerate rather than an act of revenge.

The prosecutor said three legible fingerprints were obtained from the sled upon which the child was coasting with two playmates only a few hours before he was brutally stabbed to death and his body stuffed under a culvert.

Three Questioned

Rapp said Richard's parents would be fingerprinted to determine if the prints found on the sled were those of a member of the household or if someone else had handled the toy. The prints were developed by Patrolman William Franklin of the Ypsilanti force.

Officers detained three men for questioning today, but expressed doubt that their stories would add materially to knowledge of the case.

Frank Hartwell, 57, who said he was a Romeo farm hand, was arrested on the Whitmore lake road north of Ann Arbor by sheriff's officers late today. Rapp said he will be questioned tomorrow.

Frank Gould, of Hamtramck, was returned to the custody of state police who arrested him after questioning failed to link him with the case. Anthony Beyer, unemployed decorator who lived in a section west of Ypsilanti known as the "jungles," was lodged at the county jail on a vagrancy charge.

The story of a playmate of Richard that the two had been coasting with another boy was verified by officers who interviewed the third lad, John Kruse, 13, today.

Denver Post Files Destroyed By Fire

Denver, March 12. (AP)—One man lost his life and a number of valuable newspaper files were destroyed by fire on the paper storage floor of the Denver Post tonight.

Either overcome by smoke or knocked unconscious by running into a wall while trying to get out of the room, the body of Frank Turner, 52, negro janitor, was found on the floor later.

Some Associated Press files on the floor also were lost.

The blaze was thought due to a short circuit.

Damage was confined to the top floor of the building.

10 dead and 91 wounded, indicating to observers here that the rebel resistance collapsed once Gen. George Kondylis, loyal generalissimo, got his weather-bound offensive under way.

A long expensive struggle lay before the Greek government to rehabilitate itself after the insurrection. There was no official estimate as to the monetary cost of the 12 days revolt and its consequent economic effect.

The flight of the 71-year-old Venizelos, whose scholarly appearance masks years of rough-and-tumble participation in the turbulent struggles of Greek politics, completed the debacle that began with the route of the Macedonian land forces.

Crete, which reports said Venizelos had declared an independent state, came back quickly to the loyal side, government representatives taking possession of all posts of authority.

Also back under the rule of Athens were the islands of Mytilene, Chios and Samos, which fell to the rebel warships last week. Jubilant crowds cheered posters announcing their recapture and Venizelos' flight.

Indian Guide Not So Hot, Says Cowboy

Salt Lake City, March 12 (AP)—The Indian guide of western frontier fiction—wily, preserving, with a nose like a bloodhound's—took an awful debunking tonight.

"Indian guides," said Knox Patterson, assistant U. S. attorney general here and former Utah cowboy, "are just a lot of hooey."

The question arose from a discussion of the reported use of Indian trackers in a recent hunt for a range war killer.

Quick to second the somewhat unromantic views of Patterson was Major H. P. Myton, former Indian agent at Fort Duchesne.

"I don't think they're any good as a guide," he said. "I've hunted with them—and for them—and never found them much help."

"They can't even trail a herd of horses," Patterson echoed, "let alone a man!"

Supply Of Butter Reveals Decrease

Chicago, Mar. 12 (AP)—The supply of butter in cold storage in the United States March 1 totalled 7,981,000 pounds, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimate showed today. With the exception of 1927, this was the smallest supply on that date since the bureau began compiling the reports.

Butter holdings were 28,872,000 pounds less than last year and 20,195,000 less than the 5-year average.

The butter figures were about 900,000 pounds less than the average of recent trade estimates, but it was pointed out that March 1 holdings are usually of little market interest.

ELECTIVE FARM LEADER SOUGHT

Democrats Retaliate at Governor; Luecke Has Zoning Bill

Lansing, Mich., March 12. (AP)—A proposal to make the office of state agricultural commissioner elective was submitted to the legislature Tuesday night. Under the terms of a bill introduced by Rep. George L. Teachout, Democrat, Flint, the office would be filled in the biennial spring election. Agricultural commissioners now are appointed by, and serve at the pleasure of, the governor.

The Democrat measure was viewed as a retaliatory step. Governor Fitzgerald has recommended that the office of state highway commissioner, held by a Democrat, be made appointive rather than elective.

The legislature returned from a junket to Detroit, where members viewed the Detroit-Michigan exposition, to resume consideration of controversial proposals. Bills proposing to abolish the mill tax grants for the University of Michigan and Michigan State college were ready for floor debate in the house but opponents sought to delay final action until revenue from some other source are guaranteed.

Luecke Offers Bill

The senate row over adjournment and control is expected to break out again Wednesday. A resolution setting a mid-April date for adjournment probably will be sent to the floor. The Democratic minority is pledged to vote against fixing an adjournment date at this time. Administration forces want the session ended in another month. They favor a later special session to enact the budget and tax relief measures.

Administration spokesmen claimed enough of the so-called Republican insurgent group will swing to their side to assure adoption of an adjournment motion.

Senator Luecke, Democrat, Escanaba, introduced a bill tonight permitting counties to set up planning commissions to zone lands into agricultural, forestry, and recreational districts. He said the measure was submitted at the request of the Upper Peninsula rehabilitation commission, a federal organization. A similar bill is in the house.

Senator Luecke said the measure is designed primarily to end the migration of settlers to cut-over and non-productive lands in northern Michigan.

MacDonald Plans His Retirement?

London, March 12. (AP)—Rumor continued busy today with the possibility of the retirement of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his succession perhaps by Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader.

Offsetting the rumors were reassuring official statements regarding the health of the prime minister, who has been ill with a severe cold.

Speculation as to the outcome was concerned with the possibility that sooner or later MacDonold might change places with Baldwin, who is lord president of the council and deputy prime minister.

Patient's Lung Is Removed By Doctor

Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 12 (AP)—Authorities at the University of Michigan hospital announced today that members of its surgical staff had removed the entire right lung of a patient in a rare operation to prevent the spread of cancer.

The operation was performed Thursday upon Mrs. William Ball of Coldwater. Two previous operations of a similar nature, performed here during the past two years, have proved successful.

A member of the surgical faculty said the operation had been performed only eight times in medical history.

Farm Scientists Seek "Resistant" Types Of Grain

Minneapolis (AP)—Resistance to disease and improvement of types are two of the biggest problems that scientists at the University of Minneesota farm school are trying to solve.

One of the major puzzles, says Dr. H. K. Hayes, chief of the division of agronomy and plant genetics, is corn. Although a good grade of hybrid corn has been evolved, plant breeders are convinced they can improve the grain's ability to stand up in the field.

With repeal, the demand for high grade barley has made new demands on the university's agricultural resources. At present efforts are being made to develop a high grade barley particularly adapted for malting purposes and untouched by disease.

Flax, too, has attracted the attention of experimenters, who are seeking a variety that produces a large seed with good oil quantity and quality and embodying resistance to wilt and rust.

vestigation by the federal trade commission of the "propaganda."

The twelve point program sent to the capitol by Mr. Roosevelt was drawn up by the president's power policy committee—composed of members of various federal power and utility regulatory agencies—and followed in most respects the lines of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

Defines Companies

The bill includes electric and gas companies in its definition of utilities but does not include telephone or telegraph companies.

The bill gives the following definition of a public utility company:

"Public utility company means an electric utility company and or a gas utility company."

In most congressional quarters, the presidential message was construed as a broad endorsement of the Rayburn bill which was prepared in collaboration with administration experts.

Mr. Roosevelt declared today that it was "idle to talk of the continuation of holding companies on the assumption that regulation can protect the public against them." He added, however, that the proposal to regulate during the five-year process of abolition was "sound."

"Regulation has small chance of ultimate success against the kind of concentrated wealth and economic power which holding companies have shown the ability to acquire in the utility field," he said of suggestions for permanent regulation.

"Except where it is absolutely necessary to the continued functioning of a geographically integrated operating utility system, the utility holding company with its present powers must go."

Further, in the course of his message, the president said of holding companies:

"It is a corporate invention which can give a few corporate insiders unwarranted and intolerable powers over other people's money.

"In its destruction of local control and its substitution of absentee management it has built up in the public utility field what has justly been called a system of private socialism which is inimical to the welfare of a free people.

"I am as much against private socialism of concentrated private power as I am against government socialism.

"The one is equally as dangerous as the other; and destruction of private socialism is utterly essential to avoid governmental socialism."

BEET CONTRACT DATE EXTENDED

County Farm Agent Gets Notice; New Limit Is March 25

County agricultural agent E. A. Wenner has been advised of a new extension of time on signing sugar beet purchase contracts. The extension was found necessary in order to accommodate all applicants for benefits under the AAA program, and the final deadline now has been fixed as March 25.

There are about 150 Delta county farmers signed up as beet growers this season, some of them trying the crop for the first time. Last year there were 137 on the list to receive benefits from the government under the agricultural adjustment act.

Township Lists Delinquent Tax, Near 25 Percent

Delinquent tax list returns are starting to come in from the townships for collection at the office of Ralph R. Olsen, Delta county treasurer.

River Pageant Planned As Smelt Run Feature

General plans for the staging of the smelt run jamboree here the latter part of this month were outlined at a meeting of the executive committee of the Wolverine Conservation association at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce offices yesterday afternoon.

Karl J. Hammar, president of the conservation club, yesterday appointed an entertainment and stunts committee, which will work out an amusement program to be presented at the banquet hall and at the river front.

Harold Gessner was appointed chairman of the committee. Other members are: R. B. MacKennan, Ernest Richter, A. S. Pearson, Otto Manthey, Gust Asp, M. J. Lang, E. L. Samaan and Martin Olson. This group will meet at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce offices at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to work out details of the festival program.

At the meeting of the executive committee yesterday, the suggestion was made that the jamboree could be made to attract more attention by the staging of a parade on Ludington street to the banquet hall, and after the dinner program, a colorful pageant would be staged on the river, with the King of Smeltdom holding the center of the stage. Some nearby stream will be selected as the scene for the jamboree.

Committees to arrange for the banquet, procurement of smelt, sale of banquet tickets, patrol of the river, and decorations will be appointed by President Hammar within a few days.

Band Concert Of Appreciation Will Be Held March 19

The band concert, to be given by the Escanaba high school band to the public for their support in the recent drive in securing enough money to purchase new uniforms, will be held at the W. W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the junior high school on the evening of March 19. The concert will be open to everyone and will be free of charge.

As an added feature, Miss Rose Bink, prominent local singer, will be presented as guest soloist. The members of the band will appear for the first time bedecked in their new uniforms, of a natty military cut in colors of maize and blue. Forty-eight new uniforms have been purchased.

The thank you concert was originally scheduled to be held several weeks ago but was postponed by the illness of the conductor, R. P. Bowers. Mr. Bowers has recovered from his lengthly illness and will be present to lead the band in its program.

Mrs. Warmanen, Of Rock, Dies Sunday

Boost To Tourist Trade Pledged By Local Lions Club

In a resolution passed at their regular meeting Monday night, members of the Escanaba Lions club pledged themselves to join efforts, individually and collectively, with the Chamber of Commerce and other agencies in promoting a sustained tourist business for Escanaba and Delta county. The resolution was submitted by Gus Asp, and was passed unanimously.

One phase of the tourist trade promotion will be the use of advertising stationery and enclosures of Escanaba booklets by club members when writing business letters to out-state firms or individuals. Publicity in the international Lions club magazine will also be sought by the Escanaba club in connection with this program.

In addition, the Lions pledged to cooperate with the Wolverine conservation association in promotion matters, particularly in the coming smelt run jamboree and celebration.

MOLONEY PASSES AWAY

Sault Ste. Marie—David H. Moloney, 74, of 333 Carrie street, retired Sault Ste. Marie merchant, died suddenly this morning, March 11, 1935, of heart disease. He had been in ill health for several weeks.

Mr. Moloney had been in the clothing business on Portage avenue west for 27 years. He came to the Sault 35 years ago from Cheboygan.

He was born on the Atlantic ocean, May 24, 1860, while his mother was coming from Ireland. He resided at Amherstburg, Ont., before moving to Detroit. He later moved to Cheboygan and then to the Sault.

RUSHES RELOCATION JOB

Menominee — Averaging 200 men to the shift, the Bacco Construction company, of Iron Mountain, is making rapid progress on the grading of almost five miles on highway US-41 in Menominee county, with indications that paving of the stretch will begin May 1, it is stated by M. J. Bacco. Much of the road will be relocated near the present main trunk line.

Mr. Bacco returned recently to Iron Mountain from Miami, Fla., to check on the progress of the job, and will leave again in the near future to rejoin his family there, returning later by automobile.

The Menominee county project is one of the largest paving jobs undertaken in upper Michigan in some time and although it will not entirely eliminate the present much - complained-of black-top stretch, it will constitute a material improvement on one of the most heavily traveled roads in the peninsula.

SKIPPERS REMOVE BOATS

Menominee—After one of the most successful season in many years, local iceboats began to be removed from the bay yesterday by their skippers. Two fast Class A boats were berthed by Bill Caley and Bob Wall.

A narrow escape from serious injury occurred yesterday morning when a spar on the Wall boat broke and missed William Wells, who was riding on the plank, by inches.

Othmar Henes' Class C yacht, the Sassy Sue, has joined the list of boats taken from the ice. Others in the fleet of about 38 yachts will be removed this week.

POWER COMPANY CASE

Iron Mountain—Legal appearance of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company in the $133,000 law suit begun by the city of Iron Mountain to obtain back rentals for the use of city streets and alleys for power company lines and poles, has been made through the company's attorneys, Leigh C. Caswell, of Crystal Falls, Homer Benton, of Appleton and James D. Shaw, of Milwaukee. The total sought has been increased from accrued delinquent rentals of $129,000 at the time the suit was begun to the $133,000 on the city's books today.

The power company is being billed by the city at the rate of $2,000 a month, and the amount sought in the litigation will increase proportionately, until the case reaches court.

BLAKESLEE SELECTED

Crystal Falls — Charles E. Blakeslee, Smith-Hughes instructor in the Newberry high school, Saturday afternoon was selected as county 4-H leader by the county agricultural commission.

His formal appointment is contingent on favorable action by the state agricultural board at Lansing and the county board at Lansing and the county board of supervisors. However, the recommendation of the county agricultural commission will no doubt be approved.

The state board will meet in Lansing March 21 and the board of supervisors in Crystal Falls March 23.

Blakeslee will succeed E. A. Wenner, who went to Escanaba to become agricultural agent of Delta county. He was graduated from Michigan State college in June, 1933, with a bachelor of science degree. He took a general agricultural course and majored in animal husbandry.

LUMBERMAN DIES

Ontonagon—Dennis J. Norton, 77, prominent pioneer lumberman of this region, died at his home here yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. He had been in ill health for several years, but was not seriously ill until Feb. 25, when he suffered the first of two strokes which caused his death.

Mr. Norton was born in Ireland. He came to this country when he was 14 and lived at Ishpeming for a few years before coming to Ontonagon county. He was located at Ewen, where he engaged in lumbering during the old pine logging days. He came here 30 years ago. For a time he was associated with the Ontonagon Lumber & Cedar Co. and later organized the Norton Lumber Co. He retired from active business a few years ago.

PROGRESS

"Well, and how are you getting on with your courtship of the banker's daughter?" asked Jackson.

The young man beamed happily. "Not so bad," he replied. "I'm getting some encouragement now."

"Really," put in his friend. "Is she beginning to smile sweetly on you, or something?"

"Not exactly," replied the young man, "but last night she told me she had said 'No!' for the last time."

CONSERVATION TO BE TAUGHT

Gallup Reports Course of Study Is Now Being Prepared

The teaching of a conservation as a regular Smith-Hughes course in the senior year in high schools of Michigan is expected to be launched next fall, E. E. Gallup, Lansing, state director of vocational education, said while in Escanaba yesterday. Mr. Gallup is now making a tour of inspection of Smith-Hughes agricultural schools in the upper peninsula.

Land economics and conservation are logical courses to be taught in northern Michigan since the future of this region will depend upon the intelligent development of our natural resources, according to Mr. Gallup.

Last fall, Mr. Gallup appointed a committee composed of Henry Wylie, Escanaba, chairman, George Butler, Marquette, and William Wallis, Rudyard, to study the possibilities for introducing the study of conservation in the public schools. That committee will soon submit its report, and experts of the conservation department and educators of Michigan State College will be consulted in the writing of textbooks to be used in the course.

The course, according to Mr. Gallup, will deal with reforestation; lakes and streams, their value from the standpoint of providing moisture and the propagation of fish; wild life protection and propagation, tourist and resort business, and its relation to agriculture; and land economics.

BEET CONTRACT DATE EXTENDED

County Farm Agent Gets Notice; New Limit Is March 25

County agricultural agent E. A. Wenner has been advised of a new extension of time on signing sugar beet purchase contracts. The extension was found necessary in order to accommodate all applicants for benefits under the AAA program, and the final deadline now has been fixed as March 25.

There are about 150 Delta county farmers signed up as beet growers this season, some of them trying the crop for the first time. Last year there were 137 on the list to receive benefits from the government under the agricultural adjustment act.

Township Lists Delinquent Tax, Near 25 Percent

Delinquent tax list returns are starting to come in from the townships for collection at the office of Ralph R. Olsen, Delta county treasurer.

As in the past, Bay de Noc township was the first to report, and Richard Olson, township treasurer, listed his 1934 delinquencies on state and county taxes as $206.21. The total assessment roll for state and county tax in the township was $833.14, making collections equal about 75 percent.

River Pageant Planned As Smelt Run Feature

General plans for the staging of the smelt run jamboree here the latter part of this month were outlined at a meeting of the executive committee of the Wolverine Conservation association at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce offices yesterday afternoon.

Karl J. Hammar, president of the conservation club, yesterday appointed an entertainment and stunts committee, which will work out an amusement program to be presented at the banquet hall and at the river front.

Harold Gessner was appointed chairman of the committee. Other members are: R. B. MacKennan, Ernest Richter, A. S. Pearson, Otto Manthey, Gust Asp, M. J. Lang, E. L. Samaan and Martin Olson. This group will meet at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce offices at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to work out details of the festival program.

At the meeting of the executive committee yesterday, the suggestion was made that the jamboree could be made to attract more attention by the staging of a parade on Ludington street to the banquet hall, and after the dinner program, a colorful pageant would be staged on the river, with the King of Smeltdom holding the center of the stage. Some nearby stream will be selected as the scene for the jamboree.

Committees to arrange for the banquet, procurement of smelt, sale of banquet tickets, patrol of the river, and decorations will be appointed by President Hammar within a few days.

Band Concert Of Appreciation Will Be Held March 19

The band concert, to be given by the Escanaba high school band to the public for their support in the recent drive in securing enough money to purchase new uniforms, will be held at the W. W. Oliver Memorial auditorium in the junior high school on the evening of March 19. The concert will be open to everyone and will be free of charge.

As an added feature, Miss Rose Bink, prominent local singer, will be presented as guest soloist. The members of the band will appear for the first time bedecked in their new uniforms, of a natty military cut in colors of maize and blue. Forty-eight new uniforms have been purchased.

The thank you concert was originally scheduled to be held several weeks ago but was postponed by the illness of the conductor, R. P. Bowers. Mr. Bowers has recovered from his lengthly illness and will be present to lead the band in its program.

Mrs. Warmanen, Of Rock, Dies Sunday

Rock, Mich., March 12.—Mrs. Theodore Warmanen, resident of Rock for the past 20 years ago, passed away at an Ishpeming hospital at one o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had been taken to the hospital Thursday following a paralytic stroke which she suffered a few days ago.

Mrs. Warmanen was born in Finland 46 years ago and moved here from Ishpeming with her husband about 20 years ago. Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by one son, Walter, and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Vadin, both of Rock.

Funeral services will be held from the Communist hall on Wednesday, with burial in the Rock cemetery.

Boost To Tourist Trade Pledged By Local Lions Club

In a resolution passed at their regular meeting Monday night, members of the Escanaba Lions club pledged themselves to join efforts, individually and collectively, with the Chamber of Commerce and other agencies in promoting a sustained tourist business for Escanaba and Delta county. The resolution was submitted by Gus Asp, and was passed unanimously.

One phase of the tourist trade promotion will be the use of advertising stationery and enclosures of Escanaba booklets by club members when writing business letters to out-state firms or individuals. Publicity in the international Lions club magazine will also be sought by the Escanaba club in connection with this program.

In addition, the Lions pledged to cooperate with the Wolverine conservation association in promotion matters, particularly in the coming smelt run jamboree and celebration.

RELIEF PROBLEMS

WITH about 125,000 of its 300,000 people on the relief rolls, the upper peninsula is presenting a knotty problem to relief administration officials assigned to this region.

There has been some talk that it will be necessary to move some of the families to Alaska or somewhere else because of the belief that that these people will never again have an opportunity to find employment in their particular occupation in the upper peninsula. This proposal has drawn considerable criticism, however. It is argued that the transfer of populations would only create a more serious unemployment problem elsewhere, since all regions now have a labor surplus.

Those who are more optimistic and have abiding faith in the upper peninsula believe that the natural resources can be utilized to provide new business enterprise and opportunities for reemployment.

The upper peninsula has room for further agricultural development. At the present time, insufficient butter and other dairy products are produced here to take care of the local demand. These products are being shipped in from other states.

This is ideal potato raising country, but upper peninsula growers are unable to cope with the competition offered by the nationally known Maine and Idaho potatoes. These outside potatoes command a much-higher price in the Detroit market right today. The adoption of uniform grading and improvement of marketing methods are needed to have upper peninsula fare better in the potato markets. There should be an opportunity also in the growing of more certified seed tubers in this section.

Under the direction of the extension department of Michigan State College, much is being done to apprize farmers of the possibilities for earning additional income in the growing of rutabagas. Soil and climatic conditions are particularly suited for the raising of rutabagas, but the marketing of this farm produce will be the main task. Exploitation methods used by the growers of tomatoes, grapefruit, oranges and other produce probably could be worked out.

Much of the relief problem worry is expected to be banished by the comprehensive program that that has been launched by the U. S. Forest Service in the reforestation of idle, waste lands to grow timber for future lumbering operations and at the same time promote the recreational possibilities of this north country. The Forest Service program is likely to change the economic complexion of this region. New communities may spring up within or just outside of forest borders, and new industries may develop in a coordinated plan for the rebuilding and harvesting of the forests.

The copper mining picture appears somewhat gloomy, but already efforts are being directed in Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties for developing the natural resources to create new industrial and business activities. Much is being done to promote the tourist and resort business in that outstanding scenic region. Iron mining still has a good future. With the improvement of business generally throughout the country, the iron mines of the upper peninsula will still be producing and furnishing many jobs to the miners.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the chambers of commerce are exerting more intensive efforts to publicize the northern peninsula as a vacationland. The best thing we have to sell is our wonderful, summer climate. We have fishing, hunting and scenery in abundance, too. These organizations have been giving more attention of late to the matter of providing accommodations and also entertainment for the vacationists, so that they will extend their stay and be influenced to return in the succeeding years.

There is still some fight in this upper peninsula.

THE ECCLES PLAN

WHEN Gov. Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board told the House Banking Committee that a redistribution of income is in order in the United States, he helped to clarify a situation which has grown pretty confused.

Governor Eccles was careful to point out that it is income, and not capital, which needs re-dealing.

It is a point which ought to be kept in mind by all people who are casting wistful glances at any of the current share-the-wealth movements.

At the height of the post-war boom, Governor Eccles says, one-tenth of one per cent of the families at the top of the income list got as much money as 42 per cent of the families at the bottom.

They couldn't possibly spend all their money. Most of it had to be invested.

But investing it simply meant that the money was used to stimulate production. The country's capacity to produce was pushed ahead of its capacity to buy.

Eventually we found ourselves floundering about in a depression featured by that astounding contradiction, want in the midst of plenty.

Governor Eccles sees the remedy as a more equitable distribution of incomes. This, he says, can be accomplished most effectively through income taxes.

Now contrast this view with the rising demand for a redistribution of capital wealth.

Capital wealth consists largely of intangibles—stocks, bonds, and the like. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that the claims of the most vocal share-the-wealth group are true, and that this wealth if divided would give each family $5000. What would happen then?

The family would not get $5,000 of income. It would get a $5000 stake in the country's mass of securities. If these gave an average return of 4 per cent, the family would draw exactly $200 a year—which is a long way from being enough to support a family in this day and age.

In other words, we are asked to put through a scheme which would rock capitalism to its foundations to give each family an income far below even the subsistence wage in the pending public works bill.

Mr. Eccles' plan would create infinitely less disturbance in the world of business and finance—and, at the same time, it would be far more lucrative for the people who need increased incomes.

AROUND THE U. P.
(Ironwood Globe)

THE Square Circle conservation organization of Gaastra made no bones about its attitude toward game and fish law violators when it adopted a resolution the other day in which it formally commended Max Jaeger and Archie Beauchamp, conservation officers, for their good work in apprehending game law violators in Iron county. More organizations ought to do that and be sincere about it because, as former Conservation Commissioner Newett of Ishpeming pointedly states it, "The man who violates, steals from all of the people of the state."

Resignation of Supt. Cheney of the Escanaba schools will take from the Peninsula an educator who has relentlessly championed the cause of financially distressed school districts. He is generally given credit for creation of the Turner fund by which several millions were made available for struggling school districts. Leastwise he was prominently identified with the group that brought about passage of the law.

Most cities in the Peninsula have no occasion to employ bridge tenders, but Menominee does, and Menominee has its annual battle in the city council over their appointment. The council over their appointment. The council scrap always develops even though the pay of the head bridge tender is only $2.25 a day and that of his helpers $2 a day. Their duties are to man the drawbridge over the Menominee river, permitting steamers to go up stream. The occasional thrill they get out of the job comes when a steamer comes close to crashing into the bridge.

The smoothest Paul Bunyan story of the week is told by the Rev. William Poyseor of Crystal Falls, who claims intimate acquaintance with Paul as the result of services he held in the lumber camps in the olden days. Mr. Poyseor relates that Anvil Chorus was so named because the O'Rourke boys would go down to the blacksmith shop for the anvil and when it was brought into camp, services were started. Bunyan insisted on singing the bass for the entire camp, according to the reverend sir of Crystal Falls.

The prediction of a biologist that due to the slow recession of Niagara Falls, eventually Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior will be reduced in size to only that area which lies below the bottom of the present Lake Erie is disputed by Chase Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie, former governor of Michigan. He writes at length to explain his side of the story, basing it chiefly on the contention that Lake Superior occupies a basin distinct from any of the other Great Lakes.

Iron county is going to let the supreme court decide which of two men is entitled to the office of county road commissioner. Leonard Lind was named Dec. 15 on the twenty-sixth ballot, indicating the county board had a hard time to reach a decision. Two weeks later the board reconsidered its action and elected Russell Fish. Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell ruled in favor of Fish. The question is, Which of the two men will serve until the supreme court finally settles the issue?

Senator A. S. Heidkamp of Lake Linden apparently is held in esteem at Lansing by Republicans and Democrats alike. On the recent anniversary of his birth, Republicans presented him with a silk dressing gown and a fountain pen. Democrats, not to be outdone, gave him a brief case. Nobody seems to know the age of Senator Heidkamp, but it is generally known that he has been in business in the Peninsula for about 40 years and was mayor of his home town 20 consecutive years. Leastwise, that's the information given out by the Red Book.

CHAPTER XLVII

Men in New York subway trains folded their newspapers, read the headlines and shook their heads Women in San Francisco—mothers with sons of their own—read the same paragraphs and sighed. Middle-western farmers, resting after the day's work, looked up from their reading long enough to say, "It's an outrage, that's what it is. An outrage!"

And thousands of others, all over the country, repeated the words. The death of Steve Meyers, the young silk mill employe who had died from injuries said to have been received when he was trying to defend himself from lawless thugs who had broken into a peaceable meeting of mill workers, stirred nation-wide indignation. The young man, newspaper accounts pointed out, was the only support of a widowed mother, a steady, dependable workman.

Moreover, there were charges that the ruffians who had clubbed Meyers so brutally had been paid by the mill management. Others who had attended the interrupted meeting, notably a certain Joseph Gillaspie, gave graphic descriptions of what had happened.

Editorials expressing protests were published. Sermons were preached. Cartoons championing the rights of the workers were drawn.

And in Washington a rotund man in a gray suit faced another, seated at a desk. The rotund man said, "Well, Chief, I'm off tonight. I was going to send Churchill, but I think it's better to go myself. It's the same case we had the report on last week. Things seem to be even worse than they were presented. Flagrant violations, open defiance—"

"How about that western trip?"

"Going to postpone it. I tell you this thing is pressing! It calls for immediate action."

"Yes. I think you're right. What time did you say you are leaving?"

"Seven-thirty. I'm taking the first train."

The man at the desk nodded. "Let me have a report as soon as you can get it ready. I'm interested."

"I will, Chief." The man in the gray suit raised a hand in a gesture of farewell and turned toward the door.

Gale Henderson, walking up the street slowly, watched the ball of flame that was the late afternoon sun slip behind the tree tops. It was a gorgeous sun. In 20 minutes — perhaps less — the sky would be a riot of color.

Sad that anything so beautiful as a sunset should last such a short time—or was it?

Gael thought, "The good things and bad things are so mixed up—"

It did seem true. For everything that caused happiness and made the world brighter must there always be something equally sad? Gale had good news tonight. She should have been happy. Well—she was. Of course she was happy, knowing Phil would be home the next day! The lawyer had told her so less than an hour earlier. The lawyer who was so young-looking and who had so little experience had done great things for Phil. He had worked hard—with impressive results.

For one thing, he had discovered that the gun the policeman had taken from Phil's pocket, the one Phil was accused of firing, had been bought less than six weeks before by Ed Vogel's friend Stroude. He had also talked to a woman who had watched the street fight from a nearby window. The woman said (and she was willing to give her testimony in court) that she had seen the gun in Stroude's hand just as someone struck him. The discharge, she was sure, was accidental and the revolver had not been aimed.

And so Phil was coming home. Ed Vogel, still in the hospital was growing stronger every day Vogel was able to see company now, but his friend, Stroude, had not paid him a visit. From all reports, Stroude had been missing from his haunts ever since Phil's lawyer first began making inquiries.

Phil was coming home and the young lawyer responsible was the one whom Steve Meyers had found and persuaded to take the case. Steve had done it, really—and Steve was in his grave.

YOUTHFULNESS

Men talk of years as if they came
On certain days at certain times,
As though all lives were all the same,
All months alike, alike all climes.
One can be "old" at twenty-five
Or very "young" at fifty-two:
Today perhaps ten years arrive,
Or youth perhaps comes back to you.

How young is youth that finds deceit
Where it has trusted, as it may?
How old is age, whose life is sweet
With faithful friendships all the way?
For what know calendars of joy,
Or care, or anything of men?
One year may make a man a boy,
Another age a mortal ten.

Talk not of years but youthfulness,
The only measure of a man,
A thing that youth may not possess,
Yet age may keep its fullest span.
No calendar upon a wall
Records the progress of the years,
For some will only smiles recall,
And some remember only tears.

RELIEF PROBLEMS

WITH about 125,000 of its 300,000 people on the relief rolls, the upper peninsula is presenting a knotty problem to relief administration officials assigned to this region.

There has been some talk that it will be necessary to move some of the families to Alaska or somewhere else because of the belief that that these people will never again have an opportunity to find employment in their particular occupation in the upper peninsula. This proposal has drawn considerable criticism, however. It is argued that the transfer of populations would only create a more serious unemployment problem elsewhere, since all regions now have a labor surplus.

Those who are more optimistic and have abiding faith in the upper peninsula believe that the natural resources can be utilized to provide new business enterprise and opportunities for reemployment.

The upper peninsula has room for further agricultural development. At the present time, insufficient butter and other dairy products are produced here to take care of the local demand. These products are being shipped in from other states.

This is ideal potato raising country, but upper peninsula growers are unable to cope with the competition offered by the nationally known Maine and Idaho potatoes. These outside potatoes command a much-higher price in the Detroit market right today. The adoption of uniform grading and improvement of marketing methods are needed to have upper peninsula fare better in the potato markets. There should be an opportunity also in the growing of more certified seed tubers in this section.

Under the direction of the extension department of Michigan State College, much is being done to apprize farmers of the possibilities for earning additional income in the growing of rutabagas. Soil and climatic conditions are particularly suited for the raising of rutabagas, but the marketing of this farm produce will be the main task. Exploitation methods used by the growers of tomatoes, grapefruit, oranges and other produce probably could be worked out.

Much of the relief problem worry is expected to be banished by the comprehensive program that that has been launched by the U. S. Forest Service in the reforestation of idle, waste lands to grow timber for future lumbering operations and at the same time promote the recreational possibilities of this north country. The Forest Service program is likely to change the economic complexion of this region. New communities may spring up within or just outside of forest borders, and new industries may develop in a coordinated plan for the rebuilding and harvesting of the forests.

The copper mining picture appears somewhat gloomy, but already efforts are being directed in Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties for developing the natural resources to create new industrial and business activities. Much is being done to promote the tourist and resort business in that outstanding scenic region. Iron mining still has a good future. With the improvement of business generally throughout the country, the iron mines of the upper peninsula will still be producing and furnishing many jobs to the miners.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the chambers of commerce are exerting more intensive efforts to publicize the northern peninsula as a vacationland. The best thing we have to sell is our wonderful summer climate. We have fishing, hunting and scenery in abundance, too. These organizations have been giving more attention of late to the matter of providing accommodations and also entertainment for the vacationists, so that they will extend their stay and be influenced to return in the succeeding years.

There is still some fight in this upper peninsula.

THE ECCLES PLAN

WHEN Gov. Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board told the House Banking Committee that a redistribution of income is in order in the United States, he helped to clarify a situation which has grown pretty confused.

Governor Eccles was careful to point out that it is income, and not capital, which needs re-dealing.

It is a point which ought to be kept in mind by all people who are casting wistful glances at any of the current share-the-wealth movements.

At the height of the post-war boom, Governor Eccles says, one-tenth of one per cent of the families at the top of the income list got as much money as 42 per cent of the families at the bottom.

They couldn't possibly spend all their money. Most of it had to be invested.

But investing it simply meant that the money was used to stimulate production. The country's capacity to produce was pushed ahead of its capacity to buy.

Eventually we found ourselves floundering about in a depression featured by that astounding contradiction, want in the midst of plenty.

Governor Eccles sees the remedy as a more equitable distribution of incomes. This, he says, can be accomplished most effectively through income taxes.

Now contrast this view with the rising demand for a redistribution of capital wealth.

Capital wealth consists largely of intangibles—stocks, bonds, and the like. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that the claims of the most vocal share-the-wealth group are true, and that this wealth if divided would give each family $5000. What would happen then?

The family would not get $5,000 of income. It would get a $5000 stake in the country's mass of securities. If these gave an average return of 4 per cent, the family would draw exactly $200 a year—which is a long way from being enough to support a family in this day and age.

In other words, we are asked to put through a scheme which would rock capitalism to its foundations to give each family an income far below even the subsistence wage in the pending public works bill.

Mr. Eccles' plan would create infinitely less disturbance in the world of business and finance—and, at the same time, it would be far more lucrative for the people who need increased incomes.

AROUND THE U. P.

(Ironwood Globe)

THE Square Circle conservation organization of Gaastra made no bones about its attitude toward game and fish law violators when it adopted a resolution the other day in which it formally commended Max Jaeger and Archie Beauchamp, conservation officers, for their good work in apprehending game law violators in Iron county. More organizations ought to do that and be sincere about it because, as former Conservation Commissioner Newett of Ishpeming pointedly states it, "The man who violates, steals from all of the people of the state."

Resignation of Supt. Cheney of the Escanaba schools will take from the Peninsula an educator who has relentlessly championed the cause of financially distressed school districts. He is generally given credit for creation of the Turner fund by which several millions were made available for struggling school districts. Leastwise he was prominently identified with the group that brought about passage of the law.

Most cities in the Peninsula have no occasion to employ bridge tenders, but Menominee does, and Menominee has its annual battle in the city council over their appointment. The council over their appointment. The council scrap always develops even though the pay of the head bridge tender is only $2.25 a day and that of his helpers $2 a day. Their duties are to man the drawbridge over the Menominee river, permitting steamers to go up stream. The occasional thrill they get out of the job comes when a steamer comes close to crashing into the bridge.

APPEAL CASES WILL BE HEARD

Commission of Labor and Industry Meets at Marquette

Lansing—Forty two appeals from awards or dismissal petitions granted by Deputies of the Commission of Labor and Industry will be heard at Marquette on March 20th and 21st when the newly appointed Commissioners hold their first Upper Peninsula session. Heretofore, full board meetings have been held late in the Spring and early in the Fall when Northern weather has been more inviting to Lower Peninsula visitors.

"Our policy of giving attention to Upper Peninsula matters will not be determined by weather conditions any longer. Men who have appeals hanging fire in the North country are just as anxious and as much entitled to attention as those in other parts of the State," Chairman Frank F. Ford of Kalamazoo said, following the setting of hearings for the early dates.

At the Marquette session, Chairman Ford will preside. Commissioners William H. Wise of Lansing and Mrs. Betty W. Allie of Detroit and Secretary W. F. Doyle of Menominee, the lone Upper Peninsula member of the Department, will accompany him to the North country. The Commission plans to "clean up" all existing appeals before leaving the Upper Peninsula so that attorneys and clients will have a clear docket.

Plans of the Department also call for some changes in the time of hearing appeals as well as the places. Hereafter, it will be the custom to conduct hearings not only in one city but in places where the larger number of cases are pending, the Secretary said.

Scrutinize Labor Laws

A further function of the Labor and Industry Division which has been almost lost sight of during recent years is that having to do with inspection of factories, hotels, eating houses, sanitary conditions of employment and general regulation and supervision of affairs which lead to more satisfactory working conditions.

"It certainly will not be our purpose to inflict a lot of needless inspection on people of the State," Secretary Doyle said, "but Commissioner Wade who is in immediate supervision of the labor end of the Department will be insistent that the general laws of Michigan be enforced.

"There is nothing more bothersome than inspection of this and that and every other thing which happens along. We do not intend to add to such a burden. For that reason we are going to look to employers of labor to eliminate what they term "nuisance inspection" by seeing to it that rules are adhered to without our men having to pry into their affairs constantly. Those who show a willing spirit of cooperation with the Department will find our men ready to assist them at every turn. On the other hand, those who seek ways of avoiding or evading State labor laws will find our men alert to the situation and determined upon proper enforcement," Mr. Doyle said.

Educational word on the part of the Department to point out ways of avoiding accidents in factories and mills is another matter under consideration at this time. The Commission realizes fully that cooperation on the part of employes is just as important as the efforts of employers to prevent accidents.

"Accidents cost the Insurance Companies and the employers much money. They also cause untold hardships and suffering in thousands of homes. We want to reduce the number of accidents for the benefit of all parties to the Compensation Laws," Commissioner Wade said.

Pair Sentenced For Coal Theft; One On Probation

Ed Coty was placed on probation for six months and Wilford McGinnis was given 30 days in the Delta county jail Tuesday afternoon, following their conviction on a charge of stealing coal at the C. & N. W. yards. The hearing was before Justice George W. Carr. Prosecuting Attorney William J. Miller produced records to show that McGinnis had previously been placed on probation, and violation of this probation accounted for the jail sentence.

A third man, Robert Starrs, arrested by the Escanaba police department in the coal theft case, will appear for examination Friday.

Mrs. W. Clairmont Dies At Standish

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. William Clairmont at Standish, Mich., on Sunday, March 10. The body is being brought to this city, arriving here this morning and will be taken to the Allo Funeral Home. Services will be held Thursday morning, and burial made in St. Anne's cemetery.

The broadcaster's voice must be amplified 10 million billion times in a radio conversation across the Atlantic.

TRENARY NEWS

Snow Busters Ball

Trenary, Mich., Mar. 12 (Special)—The annual Snow Busters Ball will be held Saturday night in the Hippodrome in Chatham. This dance is given every year by the employees of the Alger county road commission who spend their winters battling the snow storms of the county.

This dance is one of the outstanding social events of the winter and has grown from a dance in a small hall to one of the best attended dances of the season. The dance is a nonprofit making affair, all the money taken in is expended on the affair through the furnishing of good music, guest prizes and favors.

Jack Rubbo and his Modernistic orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

Wedding of Local Youth

Leo Pokela of Trenary and Miss Martha Hogan of Eben Junction were married recently in a ceremony that took place in Phillips, Wis., on February 23. They were attended by Miss Laila Kaletski, the bride's cousin, also of Eben Junction, and Willie Takala from Brantwood, Wis. Mr. Pokela is well known in Trenary, having been an employe of the Trenary Co-op Store for some time. Mrs. Pokela was employed in Marquette during the past winter. They plan to make their home in Trenary.

Home Nursing Class

The Home Nursing Class met as usual Friday afternoon in the home economics room. The subject of the lesson was "Care of the Baby", and was able to make it especially practical and realistic by the aid of a real baby. The baby was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Osier. Mrs. Williamson and the baby have been staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Mills, in Trenary. Only a few more meetings of the Home Nursing Class remain. Certificates will then be awarded to those who have successfully finished the course.

Barber Treats

Trenary high school basketball team appeared in the finest of tonsorial trim at the high school basketball tournament last week at Ishpeming. All of the members of the varsity squad were treated to a free hair cut because of their successful season by Ronald White, the local barber who is an ardent basketball fan.

Local Artists on Radio

Homer Viau, local vocalist, appeared Sunday afternoon on station W. B. E. O. of Marquette. Mr. Viau sang three numbers: The Isle of Capri, Winter Wonderland, and When Irish Eyes Are Smiling. He was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Miller.

Gerta Hews, another local artist is to appear regularly on this station on an afternoon program. Miss Hews sings and plays the guitar. She formerly attended Trenary high school and is now enrolled in the Marquette high school.

Personals

Miss Gerta Hews came to Trenary Friday to spend the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Rae Hews. Miss Hews is soon to have a regular program on the Marquette radio station.

Frank Holmquist returned to his home last Saturday. He has been in St. Mary's hospital in Marquette for the past two weeks following an operation for relief from appendicitis.

Miss Hilda Webber spent the week-end with the family of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Snyder in Gladstone.

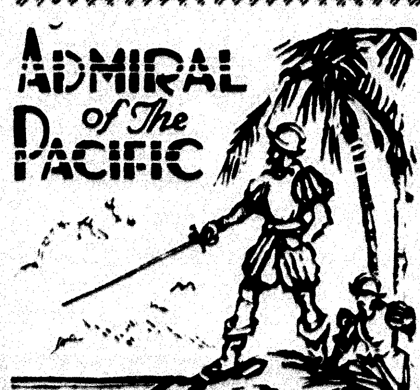
School was closed for a half day Friday, in order to allow the students to attend the tournament in Ishpeming. Some of the students who attended were: Ruth, Helen, Irma and Mary Davis, Pauline Smith, Marion McLaughlin, Arvi Jarvi, Arnold Iho, Elmer Iho, Charles Smith, Richard Smith, Ralph Richmond, Earl Quarfoote, Orville Vogel, Pearl Paulson, Pauline Slambo, Sheldon Trenary, Arhtur Wiirtanen, Anna Vee Little, Violet Stevens, and Eileen Williams.

Esa Orva attended the last rites for Mr. Anderson in Chatham Sunday.

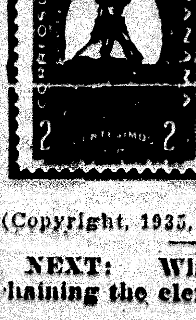
Miss Elizabeth Miller and Homer Viau motored to Marquette Sunday to appear as guest artists on station WBEO.

Ben Gregg received an injury to his ankle when he was out in the woods alone Monday morning. Some neighbors passing by found his team going home alone, and thinking it strange, searched and found Mr. Gregg before he had suffered any from the exposure.

Stories in STAMPS



STOWING away in a food cask on a vessel leaving Haiti for Porto Rico, a fugitive from hounding creditors, Vasco Nunez de Balboa began a career of exploration and conquest, more than 400 years ago, that ended with his discovery of the Pacific Ocean in 1513. For this enterprise, King Ferdinand of Spain made Balboa "Atelantado del Mar del Sur," or "Admiral of the Pacific."



Today, this great explorer is honored even in stamps, one of which, shown here, is Panama's 400th anniversary issue of 1913.

Conservation Course To Be Described at Wolverine Banquet

E. E. Gallop, Lansing, state director of vocational education, will deliver a brief address on the subject of "Conservation Education" at the annual banquet of the Wolverine Conservation association at the Sherman hotel Thursday evening. The dinner will begin at 6:30 o'clock.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Scott Leavitt, former Montana congressman, who is now director of public relations of the U. S. Forest Service.

Prizes to winners of the Wolverine association's fishing contest will be awarded at the banquet. There will be a musical program, consisting of a vocal solo by Robert Adams, and several selections by an instrumental trio, composed of Clara Karas, violin; Jack Foster, cello, and Miriam Lund, accompanist.

Mr. Gallup will tell of the plans that are now being made to add a course to the high school curriculum in practical conservation problems. The course is being outlined by a special committee, headed by Henry Wylie of Houghton, in cooperation with the conservation department, Michigan State college, and the state department of public instruction.

APPEAL CASES WILL BE HEARD

Commission of Labor and Industry Meets at Marquette

Lansing—Forty two appeals from awards or dismissal petitions granted by Deputies of the Commission of Labor and Industry will be heard at Marquette on March 20th and 21st when the newly appointed Commissioners hold their first Upper Peninsula session. Heretofore, full board meetings have been held late in the Spring and early in the Fall when Northern weather has been more inviting to Lower Peninsula visitors.

"Our policy of giving attention to Upper Peninsula matters will not be determined by weather conditions any longer. Men who have appeals hanging fire in the North country are just as anxious and as much entitled to attention as those in other parts of the State," Chairman Frank F. Ford of Kalamazoo said, following the setting of hearings for the early dates.

At the Marquette session, Chairman Ford will preside. Commissioners William H. Wise of Lansing and Mrs. Betty W. Allie of Detroit and Secretary W. F. Doyle of Menominee, the lone Upper Peninsula member of the Department, will accompany him to the North country. The Commission plans to "clean up" all existing appeals before leaving the Upper Peninsula so that attorneys and clients will have a clear docket.

Plans of the Department also call for some changes in the time of hearing appeals as well as the places. Hereafter, it will be the custom to conduct hearings not only in one city but in places where the larger number of cases are pending, the Secretary said.

Scrutinize Labor Laws

A further function of the Labor and Industry Division which has been almost lost sight of during recent years is that having to do with inspection of factories, hotels, eating houses, sanitary conditions of employment and general regulation and supervision of affairs which lead to more satisfactory working conditions.

"It certainly will not be our purpose to inflict a lot of needless inspection on people of the State," Secretary Doyle said, "but Commissioner Wade who is in immediate supervision of the labor end of the Department will be insistent that the general laws of Michigan be enforced.

"There is nothing more bothersome than inspection of this and that and every other thing which happens along. We do not intend to add to such a burden. For that reason we are going to look to employers of labor to eliminate what they term "nuisance inspection" by seeing to it that rules are adhered to without our men having to pry into their affairs constantly. Those who show a willing spirit of cooperation with the Department will find our men ready to assist them at every turn. On the other hand, those who seek ways of avoiding or evading State labor laws will find our men alert to the situation and determined upon proper enforcement," Mr. Doyle said.

Educational word on the part of the Department to point out ways of avoiding accidents in factories and mills is another matter under consideration at this time. The Commission realizes fully that cooperation on the part of employes is just as important as the efforts of employers to prevent accidents.

"Accidents cost the Insurance Companies and the employers much money. They also cause untold hardships and suffering in thousands of homes. We want to reduce the number of accidents for the benefit of all parties to the Compensation Laws," Commissioner Wade said.

Pair Sentenced For Coal Theft; One On Probation

Ed Coty was placed on probation for six months and Wilford McGinnis was given 30 days in the Delta county jail Tuesday afternoon, following their conviction on a charge of stealing coal at the C. & N. W. yards. The hearing was before Justice George W. Carr. Prosecuting Attorney William J. Miller produced records to show that McGinnis had previously been placed on probation, and violation of this probation accounted for the jail sentence.

A third man, Robert Starrs, arrested by the Escanaba police department in the coal theft case, will appear for examination Friday.

Snow Busters Ball

Trenary, Mich., Mar. 12 (Special)—The annual Snow Busters Ball will be held Saturday night in the Hippodrome in Chatham. This dance is given every year by the employees of the Alger county road commission who spend their winters battling the snow storms of the county.

This dance is one of the outstanding social events of the winter and has grown from a dance in a small hall to one of the best attended dances of the season. The dance is a nonprofit making affair, all the money taken in is expended on the affair through the furnishing of good music, guest prizes and favors.

Jack Rubbo and his Modernistic orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

Wedding of Local Youth

Leo Pokela of Trenary and Miss Martha Hogan of Eben Junction were married recently in a ceremony that took place in Phillips, Wis., on February 23. They were attended by Miss Laila Kaletski, the bride's cousin, also of Eben Junction, and Willie Takala from Brantwood, Wis. Mr. Pokela is well known in Trenary, having been an employe of the Trenary Co-op Store for some time. Mrs. Pokela was employed in Marquette during the past winter. They plan to make their home in Trenary.

Home Nursing Class

The Home Nursing Class met as usual Friday afternoon in the home economics room. The subject of the lesson was "Care of the Baby", and was able to make it especially practical and realistic by the aid of a real baby. The baby was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson of Osier. Mrs. Williamson and the baby have been staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Mills, in Trenary. Only a few more meetings of the Home Nursing Class remain. Certificates will then be awarded to those who have successfully finished the course.

Barber Treats

Trenary high school basketball team appeared in the finest of tonsorial trim at the high school basketball tournament last week at Ishpeming. All of the members of the varsity squad were treated to a free hair cut because of their successful season by Ronald White, the local barber who is an ardent basketball fan.

Local Artists on Radio

Homer Viau, local vocalist, appeared Sunday afternoon on station W. B. E. O. of Marquette. Mr. Viau sang three numbers: The Isle of Capri, Winter Wonderland, and When Irish Eyes Are Smiling. He was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Miller.

Gerta Hews, another local artist is to appear regularly on this station on an afternoon program. Miss Hews sings and plays the guitar. She formerly attended Trenary high school and is now enrolled in the Marquette high school.

Personals

Miss Gerta Hews came to Trenary Friday to spend the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Rae Hews. Miss Hews is soon to have a regular program on the Marquette radio station.

Frank Holmquist returned to his home last Saturday. He has been in St. Mary's hospital in Marquette for the past two weeks following an operation for relief from appendicitis.

Miss Hilda Webber spent the week-end with the family of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Snyder in Gladstone.

School was closed for a half day Friday, in order to allow the students to attend the tournament in Ishpeming. Some of the students who attended were: Ruth, Helen, Irma and Mary Davis, Pauline Smith, Marion McLaughlin, Arvi Jarvi, Arnold Iho, Elmer Iho, Charles Smith, Richard Smith, Ralph Richmond, Earl Quarfoote, Orville Vogel, Pearl Paulson, Pauline Slambo, Sheldon Trenary, Arhtur Wiirtanen, Anna Vee Little, Violet Stevens, and Eileen Williams.

Esa Orva attended the last rites for Mr. Anderson in Chatham Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Miller and Homer Viau motored to Marquette Sunday to appear as guest artists on station WBEO.

Ben Gregg received an injury to his ankle when he was out in the woods alone Monday morning. Some neighbors passing by found his team going home alone, and thinking it strange, searched and found Mr. Gregg before he had suffered any from the exposure.

Literary Critic Speaker at Club Meeting Today

A large attendance is expected at the meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club to be held at the Sherman Hotel this afternoon at which time the club members will have the privilege of Michigan give a critical review of "Anthony Adverse," the book which, perhaps, has been the subject of more intensive discussion than any book published during the recent years.

Professor Nelson comes highly recommended as a student of English capable of analyzing the unusual characterizations and the subtle introduction of symbols and motivations by the use of which the author, Hervey Allen, settles a colorful flotilla of historical events.

Since the average reader, untrained in literary criticism, will probably overlook some of the strokes of genius which Hervey Allen has emblazoned his prodigious novel, a careful and critical review of the book will undoubtedly assist him to develop a keen appreciation of this novel.

The music feature of the afternoon will be a group of solos by Mrs. Paul E. Treadwell, who will be accompanied by Ross Stoakes, jr.

Mrs. H. L. Holderman is chairman of the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. C. B. Farrell, Mrs. Carl Wickman and Mrs. George F. McEwen.

The meeting will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and club members are asked to be present at that hour.

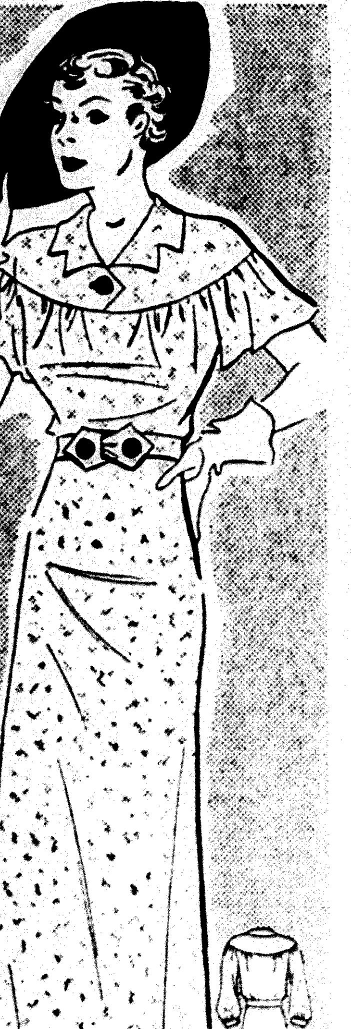
Low Shoulder Line Favored For Afternoon

BY MARIAN MARTIN



PATTERN 9320

The very low shoulder line is favored by Marian Martin in this afternoon frock, with gentle gathers and soft sleeves (three-quarter length puffed or short flared) to emphasize its picturesque quality. And the grand part of it is that it's an extremely easy frock to make. It's perfectly charming in a chartreuse and green print with a bit of gray in it—however, all of us don't wear those colors so well, so choose your own. A silk crepe printed or plain, or a dainty cotton will make up equally well. Three attractive colored buttons finish the yoke and the unusual belt.

Pattern 9320 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

IT'S JUST OUT! OUR SPRING PATTERN BOOK is a veritable Fashion Parade of smart styles to help you plan and make your spring wardrobe. Forty pages full of style news of interest to every woman . . . stunning designs for the house and for town wear! Among the special articles are descriptions of the spring fabrics and how to dress the small child. SEND FOR YOUR COPY NOW! PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS BUT IT COSTS ONLY TEN CENTS WHEN ORDERED WITH A PATTERN. PATTERN AND BOOK TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Send your order to The Daily Press Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Sermon Subject Of Much Interest

Keen interest is being shown by members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church is being shown in the subject which Rev. Ross W. Stoakes has chosen for Lenten season addresses, "Religious Experience."

The pastor laid a foundation for the series at last Sunday's services by asserting that experience should have three characteristics, namely, it should be felt, it should be known and thus have the mental respect of the person involved, and finally it should be the individual's very own.

"This is true no matter what the experience really is and it is peculiarly true in the realm of religion," the pastor said.

The second address of the series is to be given Sunday and it is urged that every family of the parish be represented with a full attendance.

St. Patrick's Day Cake

Green gumdrop slices form the shamrocks that identify the St. Patrick's Day cake.

St. Patrick's is my favorite holiday, not so much because of the way I feel about Ireland as that a green color scheme is so easy to carry out for parties. Take the infinite variety of soups for instance — cream of spinach, cream of asparagus or any cream soup garnished with minced parsley. And for salads there is the entire fields of greens—lettuce, watercress, endive, romaine — with peppers, olives and chives for good measure.

And if you can't get hold of pistachio nuts for your dessert, blanched shredded almonds or shredded cocoanut with a few drops of green vegetable coloring will serve the same purpose.

Green and White Luncheon

Here's an all-green and white St. Patrick's Day luncheon that may be simplified to suit individual needs or used as is:

Fruit cocktail, halibut mousse with crabmeat sauce, spinach timbales, new potatoes, shamrock rolls, stuffed pepper salad, lucky shamrock cake, ice cream croquettes, coffee.

Filling for Peppers

Cream cheese is mixed with grated pineapple and chopped pistachio nuts as filling for the sweet green peppers. After thorough chilling cut in slices about an inch thick crosswise of the pepper. Serve on a bed of cress or shredded leaf lettuce.

Balls of ice cream are rolled in green shredded cocoanut to make the dessert. A firmly frozen parfait mixture such as almond or mint will be found most refreshing.

The lucky shamrock cake is covered with a green-tinted frosting and decorated with shamrocks made of green gumdrops. Good-luck emblems—a dime for riches, a tiny airplane for adventure, a miniature key to happiness, wrapped in waxed paper—are tucked into the bottom of the cake after it is baked, so that one will be included in each piece cut.

Lucky Shamrock Cake

One package dry mince meat and 1-2 cup water boiled almost dry, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 2 eggs, 1-4 cup molasses, 2 1-2 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 cup water, 1-4 pound citron finely chopped.

Break mince meat into pieces. Add cold water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil. Continue boiling for three minutes or until mixture is practically dry. Allow to cool. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat vigorously until smooth and creamy. Add molasses. Sift flour once, measure, add soda and sift several times. Add alternately with water to first mixture. Fold in citron and cooled mince meat. Pour into a greased round loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour and 45 minutes. Cook before frosting.

Decorating the Ears

Life-saver jewelry, thick rings of gold or frosted silver, can be worn either as clips or earrings.

Stars, arrows and half moons are smart for the ears.

And if you want to be very, very chic, wear your clip earring (a small one, of course) on the top of your ear. That would mean, naturally, that you would have to be using one of the severe new hair dresses that reveals your entire ear.

Theatres

AT THE DELFT

"The Right To Live," a Warner Bros. picture which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Delft theatre beginning today, deals with a most daring and unusual theme in which a beautiful young woman is confronted by the problem of whether she has the right to live her own life, to love and be happy, or to remain with her hopelessly crippled husband.

In the picture the girl falls in love with her husband's brother, after the husband has been crippled by a terrific airplane crash, and is torn between her desire for love and the gaieties of life and her feeling of duty toward the man she married.

The story, based on the "Sacred Flame," by Somerset Maugham, author of "The Painted Veil" and "Of Human Bondage," is filled with intense emotional situations between the secret lovers and a startling dramatic climax in which the wife is accused of murdering her bedridden husband.

Susan Semer Concert Music Event of Season

The event of the season which has been particularly rich in its offerings to music lovers of Escanaba and neighboring communities and an event which has been eagerly awaited will take place Thursday evening, the concert in which Susan Semer, coloratura soprano, will be presented by the Escanaba Choral Union.

Mrs. Semer will be assisted by Phil Clark, Irish tenor, of radio and concert fame, and Esther Fernstrom, accomplished pianist, will be accompanist for both.

The concert program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

In view of the fact that reservations indicate that the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium will be filled to its capacity, it is urged by members of the Choral Union committee, that those planning to attend, be at the auditorium as early as possible.

The doors of the auditorium will be closed promptly at 8 o'clock at the beginning of the concert, as is customary, and no one will be seated after that time, until the intermission. Early arrival at the auditorium, which will give ushers ample time to seat everyone, will eliminate inconveniencing any of the patrons of the concert, it was pointed out.

Fine Linens Require Care In Laundering

The loveliest linens and damasks lose their lustre if you wash and iron them wrong. There is no excuse, either, for the heavy-handed kind of laundering that makes the family dinner table look like the last gasp of a remnant sale.

Careless handling and harsh soap solutions are mainly responsible for lack-luster linens. Strong alkali soaps and bleaching mixtures destroy the natural sheen of linen and the satin texture of damask.

Choose a pure mild soap and wash linens in heavy suds, squeezing the sudsy water through the fabric. Don't rub. Rubbing roughens the fine fiber and shortens the life of all linen. Linen naturally washes easily since it does not hold the dirt in the obstinate way that cotton does.

Absorbs Bluing Easily

Use little bluing in the last rinse water for linens. Linen absorbs bluing much more readily than do cotton fabrics. And be sure, too, that all linens are thoroughly rinsed before putting them in the bluing water.

Never starch linens—table, bed linen or towels. Linen's natural gloss and body do very well by themselves.

The final finished beauty of damask lies in the care with which it is ironed. It must be quite damp and ironing must be continued until the piece is perfectly dry, ironing on the wrong side first and then on the right, working from selvage to selvage. Don't have the iron too hot.

Embroidered and lace pieces should be ironed on the wrong side over a smooth thick pad. Do not use a rough surface such as a turkish towel because the roughness will be imprinted on the linen.

Napkins should be folded with the selvages together. This is especially important in the case of damask and large sized dinner napkins.

Much of the beauty of linen lies in its spotlessness. Consequently stains should be carefully removed before putting in the suds. Egg should be washed in cold water until it completely disappears.

For Other Stains

To remove coffee stains, stretch linen over bowl and pour boiling water through it. For tea stains, first pour on glycerine and then pour boiling water through the stain. Fruit stains are removed by stretching the linen over a bowl and pouring boiling water through the stain, letting the water fall from a distance of three feet.

Rust spots are easily removed by moistening the spot with lemon juice and covering with table salt. Let dry in the sun. Inferior bluing sometimes causes tiny brown spots that look like rust and these are removed by the lemon juice and salt treatment, although sometimes several trials are necessary.

Parish Night Gatherings Will Close This Week

The last of the series of "parish nights," that have been conducted in the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city will be held Thursday evening in the social rooms of the church.

The parish nights have been marked by an unusually large attendance which average 125 or more persons each Thursday evening.

The service Thursday evening will begin at 6:30 o'clock with a fellowship hour around the supper tables. Following will be a devotional service conducted by Rev. Ross W. Stoakes, pastor, which will close the evening's program promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

The committee serving the supper Thursday asked that all reservations be made by noon today with the parsonage, or with Mrs. James Ferguson or Miss Mabel Bowers. The committee is headed by Miss Bowers, who is being assisted by Mesdames Sullivan, B. B. Loveland, McMartin, Ness, Erickson, W. Christianson, Gustafson, R. P. Bowers and Matson.

Lecture By Rev. Father Drengacz Is Inspiring

One of the most inspiring lectures ever delivered before the Daughters of Isabella was given Monday evening at the regular meeting of Trinity Circle in St. Patrick's parish hall by Rev. Fr. Thomas C. Drengacz of St. Michael's church, Perronville.

The lecture, on the general subject, "Catholic Action," was intensely interesting and in addition was genuinely inspirational in nature. The speaker presented each sub-topic in a clear, concise fashion, and in a natural sequence that left his hearers with a complete impression of the entire lecture at its close.

The lecture program was arranged by the committee of the evening, Miss Belle Harvey and Miss Margaret Dwyer.

Prof. Nelson Will Lecture This Evening

Another lecture in the series which is being sponsored by the Escanaba Business & Professional Woman's club and the Cloverland Commercial college, will be presented this evening in the college auditorium by Professor J. Raleigh Nelson of the University of Michigan.

Professor Raleigh will present two critical reviews of outstanding novels of the day, "Anthony Adverse", by Hervey Allen, and "Kristin Lavrandsdatter," Sigrid Undset.

The lecture, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, is open to the general public, and all interested are cordially invited to be present.

The usual nominal admission fee will be asked.

Rehearsals Of St. Patrick Minstrel Now In Progress

Rehearsals are in progress for the St. Patrick Minstrel, a clever entertainment of song, dance and comedy which will be presented Monday evening, March 18, at St. Patrick's hall, in observance of St. Patrick's Day, which is March 17.

The minstrel is sponsored jointly by the parish and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. It will include a minstrel, a farce comedy, "Quack, Quack," and Irish songs and instrumental music.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets are now on sale.

The complete cast and the program of the minstrel will be announced later in the week.

Literary Critic Speaker at Club Meeting Today

A large attendance is expected at the meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club to be held at the Sherman Hotel this afternoon at which time the club members will have the privilege of Michigan give a critical review of "Anthony Adverse," the book which, perhaps, has been the subject of more intensive discussion than any book published during the recent years.

Professor Nelson comes highly recommended as a student of English capable of analyzing the unusual characterizations and the subtle introduction of symbols and motivations by the use of which the author, Hervey Allen, settles a colorful flotilla of historical events.

Since the average reader, untrained in literary criticism, will probably overlook some of the strokes of genius which Hervey Allen has emblazoned his prodigious novel, a careful and critical review of the book will undoubtedly assist him to develop a keen appreciation of this novel.

The music feature of the afternoon will be a group of solos by Mrs. Paul E. Treadwell, who will be accompanied by Ross Stoakes, jr.

Mrs. H. L. Holderman is chairman of the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. C. B. Farrell, Mrs. Carl Wickman and Mrs. George F. McEwen.

The meeting will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and club members are asked to be present at that hour.

Low Shoulder Line Favored For Afternoon

BY MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9320

The very low shoulder line is favored by Marian Martin in this afternoon frock, with gentle gathers and soft sleeves (three-quarter length puffed or short flared) to emphasize its picturesque quality. And the grand part of it is that it's an extremely easy frock to make. It's perfectly charming in a chartreuse and green print with a bit of gray in it—however, all of us don't wear those colors so well, so choose your own. A silk crepe printed or plain, or a dainty cotton will make up equally well. Three attractive colored buttons finish the yoke and the unusual belt.

Pattern 9320 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

IT'S JUST OUT! OUR SPRING PATTERN BOOK is a veritable Fashion Parade of smart styles to help you plan and make your spring wardrobe. Forty pages full of style news of interest to every woman . . . stunning designs for the house and for town wear! Among the special articles are descriptions of the spring fabrics and how to dress the small child. SEND FOR YOUR COPY NOW! PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS BUT IT COSTS ONLY TEN CENTS WHEN ORDERED WITH A PATTERN. PATTERN AND BOOK TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Send your order to The Daily Press Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Sermon Subject Of Much Interest

Keen interest is being shown by members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church is being shown in the subject which Rev. Ross W. Stoakes has chosen for Lenten season addresses, "Religious Experience."

The pastor laid a foundation for the series at last Sunday's services by asserting that experience should have three characteristics, namely, it should be felt, it should be known and thus have the mental respect of the person involved, and finally it should be the individual's very own.

"This is true no matter what the experience really is and it is peculiarly true in the realm of religion," the pastor said.

The second address of the series is to be given Sunday and it is urged that every family of the parish be represented with a full attendance.

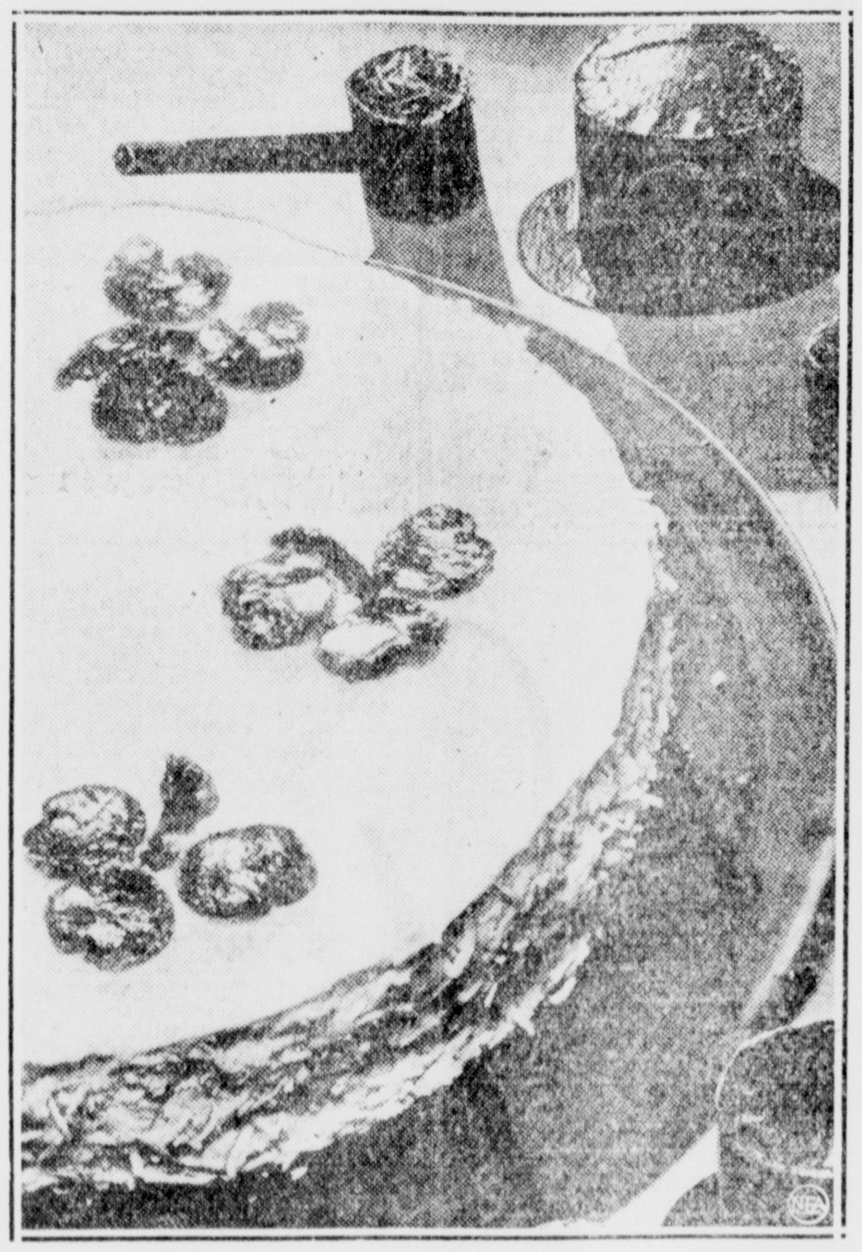
St. Patrick's Day Cake



Green gumdrop slices form the shamrocks that identify the St. Patrick's Day cake.

St. Patrick's is my favorite holiday, not so much because of the way I feel about Ireland as that a green color scheme is so easy to carry out for parties. Take the infinite variety of soups for instance — cream of spinach, cream of asparagus or any cream soup garnished with minced parsley. And for salads there is the entire fields of greens—lettuce, watercress, endive, romaine — with peppers, olives and chives for good measure.

And if you can't get hold of pistachio nuts for your dessert, blanched shredded almonds or shredded cocoanut with a few drops of green vegetable coloring will serve the same purpose.

Green and White Luncheon

Here's an all-green and white St. Patrick's Day luncheon that may be simplified to suit individual needs or used as is:

Fruit cocktail, halibut mousse with crabmeat sauce, spinach timbales, new potatoes, shamrock rolls, stuffed pepper salad, lucky shamrock cake, ice cream croquettes, coffee.

Filling for Peppers

Cream cheese is mixed with grated pineapple and chopped pistachio nuts as filling for the sweet green peppers. After thorough chilling cut in slices about an inch thick crosswise of the pepper. Serve on a bed of cress or shredded leaf lettuce.

Balls of ice cream are rolled in green shredded cocoanut to make the dessert. A firmly frozen parfait mixture such as almond or mint will be found most refreshing.

The lucky shamrock cake is covered with a green-tinted frosting and decorated with shamrocks made of green gumdrops. Good-luck emblems—a dime for riches, a tiny airplane for adventure, a miniature key to happiness, wrapped in waxed paper—are tucked into the bottom of the cake after it is baked, so that one will be included in each piece cut.

Lucky Shamrock Cake

One package dry mince meat and 1-2 cup water boiled almost dry, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 2 eggs, 1-4 cup molasses, 2 1-2 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 cup water, 1-4 pound citron finely chopped.

Break mince meat into pieces. Add cold water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil. Continue boiling for three minutes or until mixture is practically dry. Allow to cool. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat vigorously until smooth and creamy. Add molasses. Sift flour once, measure, add soda and sift several times. Add alternately with water to first mixture. Fold in citron and cooled mince meat. Pour into a greased round loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour and 45 minutes. Cook before frosting.

Decorating the Ears

Life-saver jewelry, thick rings of gold or frosted silver, can be worn either as clips or earrings. Stars, arrows and half moons are smart for the ears.

And if you want to be very, very chic, wear your clip earring (a small one, of course) on the top of your ear. That would mean, naturally, that you would have to be using one of the severe new hair dresses that reveals your entire ear.

Theatres

AT THE DELFT

"The Right To Live," a Warner Bros. picture which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Delft theatre beginning today, deals with a most daring and unusual theme in which a beautiful young woman is confronted by the problem of whether she has the right to live her own life, to love and be happy, or to remain with her hopelessly crippled husband.

In the picture the girl falls in love with her husband's brother, after the husband has been crippled by a terrific airplane crash, and is torn between her desire for love and the gaieties of life and her feeling of duty toward the man she married.

The story, based on the "Sacred Flame," by Somerset Maugham, author of "The Painted Veil" and "Of Human Bondage," is filled with intense emotional situations between the secret lovers and a startling dramatic climax in which the wife is accused of murdering her bedridden husband.

Lecture By Rev. Father Drengacz Is Inspiring

One of the most inspiring lectures ever delivered before the Daughters of Isabella was given Monday evening at the regular meeting of Trinity Circle in St. Patrick's parish hall by Rev. Fr. Thomas C. Drengacz of St. Michael's church, Perronville.

The lecture, on the general subject, "Catholic Action," was intensely interesting and in addition was genuinely inspirational in nature. The speaker presented each sub-topic in a clear, concise fashion, and in a natural sequence that left his hearers with a complete impression of the entire lecture at its close.

The lecture program was arranged by the committee of the evening, Miss Belle Harvey and Miss Margaret Dwyer.

Prof. Nelson Will Lecture This Evening

Another lecture in the series which is being sponsored by the Escanaba Business & Professional Woman's club and the Cloverland Commercial college, will be presented this evening in the college auditorium by Professor J. Raleigh Nelson of the University of Michigan.

Professor Raleigh will present two critical reviews of outstanding novels of the day, "Anthony Adverse", by Hervey Allen, and "Kristin Lavrandsdatter," Sigrid Undset.

The lecture, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, is open to the general public, and all interested are cordially invited to be present.

The usual nominal admission fee will be asked.

Rehearsals Of St. Patrick Minstrel Now In Progress

Rehearsals are in progress for the St. Patrick Minstrel, a clever entertainment of song, dance and comedy which will be presented Monday evening, March 18, at St. Patrick's hall, in observance of St. Patrick's Day, which is March 17.

The minstrel is sponsored jointly by the parish and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock. It will include a minstrel, a farce comedy, "Quack, Quack," and Irish songs and instrumental music.

The public is invited to attend. Tickets are now on sale.

The complete cast and the program of the minstrel will be announced later in the week.

MODEL HOME BEING BUILT

Committee Meeting Tonight to Discuss Housing Campaign

Final plans for Gladstone's model home and various phases of the local Better Housing campaign will be discussed this evening at a committee meeting to be held in the City Hall at 8 o'clock.

Gladstone's housing campaign was given a boost this week when work was started on the model home to be constructed here. Last week Nebel Brothers moved an unattractive little building from the east end of the city to a site on Central avenue where it will be remodeled and made over into a 1935 residence.

Plans for the new home call for the building of a 16x23 addition and when completed the building will have living room, bed room, kitchen, dinette, bathroom and furnace room. Outer walls are to be covered with a new asbestos shingle and the roof is to be of new design in either asphalt or asbestos. The interior is to be attractively finished and decorated.

Remodeling of the structure was started Monday and three carpenters and one cement contractor are engaged at the present time on the job.

Cost data on each room of the house will be kept so that persons may obtain a definite idea what a certain piece of work or remodeling would cost.

When completed the house will be disposed of at public sale after having been open to the public for inspection for a period of time.

A survey made here last winter revealed that there is a need for about $70,000 of home improvement in Gladstone. It is believed that if some of this work is undertaken immediately that more will follow.

THEATRES

"Babbitt," greatest of the Sinclair Lewis novels which brought to that distinguished author the honor of being the first American to win the Nobel prize in literature, is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Rialto Theatre beginning today.

Transferred to the screen with all its subtle humor, its philosophy, its dramatic situations and its irony, and given a remarkable cast headed by Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee, the film version of "Babbitt" is expected to rival in popularity the book on which it is based.

Second Feature

If George Brent had never learned to play polo he wouldn't have broken his nose.

But the broken nose was worth it, for his skill at polo placed him in the most important role of his career . . . as Greta Gargo's lover in the picture "The Painted Veil," to be seen today as a second feature at the Rialto Theatre.

Rev. Olsson will resume his duties this week.

Undersea Volcano Reported By Ship

Hongkong (AP)—A spectacle seldom witnessed by man—the eruption of a subterranean volcano—was reported seen by the officers and crew of the French steamship Kumsang, while traveling between Indo-China and this port.

"It was a terrifying sight," J. Fant, the chief officer, said. "The whole of the sea between the Japanese islands of Takeshima and Iosima seemed to be a mass of boiling water. The ocean belched huge clouds of black smoke which seemed to reach for miles into the sky. Three water-spouts, each about 100 feet high, formed while we watched.

"Fortunately, we were several miles off when the eruption broke. Any ship caught in that boiling sea would have been doomed."

Fant said that pieces of pumice-stone evidently hurled forth by the submarine volcano, were found in the water 12 miles from the scene of the eruption.

John Jimo Given 90-Day Sentence In County Jail

John Jimo was given a ninety day jail term when he pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses before Justice W. G. Stephens on Tuesday morning. The sentence was the maximum for the offense with which the man was charged.

Jimo was charged with obtaining something over twenty-five dollars worth of groceries through false pretenses from Otmer Schuster. The date of the offense was given as January 4 and although Jimo signed a note at that time he had not made settlement.

The severity of the sentence in the case of Jimo is in a large measure due to his record. In July 1933 Jimo was arrested on a charge of larceny from a dwelling house. At the same time his daughter admitted taking money from local homes and giving the money to her father.

Rev. Grosa Tells Missionary Story To Child Group

Rev. Joseph Grosa, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the guest story teller of the story hour session on Saturday morning in the new gym. He told well over 200 children a thrilling tale of a missionary's service among the cannibals of a South Sea island.

Mrs. Shipman, the story lady, read a new installment of the book "Little Pear and His Friends" and told the children the story, "The King of the Golden River," adapted from the tale of the same name by Ruskin.

Sixteen boys were selected from among those present to take part in the program of the story hour to be held next Saturday morning.

PERKINS

Perkins, Mich.—Mrs. Dick Cartwright of Escanaba spent the latter part of the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kinnart.

Mrs. Ray Norden returned Monday from Rapid River where she spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Young.

Ellen Gaudette underwent an operation for relief from appendicitis Friday morning at St. Francis hospital. She is recovering nicely from the operation.

Walter Kinnart was painfully burned on both hands Thursday evening when he tried to extinguish a flaming gas lamp at the Ed Dausey home. In attempting to carry the lamp outside to prevent the house from burning, his hands were badly burned but are healing favorably now.

Mrs. Edith Harrison of Escanaba spent the week-end at the Peter Nelson home.

Roger Norden, who has been a patient at St. Francis hospital for a week was removed to his home here Friday afternoon. His leg is in a cast and is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miljour are the parents of a son, born Monday, Mar. 11 at the family residence. This is the twelfth child in the family.

Gust Johnson returned Sunday from St. Francis hospital, where he has been a patient for the past two weeks. His foot, which was badly frozen is pretty well healed and he expects to be around again in a very short time.

Misses Ruth Snyder and Thora Nelson returned from Escanaba Sunday where they spent the past week. They resumed their duties at the Central school here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ojala of Marquette motored here Sunday in company with Miss Saima Ojala who spent the past week with her mother in Marquette.

Miss Marie Casimir returned Tuesday from Munising where she has been employed for the past year. She will remain here indefinitely.

Mrs. Dan Legault of Rock spent the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford LeClaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lancour are the parents of a daughter born Saturday, Mar. 9 at St. Francis hospital. Mother and babe are both well.

Mrs. John Davis, Hesperia, Mich., took up stone work as a hobby several years ago and now her spacious yard is adorned with many examples of her art. Mrs. Davis obtains her stones in a nearby gravel pit and carefully sorts them as to color, size and composition.

Placement on the honor roll demands almost perfect scholastic record; Miss Bolitho is one of 17 freshman on the roll.

SHORTAGE TO BOOST PRICES

Forage and Grain Crop Seed Supply Short This Year

Farmers planning to purchase seed this spring are advised to make early arrangements for the purchase of seed, says Lee Stewart, county agricultural agent. The production of red and alsike clover seed this year is the smallest on record and that of sweet-clover is the lightest since that crop came into prominence. Production of alfalfa seed is below average. Because of these short crops and unusually small carry-over, supplies of these seeds are the smallest in many years. Except for alfalfa seed, they fall far short of meeting normal planting requirements.

Timothy is also a short crop, as well as both oats and barley. Prices may be expected to be high. Production of red clover seed this year is estimated at 36,000,000 pounds as compared to a five-year average production of 69,800,000 pounds. The production of alsike clover is estimated at 13,000,000 pounds as compared with the five-year average of 28,100,000; sweet clover is 30,000,000 pounds as compared to 60,600,000 pounds for the five-year average; alfalfa seed production is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds as compared with 52,200,000 pounds for the five-year average.

One of the ways in which seed may be saved is by making better preparation of the seed bed. A firm seed bed is necessary for good germination. Another thing is being absolutely sure of the purity and germination of the seed to be used. This is highly important this year because of the fact that no doubt all stock of carry-over seeds will have to be sold in order to supply the demand. Farmers who have either barley or oats, which may be sold as seed, should run it through the fan mill and send a sample of it to the state department of agriculture for testing. A fee of 50 cents per sample is charged for this work.

Rock Spartans To Play Browns Here Tonight At Gym

The Rock Spartans will tangle with the Browns and the local Juniors will play an aggregation of Rock high school players in a special event at the new gym this evening. The first game will be at 8 o'clock and the Spartan-Browns game will start at 9 o'clock. Pete Berger and Leonard Multhaupt will officiate.

The games are being staged for the benefit of the school milk fund. The money in the fund is insufficient, at present, to continue the work of providing milk beyond the present month.

Camp Manistique And Barkers Win Final Cage Tilts

The Collegians and Camp Manistique took a pair of sweet lacings at the hands of Camp Steuben and the Barkers on Monday evening to end the regular schedule of the Manistique city basketball league. Camp Steuben won from the Collegians by a score of 49 to 27 and Barkers beat Camp Manistique 49 to 34.

Williams was the individual star of the Barker-Camp Manistique tilt, looping in 11 field goals. In the Camp Steuben-Collegians runaway Tenniswood dropped in 11 from the field and three from the free throw line for the best scoring individual showing of the evening. Berger was referee.

Committee Meeting Tonight to Discuss Housing Campaign

Final plans for Gladstone's model home and various phases of the local Better Housing campaign will be discussed this evening at a committee meeting to be held in the City Hall at 8 o'clock.

Gladstone's housing campaign was given a boost this week when work was started on the model home to be constructed here. Last week Nebel Brothers moved an unattractive little building from the east end of the city to a site on Central avenue where it will be remodeled and made over into a 1935 residence.

Plans for the new home call for the building of a 16x23 addition and when completed the building will have living room, bed room, kitchen, dinette, bathroom and furnace room. Outer walls are to be covered with a new asbestos shingle and the roof is to be of new design in either asphalt or asbestos. The interior is to be attractively finished and decorated.

Remodeling of the structure was started Monday and three carpenters and one cement contractor are engaged at the present time on the job.

Cost data on each room of the house will be kept so that persons may obtain a definite idea what a certain piece of work or remodeling would cost.

When completed the house will be disposed of at public sale after having been open to the public for inspection for a period of time.

A survey made here last winter revealed that there is a need for about $70,000 of home improvement in Gladstone. It is believed that if some of this work is undertaken immediately that more will follow.

Undersea Volcano Reported By Ship

Hongkong (AP)—A spectacle seldom witnessed by man—the eruption of a subterranean volcano—was reported seen by the officers and crew of the French steamship Kumsang, while traveling between Indo-China and this port.

"It was a terrifying sight," J. Fant, the chief officer, said. "The whole of the sea between the Japanese isalands of Takesima and Iosima seemed to be a mass of boiling water. The ocean belched huge clouds of black smoke which seemed to reach for miles into the sky. Three water-spouts, each about 100 feet high, formed while we watched.

"Fortunately, we were several miles off when the eruption broke. Any ship caught in that boiling sea would have been doomed.

Fant said that pieces of pumicestone evidently hurled forth by the submarine volcano, were found in the water 12 miles from the scene of the eruption.

NEXT!

"How did you get on with Jeanette?" asked Tom.

The ardent lover sighed. "I started off well," he replied. "I said I was knee deep in love with her."

"Sounds good," said Tom. "What was her reaction to that?"

The young suitor grimaced. "She promised to put me on her wading list," he replied.

LOOKING AHEAD

Boss: "I'm surprised at you! Do you know what they do with boys who tell lies?"

Office Boy: "Yes, sir. When they get old enough the firm sends them out as salesmen."

John Jimo Given 90-Day Sentence In County Jail

John Jimo was given a ninety day jail term when he pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses before Justice W. G. Stephens on Tuesday morning. The sentence was the maximum for the offense with which the man was charged.

Jimo was charged with obtaining something over twenty-five dollars worth of groceries through false pretenses from Otmer Schuster. The date of the offense was given as January 4 and although Jimo signed a note at that time he had not made settlement.

The severity of the sentence in the case of Jimo is in a large measure due to his record. In July 1933 Jimo was arrested on a charge of larceny from a dwelling house. At the same time his daughter admitted taking money from local homes and giving the money to her father.

Rev. Grosa Tells Missionary Story To Child Group

Rev. Joseph Grosa, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the guest story teller of the story hour session on Saturday morning in the new gym. He told well over 200 children a thrilling tale of a missionary's service among the cannibals of a South Sea island.

Mrs. Shipman, the story lady, read a new installment of the book "Little Pear and His Friends" and told the children the story, "The King of the Golden River," adapted from the tale of the same name by Ruskin.

Sixteen boys were selected from among those present to take part in the program of the story hour to be held next Saturday morning.

PERKINS

Perkins, Mich.—Mrs. Dick Cartwright of Escanaba spent the latter part of the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kinnart.

Mrs. Ray Norden returned Monday from Rapid River where she spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Young.

Ellen Gaudette underwent an operation for relief from appendicitis Friday morning at St. Francis hospital. She is recovering nicely from the operation.

Walter Kinnart was painfully burned on both hands Thursday evening when he tried to extinguish a flaming gas lamp at the Ed Dausey home. In attempting to carry the lamp outside to prevent the house from burning, his hands were badly burned but are healing favorably now.

Mrs. Edith Harrison of Escanaba spent the week-end at the Peter Nelson home.

Roger Norden, who has been a patient at St. Francis hospital for a week was removed to his home here Friday afternoon. His leg is in a cast and is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miljour are the parents of a son, born Monday, Mar. 11 at the family residence. This is the twelfth child in the family.

Gust Johnson returned Sunday from St. Francis hospital, where he has been a patient for the past two weeks. His foot, which was badly frozen is pretty well healed and he expects to be around again in a very short time.

Misses Ruth Snyder and Thora Nelson returned from Escanaba Sunday where they spent the past week. They resumed their duties at the Central school here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ojala of Marquette motored here Sunday in company with Miss Saima Ojala who spent the past week with her mother in Marquette.

Miss Marie Casimir returned Tuesday from Munising where she has been employed for the past year. She will remain here indefinitely.

Mrs. Dan Legault of Rock spent the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford LeClaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lancour are the parents of a daughter born Saturday, Mar. 9 at St. Francis hospital. Mother and babe are both well.

Mrs. John Davis, Hesperia, Mich., took up stone work as a hobby several years ago and now her spacious yard is adorned with many examples of her art. Mrs. Davis obtains her stones in a nearby gravel pit and carefully sorts them as to color, size and composition.

High Honors Won By Louise Bolitho

Miss Louise Bolitho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bolitho, 440 Arbutus avenue, has been honored for her scholastic achievements at Rockford college. At the recent Charter Day services celebrating the eighty-eighth anniversary of the founding of the college, Miss Bolitho's name was read on the freshman honor roll.

Placement on the honor roll demands almost perfect scholastic record; Miss Bolitho is one of 17 freshman on the roll.

Forage and Grain Crop Seed Supply Short This Year

Farmers planning to purchase seed this spring are advised to make early arrangements for the purchase of seed, says Lee Stewart, county agricultural agent. The production of red and alsike clover seed this year is the smallest on record and that of sweet-clover is the lightest since that crop came into prominence. Production of alfalfa seed is below average. Because of these short crops and unusually small carry-over, supplies of these seeds are the smallest in many years. Except for alfalfa seed, they fall far short of meeting normal planting requirements.

Timothy is also a short crop, as well as both oats and barley. Prices may be expected to be high. Production of red clover seed this year is estimated at 36,000,000 pounds as compared to a five-year average production of 69,800,000 pounds. The production of alsike clover is estimated at 13,000,000 pounds as compared with the five-year average of 28,100,000; sweet clover is 30,000,000 pounds as compared to 60,600,000 pounds for the five-year average; alfalfa seed production is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds as compared with 52,200,000 pounds for the five-year average.

One of the ways in which seed may be saved is by making better preparation of the seed bed. A firm seed bed is necessary for good germination. Another thing is being absolutely sure of the purity and germination of the seed to be used. This is highly important this year because of the fact that no doubt all stock of carry-over seeds will have to be sold in order to supply the demand. Farmers who have either barley or oats, which may be sold as seed, should run it through the fan mill and send a sample of it to the state department of agriculture for testing. A fee of 50 cents per sample is charged for this work.

Rock Spartans To Play Browns Here Tonight At Gym

The Rock Spartans will tangle with the Browns and the local Juniors will play an aggregation of Rock high school players in a special event at the new gym this evening. The first game will be at 8 o'clock and the Spartan-Browns game will start at 9 o'clock. Pete Berger and Leonard Multhaupt will officiate.

The games are being staged for the benefit of the school milk fund. The money in the fund is insufficient, at present, to continue the work of providing milk beyond the present month.

Camp Manistique And Barkers Win Final Cage Tilts

The Collegians and Camp Manistique took a pair of sweet lacings at the hands of Camp Steuben and the Barkers on Monday evening to end the regular schedule of the Manistique city basketball league. Camp Steuben won from the Collegians by a score of 49 to 27 and Barkers beat Camp Manistique 49 to 34.

Williams was the individual star of the Barker-Camp Manistique tilt, looping in 11 field goals. In the Camp Steuben-Collegians runaway Tenniswood dropped in 11 from the field and three from the free throw line for the best scoring individual showing of the evening. Berger was referee.

BY FRANK MAC MILLEN
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—Security markets still appeared shaken today. Further wide swings in cotton before it steadied, and a resumption of weakness in the pound sterling were unsettling.

Stocks were able to hold a fairly even keel throughout most of the day, but late pressure found takers scarce and leading issues declined fractions to around 2 points or so, with a few metals and specialties losing 4 to 5.

Volume was moderately accelerated, passing the million share mark at 1,046,280, for the first time in a week. The substantial offerings in late dealings pushed the Associated Press average for 60 stocks off .5 of a point to a new low for 1935 of 35.2. The average is now only .3 of a point above the 1934 low of 34.9.

Washington provided the chief news of the day as the president sent to congress his message on utility holding companies. His attitude toward these power giants was not on the whole as uncompromising as had been anticipated. He conceded that "a chance of survival" should be granted to holding units performing an economically useful function, while thoroughly condemning this corporate device purely as a means of financial control.

Utility stocks on the average were considered more resistant to general market weakness than were the industrial issues. Most of the leading holding companies held their declines to fractions, including Public Service of New Jersey at 20½, Consolidated Gas at 16¼ and North American at 9 5-8. Brokerage circles said the group gave every indication of being thoroughly sold out.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Mar. 12—Fluctuating erratically with each shift in nervous sentiment, grain prices backed and filled over a narrow range today while traders watched numerous signposts for a hint as to which direction to take. The result was that the market groped about in an indecisive fashion.

Wide movements of cotton prices unsettled the grain trade. There was much concern as to the action of cotton and securities. Bearish sentiment, which seemed to rule most of the session, was supported by reports of heavy rains in the Ohio valley and moderate precipitation as far west as the Panhandle district.

Trading ended with wheat ½ cent lower to 3-8 higher than the previous close, May 93¾ to 93⅞, while corn was 1⅛ down to ½ up, May 79 1-8 to 79¼. Oats lost 1-8 to 3-8, rye 5-8 to 1½, and barley was unchanged to 2 cents off.

Corn and oats for the most part followed the course of wheat. Provisions had an easier undertone in sympathy with hogs and cottonseed oil.

BY G. A. PHILLIPS
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—The listed bond market tried hard to resist the downward trend in other securities and in the commodities exchanges today but the effort was too much and closing prices were 1 to 2 or more points net lower in some divisions.

Following the message of President Roosevelt to congress on holding companies, utilities securities declined. Other divisions of the market, including U. S. governments, were drawn into the downward current.

The Associated Press averages of 20 rails dipped to another 1935 low at 78.9, off .8 of a point on balance, and the averages for 10 utilities and 10 industrials declined .7 and .6 of a point, respectively, to 87.2 and 93.4. The average of 10 low-yield bonds declined .2 of a point to 109.5.

Among the heaviest losers in utilities were American & Foreign Power 5s, off 2 points at 53; American Water Works 5s, off 3 at 85, Columbia Gas 5s, off 1 at 75, and Detroit Edison 4½s, off 1¼ at 110¾.

Baltimore & Ohio 6s were 2 points off at 68, Delaware & Hudson 4s dipped 2½ to 76½, and Great Northern 5½s yielded 2¼ at 65.

The government list sailed along on a fairly even keel for a while, but "air pockets" were uncovered in some of the treasury issues when more bonds were offered at one time than there were open bids to absorb, and a generally easy tone soon embraced the entire section. The losses were generally from 3-32nds to 5-32nds at the close.

Transfers aggregated $14,692,000, par value, compared with $18,690,000 the day before.

GARLIC IS BENEFICIAL
Did you know that garlic has been found to contain generous quantities of vitamins B and C and traces of vitamin A, some iodine and rich supplies of calcium, potassium and phosphorous acid? Doctors have also found that it promotes sleep and is important in lowering blood pressure. For this reason it has graduated from the seasoning class into a valuable medicinal aid and is being processed scientifically.

as it always did when she thought of Steve. The wound was fresh yet, open. Even now there were times when she caught herself thinking, "I must tell Steve this," or "I'd better ask Steve"—only to feel anew the stab of her loss.

Gale thought of what Josie had said about Steve that noon. Josie in the cafeteria, had relayed exciting news. She had it, she explained, direct from her friend in the business office. Josie had sworn solemnly to keep the secret but—well, of course Gale wouldn't tell.

Josie's eyes grew round as she made her revelations. "There's a man here," she said, "from Washington. From the government! He's going through all the files and making reports. Yes, of course Thatcher knows about it, but there isn't anything he can do. It's the government that sent the man here.

"And do you know what? I bet it was because of Steve that this happened. I bet the men who run the government in Washington read how Steve got killed and decided they'd better find out what's going on here. There's laws, you know, against the things Thatcher's been doin'. Oh, boy, do I hope they get the goods on him. Put him behind bars—that's what they oughta do with him!

"If they do—and if they give us workers a square deal—it'll be Steve Meyers who's responsible. Anyhow that's what I think. I guess that'd make Steve some hero, wouldn't it?"

Gale had heard others say Steve had died a hero's death. Well, it was true. Steve had died fighting bravely, defending what he believed was the right.

But Steve was more than a hero to Gale. He was her friend—the finest friend she had ever known.

No one would ever take Steve's place.

* * *

Gale, deep in her thoughts, did not hear the friendly voice calling until her name rang in the air a second time. Then she turned.

Mrs. O'Connor was walking rapidly, not a dozen yards behind. Her round figure was buttoned into a coat so tight that the closing gaped. The green feather bobbing at the rear of her black hat looked rather like the tail of a kite. But the face beneath the hat radiated kindliness and Mrs. O'Connor's voice was one of cheery good will.

Gale waited as the older woman came up, puffing. "I've just heard the news," Mrs. O'Connor said. 'Charlie Hoskins told me at the grocery store—I mean about Phil comin' home tomorrow. My, but I'll bet you're happy! Does your father know? I'm that glad for all of you—!"

"I am happy," Gale admitted. "Here—let me take some of those packages. No, Father hasn't heard about it yet. I'm on my way to tell him now."

"It'll be better than any medicine," Mrs. O'Connor phophesied. "How's he been feelin' lately?"

"Not any too well. So many things have been happening—"

"Yes," Mrs. O'Connor sighed sympathetically. "Ain't it been awful? Troubles never come single, they do say—and it's the truth. Well, I hope we've seen the last for a while."

"I hope so."

They were on the main street of the mill village. Ahead, perilously rounding a corner, a green automobile appeared. It was a roadster, driven by a girl in brown.

Mrs. O'Connor said, "Vicky Thatcher—and drivin' like mad! Wouldn't you think her father—my land, that's him with her!"

The green car disappeared and turned into the state highway. It picked up speed. Instead of discouraging his daughter's driving, Robert Thatcher said, "Step on it, can't you? We've got to make that plane."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved daughter and sister. We are very grateful to Rev. Wm. Lutz for his consoling words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who furnished their cars, sent floral offerings and all those who in any way helped us to bear our sorrow. These acts of kindness can never be forgotten.
MR. AND MRS. HENRY MEUNIER AND FAMILY.

RIGHT!
"What's that I smell?" inquired the lady from the city as she sniffed the country air.
"That fertilizer," answered the farmer.
"For the land's sake!" exclaimed the lady.
"Yes, ma'am," assented the fermer.

BY FRANK MAC MILLEN
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—Security markets still appeared shaken today. Further wide swings in cotton before it steadied, and a resumption of weakness in the pound sterling were unsettling.

Stocks were able to hold a fairly even keel throughout most of the day, but late pressure found takers scarce and leading issues declined fractions to around 2 points or so, with a few metals and specialties losing 4 to 5.

Volume was moderately accelerated, passing the million share mark at 1,046,280, for the first time in a week. The substantial offerings in late dealings pushed the Associated Press average for 60 stocks off .5 of a point to a new low for 1935 of 35.2. The average is now only .3 of a point above the 1934 low of 34.9.

Washington provided the chief news of the day as the president sent to congress his message on utility holding companies. His attitude toward these power giants was not on the whole as uncompromising as had been anticipated. He conceded that "a chance of survival" should be granted to holding units performing an economically useful function, while thoroughly condemning this corporate device purely as a means of financial control.

Utility stocks on the average were considerably more resistant to general market weakness than were the industrial issues. Most of the leading holding companies held their declines to fractions, including Public Service of New Jersey at 20½, Consolidated Gas at 16¼ and North American at 9 5-8. Brokerage circles said the group gave every indication of being thoroughly sold out.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO LARD

Chicago, Mar. 12—Cash lard, 13.30.

CHICAGO BUTTER

Chicago, Mar. 12—The butter market today was easy.

Centralized carlots: 90 score, 30; 89, 29½.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, Mar. 12—Potatoes 85, on track 353, total U. S. shipments 768; old stock, steady, supplies liberal, trading slow; Wisconsin round whites, U. S. No. 1, .70 to .75; Idaho russets, U. S. No. 1, 1.45 to 1.52½, large size, 1.60 to 1.65, U. S. commercial, 1.32½, U. S. No. 2, 1.25; new stock, firm, supplies moderate, trading light; Florida bushel crates, bliss triumphs, U. S. No. 1, washed, few sales, 1.85.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Mar. 12—Fluctuating erratically with each shift in nervous sentiment, grain prices backed and filled over a narrow range today while traders watched numerous signposts for a hint as to which direction to take. The result was that the market groped about in an indecisive fashion.

Wide movements of cotton prices unsettled the grain trade. There was much concern as to the action of cotton and securities. Bearish sentiment, which seemed to rule most of the session, was supported by reports of heavy rains in the Ohio valley and moderate precipitation as far west as the Panhandle district.

Trading ended with wheat ⅛ cent lower to 3-8 higher than the previous close, May 93⅛ to 93½, while corn was 1¼ down to ½ up, May 79 1-8 to 79¼. Oats lost 1-8 to 3-8, rye 5-8 to 1⅛, and barley was unchanged to 2 cents off.

Corn and oats for the most part followed the cation of wheat. Provisions had an easier undertone in sympathy with hogs and cottonseed oil.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—The listed bond market tried hard to resist the downward trend in other securities and in the commodities exchanges today but the effort was too much and closing prices were 1 to 2 or more points net lower in some divisions.

Following the message of President Roosevelt to congress on holding companies, utilities securities declined. Other divisions of the market, including U. S. governments, were drawn into the downward current.

The Associated Press averages of 20 rails dipped to another 1935 low at 78.9, off .8 of a point on balance, and the averages for 10 utilities and 10 industrials declined .7 and .6 of a point, respectively, to 87.2 and 93.4. The average of 10 low-yield bonds declined .2 of a point to 109.5.

Among the heaviest losers in utilities were American & Foreign Power 5s, off 2 points at 53; American Water Works 5s, off 3 at 85, Columbia Gas 5s, off 1 at 75, and Detroit Edison 4½s, off 1¼ at 110¼.

Baltimore & Ohio 6s were 2 points off at 68, Delaware & Hudson 4s dipped 2½ to 76½, and Great Northern 5½s yielded 2¼ at 65.

The government list sailed along on a fairly even keel for a while, but "air pockets" were uncovered in some of the treasury issues when more bonds were offered at one time than there were open bids to absorb, and a generally easy tone soon embraced the entire section. The losses were generally from 3-32nds to 5-32nds at the close.

Transfers aggregated $14,692,000, par value, compared with $18,690,000 the day before.

GARLIC IS BENEFICIAL

Did you know that garlic has been found to contain generous quantities of vitamins B and C and traces of vitamin A, some iodine and rich supplies of calcium, potassium and phosphorous acid? Doctors have also found that it promotes sleep and is important in lowering blood pressure. For this reason it has graduated from the seasoning class into a valuable medicinal aid and is being processed scientifically.

as it always did when she thought of Steve. The wound was fresh yet, open. Even now there were times when she caught herself thinking, "I must tell Steve this," or "I'd better ask Steve"—only to feel anew the stab of her loss.

Gale thought of what Josie had said about Steve that noon. Josie in the cafeteria, had relayed exciting news. She had it, she explained, direct from her friend in the business office. Josie had sworn solemnly to keep the secret but—well, of course Gale wouldn't tell.

Josie's eyes grew round as she made her revelations. "There's a man here," she said, "from Washington. From the government! He's going through all the files and making reports. Yes, of course Thatcher knows about it, but there isn't anything he can do. It's the government that sent the man here.

"And do you know what? I bet it was because of Steve that this happened. I bet the men who run the government in Washington read how Steve got killed and decided they'd better find out what's going on here. There's laws, you know, against the things Thatcher's been doin'. Oh, boy, do I hope they get the goods on him. Put him behind bars—that's what they oughta do with him!

"If they do—and if they give us workers a square deal—it'll be Steve Meyers who's responsible. Anyhow that's what I think. I guess that'd make Steve some hero, wouldn't it?"

Gale had heard others say Steve had died a hero's death. Well, it was true. Steve had died fighting bravely, defending what he believed was the right.

But Steve was more than a hero to Gale. He was her friend—the finest friend she had ever known. No one would ever take Steve's place.

* * *

Gale, deep in her thoughts, did not hear the friendly voice calling until her name rang in the air a second time. Then she turned.

Mrs. O'Connor was walking rapidly, not a dozen yards behind. Her round figure was buttoned into a coat so tight that the closing gaped. The green feather bobbing at the rear of her black hat looked rather like the tail of a kite. But the face beneath the hat radiated kindliness and Mrs. O'Connor's voice was one of cheery good will.

Gale waited as the older woman came up, puffing. "I've just heard the news," Mrs. O'Connor said. 'Charlie Hoskins told me at the grocery store—I mean about Phil comin' home tomorrow. My, but I'll bet you're happy! Does your father know? I'm that glad for all of you—!"

"I am happy," Gale admitted. "Here—let me take some of those packages. No, Father hasn't heard about it yet. I'm on my way to tell him now."

"It'll be better than any medicine," Mrs. O'Connor phophesied. "How's he been feelin' lately?"

"Not any too well. So many things have been happening—"

"Yes," Mrs. O'Connor sighed sympathetically. "Ain't it been awful? Troubles never come single, they do say—and it's the truth. Well, I hope we've seen the last for a while."

"I hope so."

They were on the main street of the mill village. Ahead, perilously rounding a corner, a green automobile appeared. It was a roadster, driven by a girl in brown.

Mrs. O'Connor said, "Vicky Thatcher—and drivin' like mad! Wouldn't you think her father—my land, that's him with her!"

The green car disappeared and turned into the state highway. It picked up speed. Instead of discouraging his daughter's driving, Robert Thatcher said, "Step on it, can't you? We've got to make that plane."

Connie Mack Sees A's as Contenders for Flag

AVERAGE AGE IS ONLY 25 YEARS

Jimmy Foxx Behind Plate Will Be Valuable to Young Pitchers

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12—There is a gleam in the pale blue eyes of 72-year-old Connie Mack as he prepares the Philadelphia Athletics for their 35th season in the American League.

You do not suspect that Mack has something up his sleeve. You only have to look out over Terry Field to know that he has.

The current crop of Athletics brings happy memories to Mack of a team that reported to him a quarter century ago—Plank, Bender, and Coombs; Ira Thomas; McInnis, Collins, Barry, and Baker; and Oldring, Strunk, and Danny Murphy.

The squad that has buckled down to work here also reminds Mack of the band he assembled in 1925, which went on to the first of three pennants and two world championships four years later—Grove, Earnshaw, and Walberg,; Cochrane; Jimmy Foxx, Bishop, and Dykes; Simmons, and Haas.

The current Athletics may not attain the heights of the two great arrays that preceded them before they are torn apart, but there is talent galore in the 29 athletes going through the paces here.

And what pleases Mack most is the fact that the average age of the band is only 25 years.

"With Jimmy Foxx catching and handling the young pitchers, the Athletics have a chance to win the pennant in a wide-open race," smiles Mack.

Pitching Prospects Rosy

Mack is banking on the backstopping of Foxx and the natural improvement of his young pitchers to sweep the outfit from fifth place, where it finished n 1934, to a contending position.

He has a half dozen exceptional pitching prospects in Johnny Marcum, Bill Dietrich, Alton Benton, Charley Lieber, George Caster, and Vernon Wilshere, a southpaw.

Marcum copped 14 games and lost 11 in 1934. The bespectacled Dietrich won 11 and dropped 12. Both won most of their victories during the last half of the campaign.

During the closing weeks, Dietrich trimmed the flag-gathering Detroit Tigers, 1-0, before an overflow Sunday crowd at Navin Feld with an ordinary fly going for a two-base hit. Mack called it one of the finest pitching performances for a youngster on the road that he ever witnessed.

Lieber, who slings a deceptive sinker, was drafted from the San Francisco Missions, for whom he grabbed 19 decisions while losing 13 games.

Caster, purchased from the Portland Coasters, won three games and lost two, after reporting in September. This former University of Southern California all-around star is the most symmetrically built of all the sterling athletes attacking victuals at the Bedford hotel here.

Caster is a pitcher without a windup. He throws the ball with a single sidearm motion. It is a sort of legal quick pitch. He has remarkable control.

Sugar Cain is a right-hander of established worth, and LeRoy Mahaffey has been around long enough to know how to pitch. Little Joe Cascarella, the crooner, met with some success in 1934.

Sammy Foxx, 17, and Bill Bennett, 18, southpaws, will be sent out. So will Edgar Smith, a semi-professional of Columbus, N. J.

Charley Berry is back to warm up pitchers and to be available in the event Jimmy Foxx is hurt. Bill Conroy and Charley Moss are youngsters who require seasoning.

Infield Has Young Talent

Alex Hooks, a fancy fielding left-hander, tackles the robust assignment of filling the large brogans of the famous Foxx at first base. This former all-round luminary of Southern Methodist university hit .340 in the Texas League last season.

Dib Williams is to start at second, with Rabbit Warstler and Charley English ready to relieve him in the event that his throwing does not improve.

English hit .326 and was voted the most valuable player in the Texas League.

Lamar Newsome, who comes from Tulsa with Hooks and a .286 batting average, is butting his head against a stone wall in trying to take Eric McNair's job at shortstop.

Bob Fausett, who helped Galveston win the Texas League gonfalon with a left-handed batting average of .282, faces the same kind of competition in Frank Higgins at third base.

Outfielder Lou Finney will step in at first base if Hooks falls down.

Bob Johnson, working with a good behavior clause in his contract, Ed Coleman, and Roger Cramer form an outfield that is quite good enough, and Wallace Moses, Jr., a left-hand hitter who swatted .316 for Galveston, is on hand to help out.

A strip from a man's neck was used by a plastic surgeon to repair his throat .The operation was successful until that strip grew a beard and prevented the patient from swallowing, according to a British medical journal.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

A SLUGGER

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Vernon (George) Washington, heir apparent to left field in the Chicago White Sox lineup, featured today's drill with an impressive sample of his slugging prowess.

Washington belted all kinds of hurling to all fields. Al Simmons also had a good day.

DIZZY PITCHES

Brandenton, Fla. (AP)—The 1935 debut of Jerome Herman Dean, ace flinger of the St. Louis Cardinals, was none too auspicious today but the world champions came through with a victory in their first exhibition season game, defeating the Phillies, 9 to 6.

Dean hurled the first three innings and was touched for three runs, all in the third when he walked two men.

DRESSEN INJURED

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Cincinnati Reds became a training camp casualty today.

A bat, slipping from the hands of Harlan Pool in batting practice, whacked Dressen across the head. Doctors said he apparently suffered no fracture, but planned an X-ray to make sure.

WANTS TO REPORT

Biloxi, Miss. (AP)—Pitcher Walter Stewart, Washington's sole remaining holdout, today made overtures to Owner Clark Griffith. Griffith said Stewart called him from Crossville, Tenn., and asked permission to report for training.

TOO MUCH WIND

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—The whole Yankee squad resembled the "murderers row" of a few years ago in batting practice today when a strong wind blew across the field to turn base hits into triples. The fielders suffered accordingly, however, and Manager Joe McCarthy finally cut the drill short because of the bad playing conditions.

HALF HOLIDAY

Orlando, Fla. (AP)—Casey Stengel gave his Brooklyn Dodger varsity a half holiday today while the scrubs and the freshmen put on a game that ended in a 3-3 tie. In the afternoon the regulars took the field for a routine drill and an extra-strenuous session in the sliding pit.

SUHR REPORTS

San Bernardino, Cal. (AP)—Captain Gus Suhr, the Pittsburgh Pirates' one and only holdout, returned to the fold today and is ready to take over the first base chores.

He put in a surprise appearance at the training camp this morning, announcing "I couldn't stay away," went into a huddle with William Benswanger and Manager Pie Traynor, and signed his contract.

CARLETON HURT

Avalon, Cal. (AP)—After avoiding training injuries for twelve days, the Chicago Cubs came up with their first casualty today when Tex Carleton, husky right-hander, wrenched a shoulder. The former St. Louis Cardinal hurler fell in fielding a ground ball. Second Baseman Billy Herman also was out of action, having been ordered to remain in bed to clear up a cold.

BERGER CONFIDENT

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—Wally Berger, the Boston Braves' hard hitting outfielder, has not done much this season, due to a sprained back and a blistered toe, but he assured Manager Bill McKechnie that he intended to be in the No. 4 hole, right behind Babe Ruth, when the Tribesmen open their long series with the Yankees here on Saturday. McKechnie gave his players the lightest sort of drills during today's workout.

TAKES NO CHANCES

Sarasota, Fla., (AP)—Manager Joe Cronin wants his Boston Red Sox team to win every one of its exhibition games but just the same he is not going to take any unnecessary chances. As a result, Rick Ferrell, the ace catcher, and Max Bishop, veteran second baseman, will remain behind when the club goes to Miami tomorrow to open against the Giants.

EVANS SATISFIED

New Orleans, (AP)—A glow of optimism emanated today from Billy Evans, the Cleveland Indians' general manager.

After a week in camp he declared himself satisfied that the outfield will be "50 per cent better than it was last season," the pitching "tops," and the infield rejuvenated.

"Volley Ball"

The results of the volley ball games last night follow:

Merchants defeated Ancients, 15-11, 15-12, 15-6.

Strible Dums beat Foresters, 15-12, 15-5, 15-6.

Meteors beat Hawks, 15-1, 15-4, 15-2, 15-3.

Teachers beat Rum Dums, 15-12, 15-6, 16-14.

Fifty per cent of Russia's people are under 20 years of age; 31 per cent are under that age in France; and 39 per cent in the United States.

SKATE CONTEST DRAWING CROWD

16,000 Fans Will Watch Exhibitions at New York Garden

New York, March 12 (AP)—With the big Eighth avenue arena transformed into a magic palace of ice and glittering fantasy, the leading skaters of Europe, Canada and the United States will swing through their exhibitions of grace and skill tomorrow night in the sixth annual International Ice Skating Carnival at Madison Square Garden.

For nearly a week the "standing room only" sign has been hanging by the reservation window, indicating that 16,000 spectators will jam the Garden. The demand for tickets has been so great that the Skating Club of New York, which is staging the event for the benefit of the Bellevue Hospital Social Relief Service, has arranged for a return engagement March 27.

For the first time since the inauguration of the event, the queen of all figure skaters, Sonja Henie, will not be present. Five other leading skaters of the continent are here, however, together with Maribel Vinson, Boston, and Robin Lee of Minneapolis, the United States champions, and the Canadian pairs titleholders, Louise Bertram and Stewart Reburn of Toronto, famous for their tango dancing.

Germany will be represented by its national champions, 15-year-old Maxie Herber, and Ernst Baier; Sweden by Viv-Ann Hulton, titleholder in her country since 1927; and Austria's great acrobatic pair skaters, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack.

St. Louis Eagles Defeat Red Wings

St. Louis, March 12 (AP)—Three seconds was long enough for the Eagles to change defeat into victory tonight as they overcame a one-goal deficit in the final period to whip the Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 2.

The National Hockey League match, played before some 8,000 fans, closed the season here. The Eagles play their final game of the season at Toronto.

Battling the Wings on even terms throughout the opening session, the second ended when Lewis scored for Detroit. Then, after plugging along for nearly 15 minutes of the final period, the Eagles within a flash time changed the entire complexion of the game.

Frank Jerwa bounced the tying goal at 14:50 to make the count two-all and, before the yell of the fans had faded, Lamb sent the winning marker home at 14:53.

Detroit's first counter came in the opening frame, as Johnny Sorell converted a speedy pass from Syd Howe, former Eagle, and Eddie Wiseman. Turning on the heat, the Eagles' continuous rushes were rewarded 10 minutes later when Asmundson knotted the count at one-all.

Boston Bruins Win From Amerks, 4 to 1

Boston, Mar. 12 (AP)—The hard-driving Boston Bruins moved another step nearer their goal, a first-place N. H. L. playoff berth, by defeating the New York Americans, 4-1, in a listless game tonight at the Boston Garden.

Big Nels Stewart and his left-winger, Speedy "Red" Beattie, accounted for all of the Boston scoring and Bill Brydge, with Normie Himes assisting, registered the star-spangled goal, early in the second period.

The Bruins were checked until late in the opening frame. Beattie's first scoring shot came at 15:40 and, less than two minutes later, Stewart clinched the game with his initial tally. Eddie Shore assisted big Nels on the successful play and combined with him again late in the second frame. Beattie's number two was registered in the last minute of play.

BOXING

Canton, O., Mar. 12 (AP)—Paul Pirrone of Cleveland knocked out Frankie Misko of Detroit in one minute and 50 seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten-round battle tonight.

Misko, who weighed 155, was floored by a long left jab to the chin. Pironne weighed 162.

Eight Ex-Vols on Giant Squad

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—No less than eight former members of the Nashville baseball team are working out with the New York Giants at Miami Beach, Fla. They are Hank Leiber, Phil Weintraub, Clyde Castleman, Ralph McAdams, Frank Gabler, Joe Martin, Al Cuccinello and Sharkey Eiland.

Sonja to Quit After 1936

Oslo (AP)—Sonja Henie, after winning her ninth world skating championship recently, announced she would begin training for her third Olympic championship effort in 1936, and her tenth world championship. After these events she will conclude her sports career.

Michigan Rules Waves In College Swimming

BY MERLE OLIVER

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—The "best swimming team ever gathered in one pool" is what Coach Matt Mann calls the University of Michigan 1935 tank squad.

He is in a position to know since his padlers have won seven out of the last eight Western conference titles and five out of eight national championships.

They will defend their Big Ten championship at Champaign, Ill. March 16, and their national collegiate title at Cambridge, Mass., March 29 and 30.

"We might be defeated in the national meet," the Wolverine coach opines, "because a lot depends on how the points are split up by one or two-man teams. But no team could lick us in a dual meet."

Michigan's brightest stars are Tex Robertson and Frank Barnard, middle distance free stylers; Taylor Drysdale and Fred Cody back stroke; Jack Kasley, breast stroke; Ogden Dalrymple, Bob Renner and Bob Mowerson, sprinters; and Ben Grady, Frank Fehsenfeld, Derland Johnston and Ned Diefenderf, divers.

Both Robertson and Barnard swim the 440 well under five minutes and both have been clocked around 2:13 in the 220-yard free style. Mann believes Drysdale will crack the 150-yard world's backstroke record this season.

Kasley already has shattered the American 200-yard breast stroke record, and Mann expects him to lower it from 2:26 to 2:23. The medley relay team of Drysdale, Kasley and Dalrymple holds the American record of 3:01.2 established in a dual meet with Iowa.

Mann isn't saying much about his sprinters as individuals, but he claims he can put a quartet into the water which will swim the 400-yard relay in 3:34, more than six seconds faster than the existing Big Ten record.

"All the Big Ten records for more than 100 yards will go into discard at the 1935 championship meet," the Michigan coach predicted. "My boys will break them."

Canadiens Cop 4-3 Edge from Rangers

New York, March 12 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens showed a speedy, well timed attack tonight to defeat the New York Rangers 4 to 3 in a game that was considered a "preview" of the third place National Hockey League play-off series. The defeat virtually condemned the Rangers to third in the American division while the habitants are definitely settled in that position in the International group.

A clever solo rush by Tony Savage while the Canadiens were short handed in the second period was the deciding play after they had raced through a speedy opening frame with the count at 2-2.

The Rangers tied the score again late in the third period when Bill Cook topped off a gang play with a fast shot, but Aurel Joliat quickly netted the winning tally for Montreal.

The other goal getters were Leroy Goldsworthy and George Mantha of the Canadiens and Cecil Dillon and Charley Mason of the Rangers.

Junior B Riflists Defeat Pioneers

The Escanaba Rifle club Junior B team defeated the Pioneers, 767 to 409, at the indoor range last night. The scores were as follows:

Notre Dame Gridder Has Two Operations

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—Joseph Sullivan, captain-elect of Notre Dame's football team, underwent two operations and two blood transfusions in New York hospital today. Hospital officials reported him "fairly comfortable" tonight, although still in a serious condition.

Sullivan was operated upon for a pus formation on the inside of the skull overlying the brain and for a mastoid condition. Later he received two blood transfusions for a streptococcus infection.

Sullivan is 22 years old, the son of Police Lieutenant Timothy Sullivan of Belle Harbor, Queens, New York

Yacht Club Holds Ice Boat Races At South Shore Sunday

The Escanaba Yacht club held the first of its series of winter ice boat races Sunday afternoon. The event was staged off the south shore, over a triangular mile and a half course.

The results of the races were as follows:

Class A—Stoll, first; Aronson, second; Coan, third.

Class B—Derouin and Weisert, first; C. Olson, second; B. Sullivan, third.

The feature of the day was the race between Art Aronson and Charlie Stoll in Class A, which was won by Stoll. Ice boat fans are looking forward with much enthusiasm to the next meeting between these two in a week or two.

Toronto Maple Leaf Sextet Wins, 1 to 0

Montreal, Mar. 12 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs scored a 1-0 victory over the Montreal Maroons tonight in a National Hockey league game between the first and second place clubs of the International section. It was the final game of the seasonal series between these rivals, Toronto winning five games against only one for the Maroons.

The only goal of the game came late in the second period with Hec Kilrea on the scoring end of a combination play in which Harvey Jackson and Bill Thoms also figured.

M'KECHNIE IS ALL BUSINESS

Has No Worry Regarding 1936 and Ruth, Says Braves' Boss

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP)—William B. McKechnie, boss of the Boston Braves and a veteran of the baseball wars who is never in the habit of "popping off," wants it made clear, once and for all, that he is attending strictly to the business of whipping his club into shape for the coming National League season, without word or fear as to what will happen by 1936.

The circulation today of reports that McKechnie had said Babe Ruth would not manage the Braves next year—as is generally anticipated—caused a flurry in camp but drew a prompt and decisive reply from Manager Bill.

"I have said nothing of the kind to anyone," declared McKechnie when the Associated Press informed him of the rumor.

Complete Understanding

"It is ridiculous on the face of it as everyone should know. In the first place, it's not up to me to comment on what will happen next year. I'm not the president of the club. I'm the manager. I have a job to do this year. That's all I'm concerned with. Ruth is here to help me and play ball. He and I have a complete understanding about what we are trying to do now."

There is no mystery about the situation. Ruth, under the three-year contract he has signed with the Braves, has an understanding that he will take over complete charge of the team as manager in 1936, with McKechnie stepping up into the job of business or general manager.

The Babe has a definite understanding with Emil E. Fuchs and Charles F. Adams, the president and vice president of the club. Fuchs has publicly assured Ruth there will be "no handicap" to his taking the manager's job next year. McKechnie is fully acquainted with all the details. He has nothing to worry about now or next season, for that matter. Neither has Ruth.

The "soft pedal" was put on the 1936 arrangements for obvious reasons soon after the Babe signed with the Braves. The important business in hand for this year, designed to put the club back on its feet financially, is uppermost in everyone's mind.

As Ruth remarked: "If they will just let Bill and me alone. We will get along OK. Let next year take care of itself."

Vulcan Defeats Hermansville By Score Of 29-27

Hermansville, Mich., March 12—The Hermansville city basketball team was nosed out by the classy Vulcan five in a game played on the community club floor here Sunday. The final score was 29-27 in favor of the visitors.

The game was closely fought throughout with neither team having a great advantage at any time. Although outscored from the floor, the locals made good nine times from the free throw line on nine fouls by the Vulcan boys to keep them in the running.

Spartan Freshmen Cagers Rewarded

Leo G. Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Don P. Hanson, Muskegon; Charles A. Henry, Huntington, Ky.; James E. Jackson, Kenmore, N. Y.; Howard A. Kraft, Niles; Alfred Ritz, Highland Park; Kenneth A. Schuman, Grand Rapids; Gordon M. Poor, Traverse City and William L. Vyn, Redford.

YOUNG PLAYERS

Fort Myers, Fla. (AP)—Taking it by and large, Connie Mack's 1935 Philadelphia Athletics team—if it clicks—has at least five good years to go.

The roster statistics show the members of the squad who will probably be carried through the season, average 26 years in age—five below the 31 at which ballplayers usually slow up.

National Indoors Doubles Tourney Gets Under Way

New York, March 12 (AP)—The boys did double duty today as twenty tandem teams waded through a pair of preliminary rounds in the national indoor doubles tennis championship at the seventh regiment armory.

Eight teams were left to play in the quarter-final round tomorrow in connection with the third round of the singles championship.

The top-seeded team of Gregory S. Mangin and Berkeley Bell overpowered a pair of physicians, T. W. Webster and Robert Millen, both of Forest Hills, 6-2, 6-3, and then they put to an end the championship aspirations of Frankie Rericha and Joey Abrams, 6-4, 6-0.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., ranked No. 2 in the nation combined with Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers to defeat Lieutenant R. Morgan Watt and H. Irving Pratt, 7-5, 6-4, after receiving a first round bye.

The other survivors in the doubles competition are Stephen Brubans of Hoboken and Donald Hawley of South Orange, N. J., Merritt Cutler and Fred Anderson of New York; Dr. Lawrence Kurzork and Julius Seligson; Albert Law Jr., and Leonard Hartman of New York; J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., and Frank J. Bowden of New York.

TIGERS ENJOY PRACTICE GAME

Regulars Beat Yannigans At Lakeland by 2-0 Score

Lakeland, Fla., Mar. 12 (AP)—The Tiger regulars who won the 1934 American League pennant shut out a Yannigan outfit today, 2 to 0, in seven innings. The Yannigans were bolstered by the services of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Elden Auker and Pete Fox.

Clyde Hatter and Vic Sorrell held the Yans to four scattered hits, including a double by Rowe and a single by Millard (Dixie) Howell, former Alabama football star. Hatter performed like a veteran and Sorrell, who had snitched a little practice on the side even before he came to camp, did even better.

Goose Goslin was the real batting star of the game. He pounded out two doubles in three trips to the plate, one each off the offerings of Rowe and Auker. Chester Morgan, a young Beaumont recruit, accounted for another of the regulars' five hits, a single.

Rowe was nicked for four safeties and two runs, one of the latter unearned. He said he was so overjoyed by the contract he signed last night that he just couldn't bear down. It took the Schoolboy only two minutes to make up his mind about the document, terms of which were secret.

Auker yielded only one hit in three innings for the Yannigans today, but his service was a trifle wild.

The mercurial Jo-Jo White's fielding prowess spoiled what looked for a time like a double for Gerald Walker. Jo-Jo somehow got in front of a hard drive, and held Gerald to first on the play.

Howell looked better today than he has since coming to camp. Although most of his experience has been at shortstop, he held down Marvin Owens' job at third base like a fellow who knew how. He won the praises of at least one of his rivals for an infield position, the candid Heinie Schuble.

Experienced Cage Officials To Work Ironwood Tourney

Ironwood, Mich., Mar 12—The officials named to handle the upper peninsula championship basketball tournament to be held here this week-end March 14, 15, and 16, are men of wide experience as athletes and officials. They are:

William H. Puckelwartz, Escanaba—A graduate of the University of Michigan, where he starred in athletics. He has been teaching for seven years and has had five years experience as an official and is rated on the approved list. He officiated in the regional tournament at Ishpeming two years ago. He is 30 years old.

Earl D. Rich, Crystal Falls—A graduate of Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., in 1924. He is 34 years old. He has had three years of high school athletic experience, four years of college, and six years with semi-pro organizations. He has been a coach for five years and has had three years experience in officiating in the upper peninsula and is on the approved list. To date this year he has handled 16 games.

Paul R. Ritzman, Ishpeming—Was graduated from Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb, Ill., with the degree of bachelor of education in 1927. His athletic experience includes two years of varsity football and two years of varsity basketball. In 1927 he participated in the national amateur basketball tournament in Kansas City. He played varsity baseball for three years. As a basketball official he is on the approved list and has six years of experience officiating cage games and five years as a football official. To date this season he has handled 27 basketball games.

Connie Mack Sees A's as Contenders for Flag

AVERAGE AGE IS ONLY 25 YEARS

Jimmy Foxx Behind Plate Will Be Valuable to Young Pitchers

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12—There is a gleam in the pale blue eyes of 72-year-old Connie Mack as he prepares the Philadelphia Athletics for their 35th season in the American League.

You do not suspect that Mack has something up his sleeve. You only have to look out over Terry Field to know that he has.

The current crop of Athletics brings happy memories to Mack of a team that reported to him a quarter century ago—Plank, Bender, and Coombs; Ira Thomas; McInnis, Collins, Barry, and Baker; and Oldring, Strunk, and Danny Murphy.

The squad that has buckled down to work here also reminds Mack of the band he assembled in 1925, which went on to the first of three pennants and two world championships four years later — Grove, Earnshaw, and Walberg,; Cochrane; Jimmy Foxx, Bishop, and Dykes; Simmons, and Haas.

The current Athletics may not attain the heights of the two great arrays that preceded them before they are torn apart, but there is talent galore in the 29 athletes going through the paces here.

And what pleases Mack most is the fact that the average age of the band is only 25 years.

"With Jimmy Foxx catching and handling the young pitchers, the Athletics have a chance to win the pennant in a wide-open race," smiles Mack.

Pitching Prospects Rosy

Mack is banking on the backstopping of Foxx and the natural improvement of his young pitchers to sweep the outfit from fifth place, where it finished n 1934, to a contending position.

He has a half dozen exceptional pitching prospects in Johnny Marcum, Bill Dietrich, Alton Benton, Charley Lieber, George Caster, and Vernon Wilshere, a southpaw.

Marcum copped 14 games and lost 11 in 1934. The bespectacled Dietrich won 11 and dropped 12. Both won most of their victories during the last half of the campaign.

During the closing weeks, Dietrich trimmed the flag-gathering Detroit Tigers, 1-0, before an overflow Sunday crowd at Navin Feld with an ordinary fly going for a two-base hit. Mack called it one of the finest pitching performances for a youngster on the road that he ever witnessed.

Lieber, who slings a deceptive sinker, was drafted from the San Francisco Missions, for whom he grabbed 19 decisions while losing 13 games.

Caster, purchased from the Portland Coasters, won three games and lost two, after reporting in September. This former University of Southern California all-around star is the most symmetrically built of all the sterling athletes attacking victuals at the Bedford hotel here.

Caster is a pitcher without a windup. He throws the ball with a single sidearm motion. It is a sort of legal quick pitch. He has remarkable control.

Sugar Cain is a right-hander of established worth, and LeRoy Mahaffey has been around long enough to know how to pitch. Little Joe Cascarella, the crooner, met with some success in 1934.

Sammy Foxx, 17, and Bill Bennett, 18, southpaws, will be sent out. So will Edgar Smith, a semi-professional of Columbus, N. J.

Charley Berry is back to warm up pitchers and to be available in the event Jimmy Foxx is hurt. Bill Conroy and Charley Moss are youngsters who require seasoning.

Infield Has Young Talent

Alex Hooks, a fancy fielding left-hander, tackles the robust assignment of filling the large brogans of the famous Foxx at first base. This former all-round luminary of Southern Methodist university hit .340 in the Texas League last season.

Dib Williams is to start at second, with Rabbit Warstler and Charley English ready to relieve him in the event that his throwing does not improve.

English hit .326 and was voted the most valuable player in the Texas League.

Lamar Newsome, who comes from Tulsa with Hooks and a .286 batting average, is butting his head against a stone wall in trying to take Eric McNair's job at shortstop.

Bob Fausett, who helped Galveston win the Texas League gonfalon with a left-handed batting average of .282, faces the same kind of competition in Frank Higgins at third base.

Outfielder Lou Finney will step in at first base if Hooks falls down.

Bob Johnson, working with a good behavior clause in his contract, Ed Coleman, and Roger Cramer form an outfield that is quite good enough, and Wallace Moses, Jr., a left-hand hitter who swatted .316 for Galveston, is on hand to help out.

A strip from a man's neck was used by a plastic surgeon to repair his throat .The operation was successful until that strip grew a beard and prevented the patient from swallowing, according to a British medical journal.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

A SLUGGER

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Vernon (George) Washington, heir apparent to left field in the Chicago White Sox lineup, featured today's drill with an impressive sample of his slugging prowess.

Washington belted all kinds of hurling to all fields. Al Simmons also had a good day.

DIZZY PITCHES

Brandenton, Fla. (AP)—The 1935 debut of Jerome Herman Dean, ace flinger of the St. Louis Cardinals, was none too auspicious today but the world champions came through with a victory in their first exhibition season game, defeating the Phillies, 9 to 6.

Dean hurled the first three innings and was touched for three runs, all in the third when he walked two men.

DRESSEN INJURED

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Cincinnati Reds became a training camp casualty today.

A bat, slipping from the hands of Harlan Pool in batting practice, whacked Dressen across the head. Doctors said he apparently suffered no fracture, but planned an X-ray to make sure.

WANTS TO REPORT

Biloxi, Miss. (AP)—Pitcher Walter Stewart, Washington's sole remaining holdout, today made overtures to Owner Clark Griffith. Griffith said Stewart called him from Crossville, Tenn., and asked permission to report for training.

TOO MUCH WIND

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—The whole Yankee squad resembled the "murderers row" of a few years ago in batting practice today when a strong wind blew across the field to turn base hits into triples. The fielders suffered accordingly, however, and Manager Joe McCarthy finally cut the drill short because of the bad playing conditions.

HALF HOLIDAY

Orlando, Fla. (AP)—Casey Stengel gave his Brooklyn Dodger varsity a half holiday today while the scrubs and the freshmen put on a game that ended in a 3-3 tie. In the afternoon the regulars took the field for a routine drill and an extra-strenuous session in the sliding pit.

SUHR REPORTS

San Bernardino, Cal. (AP)—Captain Gus Suhr, the Pittsburgh Pirates' one and only holdout, returned to the fold today and is ready to take over the first base chores.

He put in a surprise appearance at the training camp this morning, announcing "I couldn't stay away," went into a huddle with William Benswanger and Manager Pie Traynor, and signed his contract.

CARLETON HURT

Avalon, Cal. (AP)—After avoiding training injuries for twelve days, the Chicago Cubs came up with their first casualty today when Tex Carleton, husky right-hander, wrenched a shoulder. The former St. Louis Cardinal hurler fell in fielding a ground ball. Second Baseman Billy Herman also was out of action, having been ordered to remain in bed to clear up a cold.

BERGER CONFIDENT

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—Wally Berger, the Boston Braves' hard hitting outfielder, has not done much this season, due to a sprained back and a blistered toe, but he assured Manager Bill McKechnie that he intended to be in the No. 4 hole, right behind Babe Ruth, when the Tribesmen open their long series with the Yankees here on Saturday. McKechnie gave his players the lightest sort of drills during today's workout.

TAKES NO CHANCES

Sarasota, Fla., (AP)—Manager Joe Cronin wants his Boston Red Sox team to win every one of its exhibition games but just the same he is not going to take any unnecessary chances. As a result, Rick Ferrell, the ace catcher, and Max Bishop, veteran second baseman, will remain behind when the club goes to Miami tomorrow to open against the Giants.

EVANS SATISFIED

New Orleans, (AP)—A glow of optimism emanated today from Billy Evans, the Cleveland Indians' general manager.

After a week in camp he declared himself satisfied that the outfield will be "50 per cent better than it was last season," the pitching "tops," and the infield rejuvenated.

"Volley Ball"

The results of the volley ball games last night follow:

Merchants defeated Ancients, 15-11, 15-12, 15-6.

Strible Dums beat Foresters, 15-12, 15-5, 15-6.

Meteors beat Hawks, 15-1, 15-4, 15-2, 15-3.

Teachers beat Rum Dums, 15-12, 15-6, 16-14.

Fifty per cent of Russia's people are under 20 years of age; 31 per cent are under that age in France; and 39 per cent in the United States.

SKATE CONTEST DRAWING CROWD

16,000 Fans Will Watch Exhibitions at New York Garden

New York, March 12 (AP)—With the big Eighth avenue arena transformed into a magic palace of ice and glittering fantasy, the leading skaters of Europe, Canada and the United States will swing through their exhibitions of grace and skill tomorrow night in the sixth annual International Ice Skating Carnival at Madison Square Garden.

For nearly a week the "standing room only" sign has been hanging by the reservation window, indicating that 16,000 spectators will jam the Garden. The demand for tickets has been so great that the Skating Club of New York, which is staging the event for the benefit of the Bellevue Hosptial Social Relief Service, has arranged for a return engagement March 27.

For the first time since the inaugration of the event, the queen of all figure skaters, Sonja Henie, will not be present. Five other leading skaters of the continent are here, however, together with Maribel Vinson, Boston, and Robin Lee of Minneapolis, the United States champions, and the Canadian pairs titleholders, Louise Bertram and Stewart Reburn of Toronto, famous for their tango dancing.

Germany will be represented by its national champions, 15-year-old Maxie Herber, and Ernst Baier; Sweden by Viv-Ann Hulton, titleholder in her country since 1927; and Austria's great acrobatic pair skaters, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack.

St. Louis Eagles Defeat Red Wings

St. Louis, March 12 (AP)—Three seconds was long enough for the Eagles to change defeat into victory tonight as they overcame a one-goal deficit in the final period to whip the Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 2.

The National Hockey League match, played before some 8,000 fans, closed the season here. The Eagles play their final game of the season at Toronto.

Battling the Wings on even terms throughout the opening session, the Eagles fell behind in the second when Lewis scored for Detroit. Then, after plugging along for nearly 15 minutes of the final period, the Eagles within a flash time changed the entire complexion of the game.

Frank Jerwa bounced the tying goal at 14:50 to make the count two-all and, before the yell of the fans had faded, Lamb sent the winning marker home at 14:53.

Detroit's first counter came in the opening frame, as Johnny Sorell converted a speedy pass play from Syd Howe, former Eagle, and Eddie Wiseman. Turning on the heat, the Eagles' continuous rushes were rewarded 10 minutes later when Asmundson knotted the count at one-all.

Boston Bruins Win From Amerks, 4 to 1

Boston, Mar. 12 (AP)—The hard-driving Boston Bruins moved another step nearer their goal, a first-place N. H. L. playoff berth, by defeating the New York Americans, 4-1, in a listless game tonight at the Boston Garden.

Big Nels Stewart and his left-winger, Speedy "Red" Beattie, accounted for all of the Boston scoring and Bill Brydge, with Normie Himes assisting, registered the star-spangled goal, early in the second period.

The Bruins were checked until late in the opening frame. Beattie's first scoring shot came at 15:40 and, less than two minutes later, Stewart cilnched the game with his initial tally. Eddie Shore assisted big Nels on that successful play and combined with him again late in the second frame. Beattie's number two was registered in the last minute of play.

BOXING

Canton, O., Mar. 12 (AP)—Paul Pirrone of Cleveland knocked out Frankie Misko of Detroit in one minute and 50 seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten-round battle tonight.

Misko, who weighed 155, was floored by a long left jab to the chin. Pironne weighed 162.

Eight Ex-Vols on Giant Squad

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—No less than eight former members of the Nashville baseball team are working out with the New York Giants at Miami Beach, Fla. They are Hank Leiber, Phil Weintraub, Clyde Castleman, Ralph McAdams, Frank Gabler, Joe Martin, Al Cuccinello and Sharkey Eiland.

Sonja to Quit After 1936

Oslo (AP)—Sonja Henie, after winning her ninth world skating championship recently, announced she would begin training for her third Olympic championship effort in 1936, and her tenth world championship. After these events she will conclude her sports career.

Michigan Rules Waves In College Swimming

BY MERLE OLIVER

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—The "best swimming team ever gathered in one pool" is what Coach Matt Mann calls the University of Michigan 1935 tank squad.

He is in a position to know since his padlers have won seven out of the last eight Western conference titles and five out of eight national championships.

They will defend their Big Ten championship at Champaign, Ill. March 16, and their national collegiate title at Cambridge, Mass., March 29 and 30.

"We might be defeated in the national meet," the Wolverine coach opines, "because a lot depends on how the points are split up by one or two-man teams. But no team could lick us in a dual meet."

Michigan's brightest stars are Tex Robertson and Frank Barnard, middle distance free stylers; Taylor Drysdale and Fred Cody back stroke; Jack Kasley, breast stroke; Ogden Dalrymple, Bob Renner and Bob Mowerson, sprinters; and Ben Grady, Frank Fehsenfeld, Derland Johnston and Ned Diefenderf, divers.

Both Robertson and Barnard swim the 440 well under five minutes and both have been clocked around 2:13 in the 220-yard free style. Mann believes Drysdale will crack the 150-yard world's backstroke record this season.

Kasley already has shattered the American 200-yard breast stroke record, and Mann expects him to lower it from 2:26 to 2:23. The medley relay team of Drysdale, Kasley and Dalrymple holds the American record of 3:01.2 established in a dual meet with Iowa.

Mann isn't saying much about his sprinters as individuals, but he claims he can put a quartet into the water which will swim the 400-yard relay in 3:34, more than six seconds faster than the existing Big Ten record.

"All the Big Ten records for more than 100 yards will go into discard at the 1935 championship meet," the Michigan coach predicted. "My boys will break them."

Canadiens Cop 4-3 Edge from Rangers

New York, March 12 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens showed a speedy, well timed attack tonight to defeat the New York Rangers 4 to 3 in a game that was considered a "preview" of the third place National Hockey League play-off series. The defeat virtually condemned the Rangers to third in the American division while the habitants are definitely settled in that position in the International group.

A clever solo rush by Tony Savage while the Canadiens were short handed in the second period was the deciding play after they had raced through a speedy opening frame with the count at 2-2.

The Rangers tied the score again late in the third period when Bill Cook topped off a gang play with a fast shot, but Aurel Joliat quickly netted the winning tally for Montreal.

The other goal getters were Leroy Goldsworthy and George Mantha of the Canadiens and Cecil Dillon and Charley Mason of the Rangers.

Notre Dame Gridder Has Two Operations

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—Joseph Sullivan, captain-elect of Notre Dame's football team, underwent two operations and two blood transfusions in New York hospital today. Hospital officials reported him "fairly comfortable" tonight, although still in a serious condition.

Sullivan was operated upon for a pus formation on the inside of the skull overlying the brain and for a mastoid condition. Later he received two blood transfusions for a streptococcus infection.

Sullivan is 22 years old, the son of Police Lieutenant Timothy Sullivan of Belle Harbor, Queens, New York

Yacht Club Holds Ice Boat Races At South Shore Sunday

The Escanaba Yacht club held the first of its series of winter ice boat races Sunday afternoon. The event was staged off the south shore, over a triangular mile and a half course.

The results of the races were as follows:

Class A—Stoll, first; Aronson, second; Coan, third.

Class B—Derouin and Weisert, first; C. Olson, second; B. Sullivan, third.

The feature of the day was the race between Art Aronson and Charlie Stoll in Class A, which was won by Stoll. Ice boat fans are looking forward with much enthusiasm to the next meeting between these two in a week or two.

Toronto Maple Leaf Sextet Wins, 1 to 0

Montreal, Mar. 12 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs scored a 1-0 victory over the Montreal Maroons tonight in a National Hockey league game between the first and second place clubs of the International section. It was the final game of the seasonal series between these rivals, Toronto winning five games against only one for the Maroons.

The only goal of the game came late in the second period with Hec Kilrea on the scoring end of a combination play in which Harvey Jackson and Bill Thoms also figured.

M'KECHNIE IS ALL BUSINESS

Has No Worry Regarding 1936 and Ruth, Says Braves' Boss

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP)—William B. McKechnie, boss of the Boston Braves and a veteran of the baseball wars who is never in the habit of "popping off," wants it made clear, once and for all, that he is attending strictly to the business of whipping his club into shape for the coming National League season, without word or fear as to what will happen by 1936.

The circulation today of reports that McKechnie had said Babe Ruth would not manage the Braves next year—as is generally anticipated—caused a flurry in camp but drew a prompt and decisive reply from Manager Bill.

"I have said nothing of the kind to anyone," declared McKechnie when the Associated Press informed him of the rumor.

Complete Understanding

"It is ridiculous on the face of it as everyone should know. In the first place, it's not up to me to comment on what will happen next year. I'm not the president of the club. I'm the manager. I have a job to do this year. That's all I'm concerned with. Ruth is here to help me and play ball. He and I have a complete understanding about what we are trying to do now."

There is no mystery about the situation. Ruth, under the three-year contract he has signed with the Braves, has an understanding that he will take over complete charge of the team as manager in 1936, with McKechnie stepping up into the job of business or general manager.

The Babe has a definite understanding with Emil E. Fuchs and Charles F. Adams, the president and vice president of the club. Fuchs has publicly assured Ruth there will be "no handicap" to his taking the manager's job next year. McKechnie is fully acquainted with all the details. He has nothing to worry about now or next season, for that matter. Neither has Ruth.

The "soft pedal" was put on the 1936 arrangements for obvious reasons soon after the Babe signed with the Braves. The important business in hand for this year, designed to put the club back on its feet financially, is uppermost in everyone's mind.

As Ruth remarked: "If they will just let Bill and me alone. We will get along OK. Let next year take care of itself."

Vulcan Defeats Hermansville By Score Of 29-27

Hermansville, Mich., March 12—The Hermansville city basketball team was nosed out by the classy Vulcan five in a game played on the community club floor here Sunday. The final score was 29-27 in favor of the visitors.

The game was closely fought throughout with neither team having a great advantage at any time. Although outscored from the floor, the locals made good nine times from the free throw line on nine fouls by the Vulcan boys to keep them in the running.

Spartan Freshmen Cagers Rewarded

Leo G. Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Don P. Hanson, Muskegon; Charles A. Henry, Huntington, Ky.; James E. Jackson, Kenmore, N. Y.; Howard A. Kraft, Niles; Alfred Ritz, Highland Park; Kenneth A. Schuman, Grand Rapids; Gordon M. Poor, Traverse City and William L. Vyn, Redford.

YOUNG PLAYERS

Fort Myers, Fla. (AP)—Taking it by and large, Connie Mack's 1935 Philadelphia Athletics team—if it clicks—has at least five good years to go.

The roster statistics show the members of the squad who will probably be carried through the season, average 26 years in age—five below the 31 at which ballplayers usually slow up.

National Indoors Doubles Tourney Gets Under Way

New York, March 12 (AP)—The boys did double duty today as twenty tandem teams waded through a pair of preliminary rounds in the national indoor doubles tennis championship at the seventh regiment armory.

Eight teams were left to play in the quarter-final round tomorrow in connection with the third round of the singles championship.

The top-seeded team of Gregory S. Mangin and Berkeley Bell overpowered a pair of physicians, T. W. Webster and Robert Millen, both of Forest Hills, 6-2, 6-3, and then they put to an end the championship aspirations of Frankie Rericha and Joey Abrams, 6-4, 6-0.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., ranked No. 2 in the nation combined with Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers to defeat Lieutenant R. Morgan Watt and H. Irving Pratt, 7-5, 6-4, after receiving a first round bye.

The other survivors in the doubles competition are Stephen Brubans of Hoboken and Donald Hawley of South Orange, N. J., Merritt Cutler and Fred Anderson of New York; Dr. Lawrence Kurzork and Julius Seligson; Albert Law Jr., and Leonard Hartman of New York; J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., and Frank J. Bowden of New York.

TIGERS ENJOY PRACTICE GAME

Regulars Beat Yannigans At Lakeland by 2-0 Score

Lakeland, Fla., Mar. 12 (AP)—The Tiger regulars who won the 1934 American League pennant shut out a Yannigan outfit today, 2 to 0, in seven innings. The Yannigans were bolstered by the services of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Elden Auker and Pete Fox.

Clyde Hatter and Vic Sorrell held the Yans to four scattered hits, including a double by Rowe and a single by Millard (Dixie) Howell, former Alabama football star. Hatter performed like a veteran and Sorrell, who had snitched a little practice on the side even before he came to camp, did even better.

Goose Goslin was the real batting star of the game. He pounded out two doubles in three trips to the plate, one each off the offerings of Rowe and Auker. Chester Morgan, a young Beaumont recruit, accounted for another of the regulars' five hits, a single.

Rowe was nicked for four safeties and two runs, one of the latter unearned. He said he was so overjoyed by the contract he signed last night that he just couldn't bear down. It took the Schoolboy only two minutes to make up his mind about the document, terms of which were secret.

Auker yielded only one hit in three innings for the Yannigans today, but his service was a trifle wild.

The mercurial Jo-Jo White's fielding prowess spoiled what looked for a time like a double for Gerald Walker. Jo-Jo somehow got in front of a hard drive and held Gerald to first on the play.

Howell looked better today than he has since coming to camp. Although most of his experience has been at shortstop, he held down Marvin Owens' job at third base like a fellow who knew how. He won the praises of at least one of his rivals for an infield position, the candid Heinie Schuble.

Experienced Cage Officials To Work Ironwood Tourney

Ironwood, Mich., Mar 12—The officials named to handle the upper peninsula championship basketball tournament to be held here this week-end March 14, 15, and 16, are men of wide experience as athletes and officials. They are:

William H. Puckelwartz, Escanaba—A graduate of the University of Michigan, where he starred in athletics. He has been teaching for seven years and has had five years experience as an official and is rated on the approved list. He officiated in the regional tournament at Ishpeming two years ago. He is 30 years old.

Earl D. Rich, Crystal Falls—A graduate of Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., in 1924. He is 34 years old. He has had three years of high school athletic experience, four years of college, and six years with semi-pro organizations. He has been a coach for five years and has had three years experience in officiating in the upper peninsula and is on the approved list. To date this year he has handled 16 games.

Paul R. Ritzman, Ishpeming—Was graduated from Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb, Ill., with the degree of bachelor of education in 1927. His athletic experience includes two years of varsity football and two years of varsity basketball. In 1927 he participated in the national amateur basketball tournament in Kansas City. He played varsity baseball for three years. As a basketball official he is on the approved list and has six years of experience officiating cage games and five years as a football official. To date this season he has handled 27 basketball games.

OCONTO RIVER SMELT RUN ON

Silvery Fish Expected To Start Up Menominee Soon

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—The smelt run is on at Oconto.

The river is literally alive with fishermen, dipping nondescript nets through holes cut in the ice, lifting tons of wiggling smelt from the stream.

There is scarcely four feet between the dip holes the fishermen have cut in the ice. Working elbow to elbow, the fishermen, and women, are taking advantage of the first part of the annual smelt run.

Most of the "claims" are marked with brush or limbs.

With a deadline a quarter-mile from the mouth of the river (set up by the state conservation commission) there are so many within the legitimate zone, that it is nearly impossible for a fish to get by the nets.

With the run on at Oconto, the fish are expected to run in the Menominee river soon.

SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—A new seasonal industry employing more than 100 men that has sprung up within the last five years will be resumed soon. Marinette and Menominee fishermen are now setting up rigs on the inter-state bridge in anticipation of the smelt run.

Great Lakes smelt were originally planted in Canadian waters tributary to Lake Erie and have since spread all over the Great Lakes. It is estimated that 800 to 900 tons of smelt were taken from Green bay and tributary stream waters last year, and James Pedersen, Marinette fish wholesaler, states that about 1,000 tons should be caught this year.

During the smelt run the inter-state bridge is lined with fishermen and about 50 persons are employed by local fisheries to clean and pack the fish. Jumbo smelt, the larger variety caught in Green bay, have doubled within the last three years, Pedersen says, and there is reason to believe that they will continue to increase for many years.

Markets Increase

"Markets are also increasing," Pedersen said today, "and we expect to ship 200 tons this year to firms in Boston, New York and Chicago. Last year we shipped 165 tons. Twenty-one tons in a day was our biggest haul."

If the mild weather continues for a few days the run should get under way as soon as the ice breaks up. The choicest places along the inter-state bridge are now taken, most of the rigs being set up on the Marinette side of the span.

Conservation authorities explain that Wisconsin fishermen should fish on the Wisconsin side of the bridge, and those from Michigan must fish on the Menominee side.

Issue Rules

The Wisconsin state conservation commission has issued regulations governing smelt fishing on the Menominee river, calling for nets that must be less than eight feet square or diameter, and the mesh must be less than 1½ inches. No regulations have been posted to date in Menominee.

Last year the smelt run began March 26. The date has varied between March 17, in 1931, to March 28, in 1932. Sturdy rigs are constructed on the bridges, "V" shaped, and wired in place to the bridge railing. Nets are dropped from the rigs, bringing in as much as a hundred pounds of smelt at a dip.

Legion Drummers Choose M. L. Coon As New Manager

Marvin L. Coon was elected manager of the Escanaba American Legion drum and bugle corps at their annual election in the council room of the city hall last night. A letter was read from M. J. Lang, who served as manager during the past year, asking that the corps allow him to retire in favor of Mr. Coon. The latter, a native of Hancock, has long been active in Legion affairs. He served in the U. S. navy for two years during the World war, and at present holds the rank of lieutenant commander in the naval reserve, of which he has been a member for 24 years.

Other officers elected last night were: assistant manager, Herbert Grosnick; quartermaster, Emmett Kauphusman; treasurer, Carl Wickman; musical director, Frank Karas; historian, L. A. Danielson.

Rehearsals of the corps will be started immediately, beginning with next Tuesday evening at 7:30, it was decided. Several public appearances are already in prospect for the organization. Elmer Swanson, vice commander of the Escanaba Legion post, who presided at the meeting last night, announced that the corps had been asked to participate in the smelt jamboree celebration which is to take place in about three weeks, depending on the weather.

An inventory is now being taken of the corps' uniforms and equipment by the new quartermaster.

Beauchamp Claims City Checker Title

Dave Beauchamp, Escanaba checker champion by virtue of his victory in a recent city tournament, journeyed to Iron Mountain last Sunday and defeated William Wright, alleged Iron Mountain champion, by a margin of five victories to one. There were four draws. Saturday Beauchamp will return to Iron Mountain and will meet John Titus of Minneapolis, former American champion, who will be in that city for three days.

Beauchamp reported yesterday that he had laid definite claim to the Escanaba championship and that any players who desire to dispute his claim can say it with action on the checkered board. Beauchamp, too, has his eyes on an upper peninsula championship, in fact, is willing to claim that synthetic title if no one else wants it.

Shoplifter Buys Sweater, Gets 20 Days In Addition

About 15 minutes after he was arrested for stealing a sweater from the Alex Stein store, 314 Stephenson, Clarence Seely of Marquette was behind the bars of the Delta county jail for a 20-day stay.

Seely pleaded guilty before Justice H. E. Ranguette, and was required to pay for the sweater he had taken, in addition to taking the jail penalty. Officers reported he had a bank book in his possession showing deposits to his credit of about $150.

BRITISH AUTHOR UNDER ARREST

Evelyn Strachey Said to Have Entered This Country Falsely

Chicago, Mar. 12 (AP)—Evelyn John St. Loe Strachey, British author here on a lecture tour, was arrested by immigration authorities tonight after issuance of a warrant charging he entered the United States "by means of false and misleading statements."

The prominent writer, son of the late publisher of the conservative London Spectator and brother of the well known British biographer, Lytton Strachey, was apprehended as he concluded an address at the Jewish Temple in suburban Glencoe.

He was taken into a private office in the temple by federal and local authorities and after an extended conference was freed without bond to make his appearance before immigration authorities tomorrow.

While some observers saw a possibility of an "international incident" in Strachey's arrest, Lewis Bernays, British consul in Chicago, said: "I will take no steps regarding the matter until I receive instructions to do so."

Strachey, who spoke tonight on the subject, "The Coming Struggle for Power," an address termed by listeners as "semi-radical," refused to give a statement or interview.

Several immigration officials under A. M. Doig, assistant director of the immigration bureau here, accompanied by Glencoe police, made the arrest about 10:30 p. m., Central Standard Time, and took the prisoner at once to the office of Rabbi Charles Shulman in the temple. An extended conference was held in the office before the announcement of the arrest was made.

Huey Long Getting 'Harvard Culture'?

Baltimore, March 12 (AP)—A report that two bright young men from Harvard were giving Huey Long an intensive course on cultural polish was brought here from Washington today by Dr. Charles A Beard, Connecticut lecturer and historian.

Dr. Beard, who has spent some time recently in the capital, said the report there was that two Harvard men, attracted by the "Kingfish's" free-spoken manner, had attached themselves to him and were smoothing his grammar, curbing his gesticulation and keeping him from getting too vehement.

The Louisiana senator at Washington was quick to deny he had engaged anyone to inject "Harvard culture" into his manners and platform style.

"Why one of the reason why I stay in Washington so much is to keep Mrs. Long from correcting me about my manners. My wife and daughter worry me to death about correcting my English and table manners. I wouldn't hire anybody else," the senator said.

When angered, a Queenland lizard opens a large cape-like frill from its neck and distends its jaws. The frill is a foot wide, and with the gaping jaws, presents a terrifying picture to an enemy.

OCONTO RIVER SMELT RUN ON

Silvery Fish Expected To Start Up Menominee Soon

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—The smelt run is on at Oconto.

The river is literally alive with fishermen, dipping nondescript nets through holes cut in the ice, lifting tons of wiggling smelt from the stream.

There is scarcely four feet between the dip holes the fishermen have cut in the ice. Working elbow to elbow, the fishermen, and women, are taking advantage of the first part of the annual smelt run.

Most of the "claims" are marked with brush or limbs.

With a deadline a quarter-mile from the mouth of the river (set up by the state conservation commission) there are so many within the legitimate zone, that it is nearly impossible for a fish to get by the nets.

With the run on at Oconto, the fish are expected to run in the Menominee river soon.

SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—A new seasonal industry employing more than 100 men that has sprung up within the last five years will be resumed soon. Marinette and Menominee fishermen are now setting up rigs on the inter-state bridge in anticipation of the smelt run.

Great Lakes smelt were originally planted in Canadian waters tributary to Lake Erie and have since spread all over the Great Lakes. It is estimated that 800 to 900 tons of smelt were taken from Green bay and tributary stream waters last year, and James Pedersen, Marinette fish wholesaler, states that about 1,000 tons should be caught this year.

During the smelt run the inter-state bridge is lined with fishermen and about 50 persons are employed by local fisheries to clean and pack the fish. Jumbo smelt, the larger variety caught in Green bay, have doubled within the last three years, Pedersen says, and there is reason to believe that they will continue to increase for many years.

Markets Increase

"Markets are also increasing," Pedersen said today, "and we expect to ship 200 tons this year to firms in Boston, New York and Chicago. Last year we shipped 165 tons. Twenty-one tons in a day was our biggest haul."

If the mild weather continues for a few days the run should get under way as soon as the ice breaks up. The choicest places along the inter-state bridge are now taken, most of the rigs being set up on the Marinette side of the span.

Conservation authorities explain that Wisconsin fishermen should fish on the Wisconsin side of the bridge, and those from Michigan must fish on the Menominee side.

Issue Rules

The Wisconsin state conservation commission has issued regulations governing smelt fishing on the Menominee river, calling for nets that must be less than eight feet square or diameter, and the mesh must be less than 1½ inches. No regulations have been posted to date in Menominee.

Last year the smelt run began March 26. The date has varied between March 17, in 1931, to March 28, in 1932. Sturdy rigs are constructed on the bridges, "V" shaped, and wired in place to the bridge railing. Nets are dropped from the rigs, bringing in as much as a hundred pounds of smelt at a dip.

Legion Drummers Choose M. L. Coon As New Manager

Marvin L. Coon was elected manager of the Escanaba American Legion drum and bugle corps at their annual election in the council room of the city hall last night. A letter was read from M. J. Lang, who served as manager during the past year, asking that the corps allow him to retire in favor of Mr. Coon. The latter, a native of Hancock, has long been active in Legion affairs. He served in the U. S. navy for two years during the World war, and at present holds the rank of lieutenant commander in the naval reserve, of which he has been a member for 24 years.

Other officers elected last night were: assistant manager, Herbert Grosnick; quartermaster, Emmett Kauphusman; treasurer, Carl Wickman; musical director, Frank Karas; historian, L. A. Danielson.

Rehearsals of the corps will be started immediately, beginning with next Tuesday evening at 7:30, it was decided. Several public appearances are already in prospect for the organization. Elmer Swanson, vice commander of the Escanaba Legion post, who presided at the meeting last night, announced that the corps had been asked to participate in the smelt jamboree celebration which is to take place in about three weeks, depending on the weather.

An inventory is now being taken of the corps' uniforms and equipment by the new quartermaster.

FINAL CONTEST SET FOR TODAY

Extemporaneous Speaker Chosen to Represent Escanaba High

During the activities period at Escanaba senior high school today, an extemporaneous speaker will be chosen to represent the local school in the sub-district contest at Iron Mountain. Six contestants who survived eliminations out of an entry list of about 35 will take part in the local finals. They are: Irene Larson, Betty Chynoweth, Lucile Meyer, Philip Westbrook, Robert Bourke, Ronald VanEnkevort.

The judges today will be: Miss Roma Irons, Miss Helen Snyder and Joseph H. Shipman of the high school faculty.

Another high light of the assembly will be the presentation of letters to the varsity basketball team by Coach Carl Nordberg.

Beauchamp Claims City Checker Title

Dave Beauchamp, Escanaba checker champion by virtue of his victory in a recent city tournament, journeyed to Iron Mountain last Sunday and defeated William Wright, alleged Iron Mountain champion, by a margin of five victories to one. There were four draws. Saturday Beauchamp will return to Iron Mountain and will meet John Titus of Minneapolis, former American champion, who will be in that city for three days.

Beauchamp reported yesterday that he had laid definite claim to the Escanaba championship and that any players who desire to dispute his claim can say it with action on the checkered board. Beauchamp, too, has his eyes on an upper peninsula championship, in fact, is willing to claim that synthetic title if no one else wants it.

LEMMER NAMED TO SUCCEED CHENEY

RADIO PRIEST AND LONG FAR APART ON FDR

COUGHLIN BACKING ROOSEVELT, HUEY IS OPPOSED

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12 (AP)—A widening cleavage between Father Coughlin and Senator Long was seen today in the latest renewal of the spectacular battle of epithets between them, on one side, and General Hugh S. Johnson on the other.

For the most part, the priest and the senator preach the same economic doctrines, but on one point, taking their words at face value, they were widely apart today. That point was the question of supporting President Roosevelt.

"Roosevelt or Ruin"

Long has lost no opportunity to lambast the administration with accusations of broken promises to redistribute the nation's wealth. Coughlin last night renewed and reaffirmed his 1932 slogan of "Roosevelt or Ruin."

This followed a long period in which the supposition by many here was that the priest was rapidly nearing a position of outright opposition to the administration.

There was speculation without verification as to whether the White House had been in touch with Coughlin since Johnson's first speech attacking him and Long, and it was pointed out that the refinancing move announced at the treasury over the week-end was in conformity with Coughlin's views.

Meanwhile, Johnson preparing to return to the attack in the immediate future "with plenty to say" went into seclusion awaiting, as he said, a popular call to lead a nation-wide campaign to exterminate the influence of the senator and the cleric.

He denounced them jointly last night as:

"Political termites"—"economic shysters"—"public enemies number one and two"—after Coughlin has assailed him as a "political corpse"—"braggart"—"chocolate soldier"—distorter of history."—"preverter of logic."

Long had his say in a radio speech following the first by the general, in which he described the former NRA head as the "late, lamented, pampered excrown prince."

Irrelevant Speeches

He was up and down all day in the senate, talking about the pending work-relief bill, but said nothing about the Johnson assault.

Meanwhile, Representative Cannon (D. Wis.) took the senate to task for permitting Long to "handcuff and obstruct important business" with "long speeches day after day on irrelevant matters." He referred to the works bill, which Long has threatened to delay until he gets a vote on his proposal for an investigation of Postmaster General Farley.

"Huey Long," said Cannon, "consumes the nation's time with talk which is beneath the dignity and importance of the senate, and which I contend has no place when important problems are under discussion. But, I do say that some of his talk is not altogether footless or meaningless.

"Huey Long is not a joke. He is no Tom Heflin (former Alabama senator) whose tirades used to empty the senate and

"I Am Taking on the Appearance of an Ape!"

* * * * * * * *

Californian Afflicted by Rare Disease

Eight years ago a strapping man of nearly six feet. Today, shrunken to a bare five feet, spine lengthening into a tail, legs bowed and head grown to nearly three times its size. Those facts describe the plight of George Bocklet, 49, of Azusa, Calif., shown at left as he appears today, a victim of the rare, incurable and lingeringly painful Plaget's disease which caused him to write to a Los Angeles physician: "I am taking on the appearance of an ape." How his head has enlarged is shown at right, the upper photo portraying him before his affliction.

'Ape Man' Fights For Life in Sanitorium

Los Angeles, March 12 (AP)—George Bocklet, who says his strange affliction is making him look "more and more like an ape," began a desperate fight for life in a sanatorium here today.

Dr. Frank G. Nolan, physician and surgeon, said unless doctors can determine what is wrong with the 49-year-old Azusa, Calif., commercial artist, he is faced with possible death within two years.

Bocklett's body is shrinking mysteriously, while his head is growing larger.

Beginning an exhaustive examination, doctors started tests today which Dr. Nolan feared for a while might be halted by death as Bocklet suffered a severe hemorrhage—probably caused by his street car ride from Azusa.

Although Bocklet continued shrinking and again said he felt like an "ape man," Dr. Nolan said the shrinking may make him feel as if he were becoming more Simian, but there is nothing in his disease that could be said to be definitely reversing the evolutionary process.

Dr. Nolan said he was inclined to the belief a "malfunction of the parathyroid or pituitary glands causes this strange reversal of calcium deposits. But to say that Bocklet is growing a tail, while it might make good reading, is hardly the case."

Upper Peninsula 1934 Fair Shows Loss Of $45,836

Lansing, March 12 (AP)—The state agricultural department received a report Tuesday showing that the Upper Peninsula Fair incurred a net loss of $45,836 in 1934. A state administrative board appropriation of $20,000 and a like sum from the state racing commission will absorb most of the loss. The last profit for the Escanaba fair was $1,338, in 1930.

NEGRO LYNCHED IN MISSISSIPPI

Alleged Slayer Hanged From Tree by Mob Of 50 Men

Slayden, Miss., March 12 (AP)—Alternately singing and praying even as the rope was tightened about his throat, Ab Young, negro tenant farmer suspected of slaying a highway employe, was lynched today in a school yard three miles east of here.

A mob of approximately fifty men hanged the negro from a tall oak tree a couple of hours after he was seized at Rossville, Tenn., just across the Mississippi line. Young was wanted in the killing of Hardy Mackie, 45-year-old highway worker.

"You'd better sing a hymn," one of the group told the negro as a rope was placed about his neck. He endeavored to sing.

"You'd better pray," he was told. The negro prayed.

The rope was fastened about his neck. The other end tied to the tree. He was pushed atop a small coach automobile. One of his captors drove the car away, leaving the negro's body dangling in the air.

Mackie, a native of Marshall county, had returned from Holly Springs, Miss., Saturday night when he stopped his automobile in front of a store at Slayden.

The officers said Young had been drinking and was shooting across the road.

"Stop that shooting, or you will kill somebody," they said Mackie warned the negro. The officers reported the negro turned and fired in the direction of the highway employe. Mackie fell, mortally wounded

Haber Thinks CCC Will Be Retained

Lansing, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Dr. William Haber, state emergency welfare relief director, expressed confidence today the civilian conservation corps camps in Michigan would be retained and enlarged.

The director laid plans for another enrollment for the camps which now hold 11,000 men. Present appropriations of congress for financing the camps are exhausted.

The camps paid volunteers $3,000,000 during the first year. $2,500,000 of which was returned to their dependents.

GREEK REBEL LEADER FLEES NATIVE CRETE

WARSHIPS SURRENDER TO LOYAL FORCES

Rome, March 12 (AP)—Diplomatic circles said tonight the Greek government was preparing a demand for the extradition of former Premier Eleutherios Venizelos from the Italian island of Cassos, where the rebel cruiser Averoff landed him today with his wife and other revolt leaders.

The demand, they said, would be based upon the fact that he is not merely a political refugee but the leader of a revolution that cost the lives of hundreds of men and resulted in a loss of millions of drachm to the Greek government.

Therefore the contention is that he is not to be accorded the usual asylum for political exiles.

It was considered extremely unlikely that the Italian government would give up Venizelos.

Athens, March 12—Fiery Eleutherios Venizelos, his 12-day insurrection against Premier Panayoti Tsaldaris' government at an end, fled from his native Crete today to gain haven on the little Italian island of Cassos.

The cruiser Averoff, "flagship" of the rebel fleet, conveyed Venizelos, his wife and several other revolt chieftains to the 25-mile-square islet, and afterward radioed the government that it was continuing to Greece.

With Venizelos' flight, and the smashing of the rebels' land forces in Macedonia, the government's victory apparently was complete.

Seek Normalcy

The strife-racked Hellenic republic, its business and economic life at virtual standstill since the insurrection flared, began moving slowly back toward normalcy.

Recapture by loyal forces of the Averoff, which was expected to anchor off Phaleron tomorrow, completed the reconquest of the insurgents' sea forces, which for several days held Athens and its seaport, Piraeus, in fear of bombardment.

Earlier in the day the rebel destroyers Psara and Leon and the submarine Nereus were taken over by loyal forces. The rebel submarine Katsonis arrived at the Italian island of Patmos to be interned with all her compliment.

An official announcement said the toll of both sides in the land operations in Macedonia was only

Militant Campaign Planned on Violators of Game Laws

Marquette, Mich., Mar. 12 (AP)—Belief that the spring beaver trapping season will eliminate much of the violation of this law was expressed today at a conference of upper peninsula district and regional supervisors of the state conservation department held here in the office of Colonel William A. Bergin, chief conservation officer in the upper peninsula.

The new beaver trapping season, which opens April 1 and continues to April 15, was discussed and plans made for the apprehension of beaver violators. The season formerly opened in December, but was changed recently by the state conservation commission.

The conference was called by H. R. Sayre, of Lansing, chief field administrator for the department of conservation, who has general supervision over its law enforcement activities. Clarence Paquin, head of the department's educational division, and J. R. Robson, who has charge of fire towers and communications, also attended.

The supervisors were instructed to be especially alert for game poachers, particularly those who are killing deer. It was pointed out that since the middle of February a large number of violators have been arrested for "shining" deer or having venison in their possession and in all cases the persons arrested have been convicted.

Colonel Bergin, Sayre and Paquin will attend a meeting of the Wolverine Conservation club in Escanaba Thursday. M. J. Fox, of Iron Mountain, and Joseph Rahilly, of Newberry, members of the state conservation commission, also will attend.

Roosevelt Acts to Ban Holding Firms

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—With the flat dictum that "to avoid governmental socialism" congress must ban all except "necessary" public utility holding companies, President Roosevelt today sent to the capitol a twelve-point plan for dealing with the subject.

Slashing sharply in the same special message at what he called organized "propaganda" against the projected legislation, the president drew assertions from two utility groups that he had "prejudged" the case.

Slaps Propaganda

Mr. Roosevelt left little doubt, however, that the weight of the administration would be thrown behind the effort to push through utility holding company legislation at this session. After hitting at what he called "propaganda to exploit the most far-fetched and fallacious fears," which, he said, left him "unimpressed," Mr. Roosevelt added:

"Except where it is absolutely necessary to the continued functioning of a geographically integrated operating utility system the utility holding company with its present powers must go."

Among the repercussions from the presidential message were:

The American Federation of Utility Investors, through its president Hugh S. Magill, said in a statement tonight that the president's words indicated a state of mind that "cooly disregards the pleas of the people in the exercise of their constitutional right to petition their own government for a redress of grievance."

The committee of public utility executives, through a statement of its chairman, Philip H. Gadsen, asserted: "In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the president sends a message to congress today which seeks to prejudge the case."

Senator Norris, Nebraska's independent Republican, said the presidential message was "dandy" and that he would propose an in-

Washington Island Accident Victims Removed From Bay

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., March 12 (AP)—After two days of grappling in 70 feet of water off Washington Island, coast guardsmen late today recovered the last three bodies of six men who drowned Sunday when their automobile plunged through thin ice on Green Bay.

The bodies of Roy Stover, Raymond Richter, and Leroy Einardson, all 20 years old, were found trapped in the car which was brought to the surface today.

Earlier the body of Norman Nelson, 20, had been recovered. Those of John Cornell, Jr., 21, and Ralph Wade, 20, were found yesterday.

GIRL ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

Helen Banninga Admits She Wrote Ransom Note to Father

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 12. (AP)—Fourteen hours after Helen Jean Banninga, 18, returned to her home after a week's absence, federal agents accused her formally today with sending an extortion letter to her parents.

Miss Banninga has signed a statement. Detective Inspector Frank J. O'Malley of the local police, said, admitting that she conceived the "kidnaping" in an attempt to obtain money for "pretty clothes."

She was quoted as admitting that she wrote the note found at the Banninga home after her disappearance, demanding $5,500 ransom, and that she also was the author of a letter mailed from Detroit, also purporting to come from a kidnap gang and demanding money.

Stayed in Detroit

It was the second letter that formed the basis for the warrant issued this afternoon by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond. U. S. department of justice agents who worked on the supposed abduction case signed the complaint.

The girl had been detained since her return, early today, but District Attorney Joseph M. Donnelly said bond was being arranged.

Miss Banninga insisted she conceived the idea and carried it through alone. She said that, while officers all over the country looked for her, she was staying in Detroit rooming houses.

M. F. Glenn, a U. S. department of justice agent, said, however, that a small automobile apparently was trailing the girl when he found her walking toward her home early today, and that the car sped away at his approach.

Miss Banninga was a state's witness in the trial of Henry Marshall, who was convicted of slaying Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp at Lowell when he tried to halt an automobile carrying suspected bank robbers in 1932.

When the girl first disappeared last Tuesday, fear was expressed that she might have been kidnaped by members of the robber gang who still are at large.

Foreign Trade Day At Michigan Fair

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—Representatives of more than a dozen nations interested in Michigan's $200,000,000 export program were guests today at the Detroit and Michigan exposition. It was foreign trade day.

The visitors dined, at a buffet luncheon, upon buffalo meat from Clare county, apple pie from Kent county and other Michigan foodstuffs.

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint and former governor of Montana, were to be guests of honor at a ball tonight in connection with the exposition.

Restaurant Prices Advance With Food

Detroit, March 12. (AP)—Charles A. Bowen, secretary of the Michigan Restaurateurs, Inc., attributed today to rising prices of foodstuffs the increase in restaurant prices. He listed the following increases in prices for the year ending in February: bacon, 43.8 pct.; beef ribs, 52.9 pct.; lamb, 12.9 pct.; pork loin, 81.8 pct.; veal, 38.5 pct.; sausage, 47.4 pct.; salad oils, 76.4 pct.; shortening, 61.8 pct.; lard, 93.7 pct.; butter, 64.4 pct.; eggs, 46.7 pct.; milk, 18.7 pct.; flour, 8.4 pct.; carrots, 18.9 pct.; apricots, 27.3 pct.

SENATOR FACES JAIL SENTENCE

Wilkowski Found Guilty of Contempt, Plans To Appeal

Detroit, March 12 (AP)—State Senator Anthony J. Wilkowski, who claimed he was immune from judicial processes during the legislative session, faced an indefenite jail sentence today for refusal to testify about the recount of last December.

Recorder's Judge Thomas M. Cotter, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation of the recount, found Wilkowski guilty of contempt today because he ignored three court summonses.

He fined the Detroit Democratic senator $250; ordered him jailed until he agrees to testify, and then granted a stay of execution until Friday to permit an appeal to the supreme court. C. Walter Healy, Wilkowski's attorney, said the appeal would be made and indicated that legislative immunity would be the defense.

Said Records Lost

Wilkowski was chairman of the legislative committee that recounted votes cast in Wayne county last fall for secretary of state. On the committee's recommendation, Democratic legislators, in "joint convention," proclaimed Guy M. Wilson, Democrat, elected in place of Orville E. Atwood, Republican winner on the face of official returns. The supreme court subsequently upheld Atwood's claim to the office.

Senator Wilkowski testified two weeks ago before Judge Cotter, then was ordered to return the following day with tally sheets and other records of the committee. Instead, he sent a letter saying the records had been lost or mislaid, and that he was going to be busy in Lansing the remainder of the legislative session.

Judge Cotter issued a formal summons. Wilkowski disregarded it. Judge Cotter issued another order, for Wilkowski to appear and show cause why he should not be cited for contempt. Wilkowski ignored it. A third order followed, for Wilkowski to appear this morning.

When the senator ignored that, too, the judge found him guilty of contempt and fixed the penalty.

WORK MEASURE WINS IN TESTS

Insurgents Will Try to Reduce Appropriation By Two Billions

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, March 12. (AP)—Senate administration leaders herded the $4,880,000,000 relief bill through two test votes today, only to meet later with a determined insurgent effort to clip the proposed appropriation to half its size.

The majority chiefs succeeded in downing with a 75 to 5 vote an amendment by Senator Long (D-La.) to set aside a billion dollars of the fund to provide college educations for needy youths.

Then they mustered a 56 to 32 vote to beat an amendment proposed by Costigan (D-Colo) which would have broadened the terms of the bill to include "useful public works," especially state, municipal and other non-federal projects.

The big measure then ran into a siege of debate led by Democrats both from the agricultural sections and big city states. From both came questioning of the value of the measure to the unemployed in their respective types of communities.

After Senator Byrd (D-Va.) made public a report from the treasury showing that $1,500,000,000 of the $3,360,000,000 public works fund appropriated two years ago remained unexpended, Senator Copeland (D-N. Y.) opened the battle to cut the new relief outlay to $1,880,000,000. Byrd favors a $1,000,000,000 appropriation.

Other developments during the day were:

The senate adopted committee amendments eliminating miscellaneous purposes of the bill.

The McCarran amendment to specify irrigation and reclamation projects in the $500,000,000 earmarked for rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken farm areas, although objected to by Senator Byrns (D-S. C.) as unnecessary was accepted by Glass in order to expedite the bill.

An amendment by Costigan to specify water conservation and transmountain diversion, and one by Steiwer (R-Ore.) to specify rivers and harbors in the $350,000,000 earmarked for flood control and miscellaneous projects also were accepted by Glass.

Prince Juan, Spain, Engaged To Marry

Paris, March 12 (AP)—Spanish royalists said today Prince Juan, last remaining unmarried son and claimant to the throne vacated by former King Alfonso of Spain, is engaged to marry Princess Marie Mercedes, of the two Sicilies branch of the house of Bourbon-Anjou.

Princess Marie Mercedes is the daughter of the Infante Carlos of Bourbon-Anjou and Princess Louise of France—sister of the Duchess de Guise, whose husband is pretender to the throne of France.

Don Juan, who is serving as a midshipman aboard the British destroyer Winchester, declined to comment on reports of his engagement.

I. W. Stephenson III Wedding Announced

Hartford, Conn., March 12 (AP)—Announcement of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Biddle and Isaac Watson Stephenson, III, of West Hartford and Marinette, Wis., was made here today. The wedding took place March 7 at Waukegan, Ill.

Stephenson is the son of Mrs. I. W. Stephenson, Jr., of Marinette and a grandson of the late Wisconsin senator. He is an engineer at an aircraft com-

PROMOTED BY SCHOOL BOARD LAST EVENING

NEW PRINCIPAL TO BE SELECTED LATER

John A. Lemmer, principal of the Escanaba high school for the past ten years, was elevated to the position of superintendent of public schools of Escanaba, by the board of education at their meeting last evening. He will succeed R. E. Cheney whose resignation as superintendent here was accepted by the board last week. Cheney has accepted a position as superintendent of schools at River Forest, Ill., and his resignation here is effective in June.

The school board did not act in selecting a successor to Lemmer as principal of the senior high school at their meeting last evening, deciding to hold that appointment in abeyance until Mr. Lemmer had been consulted in the matter.

John Lemmer was graduated from the St. Joseph high school here in 1912. He attended Northern State Teachers college and later matriculated at Notre Dame university where he was graduated with a Bachelor degree in 1918. He received his Master's degree from the University of Michigan and later took additional graduate work at the University of Oregon. In 1931 he received his Doctor's degree at Columbia university.

He began his teaching career in Delta county rural schools, teaching two years in this county before accepting a position at Portland, Oregon. He was at Portland one year and then returned to Escanaba as instructor of mathematics and public speaking. He acted as debate coach at the local high school and made an enviable record in this field. After four years as an instructor in the high school here, Mr. Lemmer was appointed principal in 1925, succeeding R. E. Cheney who was promoted to the superintendency upon the resignation of W. E. Olds.

Goodrich Suspect Gets His Release

Sedalia, Mo., March 12 (AP)—A man arrested at a transient camp here on suspicion he was Merton W. Goodrich, wanted for the slaying of 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher at Detroit last September 26, was released today when his finger prints were found not to be those of Goodrich.

The man gave his name to police as Marvin Good of Elkhart, Ind., although they said he registered at the camp Sunday as Marvin Goodrich, 29, of Detroit. He stoutly denied any connection with the slaying of the girl whose body was found in an apartment occupied by Goodrich and his wife. The girl was last seen entering the apartment building to sell punch-board chances to a school benefit.

The work relief bill, after surviving tests on two amendments, ran into determined efforts to cut the $4,000,000,000 work appropriation.

William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, at a turbulent senate munitions hearing defended his campaign for more warships.

Secretary Perkins and Chairman Biddle of the labor relations board aired their differences over the Wagner labor disputes bill before a senate committee.

Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee predicted renewal of the 12-cents a pound loan on the 1935 cotton crop.

RELIEF PROBLEMS

WITH about 125,000 of its 300,000 people on the relief rolls, the upper peninsula is presenting a knotty problem to relief administration officials assigned to this region.

There has been some talk that it will be necessary to move some of the families to Alaska or somewhere else because of the belief that that these people will never again have an opportunity to find employment in their particular occupation in the upper peninsula. This proposal has drawn considerable criticism, however. It is argued that the transfer of populations would only create a more serious unemployment problem elsewhere, since all regions now have a labor surplus.

Those who are more optimistic and have abiding faith in the upper peninsula believe that the natural resources can be utilized to provide new business enterprise and opportunities for reemployment.

The upper peninsula has room for further agricultural development. At the present time, insufficient butter and other dairy products are produced here to take care of the local demand. These products are being shipped in from other states.

This is ideal potato raising country, but upper peninsula growers are unable to cope with the competition offered by the nationally known Maine and Idaho potatoes. These outside potatoes command a much-higher price in the Detroit market right today. The adoption of uniform grading and improvement of marketing methods are needed to have upper peninsula fare better in the potato markets. There should be an opportunity also in the growing of more certified seed tubers in this section.

Under the direction of the extension department of Michigan State College, much is being done to apprize farmers of the possibilities for earning additional income in the growing of rutabagas. Soil and climatic conditions are particularly suited for the raising of rutabagas, but the marketing of this farm produce will be the main task. Exploitation methods used by the growers of tomatoes, grapefruit, oranges and other produce probably could be worked out.

Much of the relief problem worry is expected to be banished by the comprehensive program that that has been launched by the U. S. Forest Service in the reforestation of idle, waste lands to grow timber for future lumbering operations and at the same time promote the recreational possibilities of this north country. The Forest Service program is likely to change the economic complexion of this region. New communities may spring up within or just outside of forest borders, and new industries may develop in a coordinated plan for the rebuilding and harvesting of the forests.

The copper mining picture appears somewhat gloomy, but already efforts are being directed in Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties for developing the natural resources to create new industrial and business activities. Much is being done to promote the tourist and resort business in that outstanding scenic region. Iron mining still has a good future. With the improvement of business generally throughout the country, the iron mines of the upper peninsula will still be producing and furnishing many jobs to the miners.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and the chambers of commerce are exerting more intensive efforts to publicize the northern peninsula as a vacationland. The best thing we have to sell is our wonderful summer climate. We have fishing, hunting and scenery in abundance, too. These organizations have been giving more attention of late to the matter of providing accommodations and also entertainment for the vacationists, so that they will extend their stay and be influenced to return in the succeeding years.

There is still some fight in this upper peninsula.

THE ECCLES PLAN

WHEN Gov. Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board told the House Banking Committee that a redistribution of income is in order in the United States, he helped to clarify a situation which has grown pretty confused.

Governor Eccles was careful to point out that it is income, and not capital, which needs re-dealing.

It is a point which ought to be kept in mind by all people who are casting wistful glances at any of the current share-the-wealth movements.

At the height of the post-war boom, Governor Eccles says, one-tenth of one per cent of the families at the top of the income list got as much money as 42 per cent of the families at the bottom.

They couldn't possibly spend all their money. Most of it had to be invested.

But investing it simply meant that the money was used to stimulate production. The country's capacity to produce was pushed ahead of its capacity to buy.

Eventually we found ourselves floundering about in a depression featured by that astounding contradiction, want in the midst of plenty.

Governor Eccles sees the remedy as a more equitable distribution of incomes. This, he says, can be accomplished most effectively through income taxes.

Now contrast this view with the rising demand for a redistribution of capital wealth.

Capital wealth consists largely of intangibles—stocks, bonds, and the like. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that the claims of the most vocal share-the-wealth group are true, and that this wealth if divided would give each family $5000. What would happen then?

The family would not get $5,000 of income. It would get a $5000 stake in the country's mass of securities. If these gave an average return of 4 per cent, the family would draw exactly $200 a year—which is a long way from being enough to support a family in this day and age.

In other words, we are asked to put through a scheme which would rock capitalism to its foundations to give each family an income far below even the subsistence wage in the pending public works bill.

Mr. Eccles' plan would create infinitely less disturbance in the world of business and finance—and, at the same time, it would be far more lucrative for the people who need increased incomes.

AROUND THE U. P.
(Ironwood Globe)

THE Square Circle conservation organization of Gaastra made no bones about its attitude toward game and fish law violators when it adopted a resolution the other day in which it formally commended Max Jaeger and Archie Beauchamp, conservation officers, for their good work in apprehending game law violators in Iron county. More organizations ought to do that and be sincere about it because, as former Conservation Commissioner Newett of Ishpeming pointedly states it, "The man who violates, steals from all of the people of the state."

Resignation of Supt. Cheney of the Escanaba schools will take from the Peninsula an educator who has relentlessly championed the cause of financially distressed school districts. He is generally given credit for creation of the Turner fund by which several millions were made available for struggling school districts. Leastwise he was prominently identified with the group that brought about passage of the law.

Most cities in the Peninsula have no occasion to employ bridge tenders, but Menominee does, and Menominee has its annual battle in the city council over their appointment. The council over their appointment. The council scrap always develops even though the pay of the head bridge tender is only $2.25 a day and that of his helpers $2 a day. Their duties are to man the drawbridge over the Menominee river, permitting steamers to go up stream. The occasional thrill they get out of the job comes when a steamer comes close to crashing into the bridge.

The smoothest Paul Bunyan story of the week is told by the Rev. Mr. Poyseor relates that Anvil Chorus was so named because the O'Rourke boys would go down to the blacksmith shop for the anvil and when it was brought into camp, services were started. Bunyan insisted on singing the bass for the entire camp, according to the reverend sir of Crystal Falls.

Iron county is going to let the supreme court decide which of two men is entitled to the office of county road commissioner. Leonard Lind was named Dec. 15 on the twenty-sixth ballot, indicating the county board had a hard time to reach a decision. Two weeks later the board reconsidered its action and elected Russell Fish. Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell ruled in favor of Fish. The question is, Which of the two men will serve until the supreme court finally settles the issue?

Senator A. S. Heidkamp of Lake Linden apparently is held in esteem at Lansing by Republicans and Democrats alike. On the recent anniversary of his birth, Republicans presented him with a silk dressing gown and a fountain pen. Democrats, not to be outdone, gave him a brief case. Nobody seems to know the age of Senator Heidkamp, but it is generally known that he has been in business in the Peninsula for about 40 years and was mayor of his home town 20 consecutive years. Leastwise, that's the information given out by the Red Book.

SILKEN SPINDLES

(By NEA Service) BY LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

CHAPTER XLVII

Men in New York subway trains folded their newspapers, read the headlines and shook their heads. Women in San Francisco—mothers with sons of their own—read the same paragraphs and sighed. Middle-western farmers, resting after the day's work, looked up from their reading long enough to say, "It's an outrage, that's what it is. An outrage!"

And thousands of others, all over the country, repeated the words. The death of Steve Meyers, the young silk mill employe who had died from injuries said to have been received when he was trying to defend himself from lawless thugs who had broken into a peaceable meeting of mill workers, stirred nation-wide indignation. The young man, newspaper accounts pointed out, was the only support of a widowed mother, a steady, dependable workman.

Moreover, there were charges that the ruffians who had clubbed Meyers so brutally had been paid by the mill management. Others who had attended the interrupted meeting, notably a certain Joseph Gillaspie, gave graphic descriptions of what had happened.

Editorials expressing protests were published. Sermons were preached. Cartoons championing the rights of the workers were drawn.

And in Washington a rotund man in a gray suit faced another, seated at a desk. The rotund man said, "Well, Chief, I'm off tonight. I was going to send Churchill, but I think it's better to go myself. It's the same case we had the report on last week. Things seem to be even worse than they were presented. Flagrant violations, open defiance—"

"How about that western trip?"

"Going to postpone it. I tell you this thing is pressing! It calls for immediate action."

"Yes. I think you're right. What time did you say you are leaving?"

"Seven-thirty. I'm taking the first train."

The man at the desk nodded. "Let me have a report as soon as you can get it ready. I'm interested."

"I will, Chief." The man in the gray suit raised a hand in a gesture of farewell and turned toward the door.

Gale Henderson, walking up the street slowly, watched the ball of flame that was the late afternoon sun slip behind the tree tops. It was a gorgeous sun. In 20 minutes — perhaps less — the sky would be a riot of color.

Sad that anything so beautiful as a sunset should last such a short time—or was it?

Gael thought, "The good things and bad things are so mixed up—"

It did seem true. For everything that caused happiness and made the world brighter must there always be something equally sad? Gale had good news tonight. She should have been happy. Well—she was. Of course she was happy, knowing Phil would be home the next day! The lawyer had told her so less than an hour earlier. The lawyer who was so young-looking and who had so little experience had done great things for Phil. He had worked hard—with impressive results.

For one thing, he had discovered that the gun the policeman had taken from Phil's pocket, the one Phil was accused of firing, had been bought less than six weeks before by Ed Vogel's friend Stroude. He had also talked to a woman who had watched the street fight from a nearby window. The woman said (and she was willing to give her testimony in court) that she had seen the gun in Stroude's hand just as someone struck him. The discharge, she was sure, was accidental and the revolver had not been aimed.

And so Phil was coming home. Ed Vogel, still in the hospital was growing stronger every day. Vogel was able to see company now, but his friend, Stroude, had not paid him a visit. From all reports, Stroude had been missing from his haunts ever since Phil's lawyer first began making inquiries.

Phil was coming home and the young lawyer responsible was the one whom Steve Meyers had found and persuaded to take the case. Steve had done it, really—and Steve was in his grave.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

YOUTHFULNESS

Men talk of years as if they came
 On certain days at certain times,
As though all lives were all the same,
 All months alike, alike all climes.
One can be "old" at twenty-five
 Or very "young" at fifty-two:
Today perhaps ten years arrive,
 Or youth perhaps comes back to you.

How young is youth that finds deceit
 Where it has trusted, as it may?
How old is age, whose life is sweet
 With faithful friendships all the way?
For what know calendars of joy,
 Or care, or anything of men?
One year may make a man a boy,
 Another age a mortal ten.

Talk not of years but youthfulness,
 The only measure of a man,
A thing that youth may not possess,
 Yet age may keep its fullest span.
No calendar upon a wall
 Records the progress of the years.
For some will only smiles recall,
 And some remember only tears.

Connie Mack Sees A's as Contenders for Flag

AVERAGE AGE IS ONLY 25 YEARS

Jimmy Foxx Behind Plate Will Be Valuable to Young Pitchers

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12—There is a gleam in the pale blue eyes of 72-year-old Connie Mack as he prepares the Philadelphia Athletics for their 35th season in the American League.

You do not suspect that Mack has something up his sleeve. You only have to look out over Terry Field to know that he has.

The current crop of Athletics brings happy memories to Mack of a team that reported to him a quarter century ago—Plank, Bender, and Coombs; Ira Thomas; McInnis, Collins, Barry, and Baker; and Oldring, Strunk, and Danny Murphy.

The squad that has buckled down to work here also reminds Mack of the band he assembled in 1925, which went on to the first of three pennants and two world championships four years later — Grove, Earnshaw, and Walberg; Cochrane; Jimmy Foxx, Bishop, and Dykes; Simmons, and Haas.

The current Athletics may not attain the heights of the two great arrays that preceded them before they are torn apart, but there is talent galore in the 29 athletes going through the paces here.

And what pleases Mack most is the fact that the average age of the band is only 25 years.

"With Jimmy Foxx catching and handling the young pitchers, the Athletics have a chance to win the pennant in a wide-open race," smiles Mack.

Pitching Prospects Rosy

Mack is banking on the backstopping of Foxx and the natural improvement of his young pitchers to sweep the outfit from fifth place, where it finished in 1934, to a contending position.

He has a half dozen exceptional pitching prospects in Johnny Marcum, Bill Dietrich, Alton Benton, Charley Lieber, George Caster, and Vernon Wilshere, a southpaw.

Marcum copped 14 games and lost 11 in 1934. The bespectacled Dietrich won 11 and dropped 12. Both won most of their victories during the last half of the campaign.

During the closing weeks, Dietrich trimmed the flag-gathering Detroit Tigers, 1-0, before an overflow Sunday crowd at Navin Field with an ordinary fly going for a two-base hit. Mack called it one of the finest pitching performances for a youngster on the road that he ever witnessed.

Lieber, who slings a deceptive sinker, was drafted from the San Francisco Missions, for whom he grabbed 19 decisions while losing 13 games.

Caster, purchased from the Portland Coasters, won three games and lost two, after reporting in September. This former University of Southern California all-around star is the most symmetrically built of all the sterling athletes attacking victuals at the Bedford hotel here.

Caster is a pitcher without a windup. He throws the ball with a single sidearm motion. It is a sort of legal quick pitch. He has remarkable control.

Sugar Cain is a right-hander of established worth, and LeRoy Mahaffey has been around long enough to know how to pitch. Little Joe Cascarella, the crooner, met with some success in 1934.

Sammy Foxx, 17, and Bill Bennett, 18, southpaws, will be sent out. So will Edgar Smith, a semi-professional of Columbus, N. J.

Charley Berry is back to warm up pitchers and to be available in the event Jimmy Foxx is hurt. Bill Conroy and Charley Moss are youngsters who require seasoning.

Infield Has Young Talent

Alex Hooks, a fancy fielding left-hander, tackles the robust assignment of filling the large brogans of the famous Foxx at first base. This former all-round luminary of Southern Methodist university hit .340 in the Texas League last season.

Dib Williams is to start at second, with Rabbit Warstler and Charley English ready to relieve him in the event that his throwing does not improve.

English hit .326 and was voted the most valuable player in the Texas League.

Lamar Newsome, who comes from Tulsa with Hooks and a .286 batting average, is butting his head against a stone wall in trying to take Eric McNair's job at shortstop.

Bob Fausett, who helped Galveston win the Texas League gonfalon with a left-handed batting average of .282, faces the same kind of competition in Frank Higgins at third base.

Outfielder Lou Finney will step in at first base if Hooks falls down.

Bob Johnson, working with a good behavior clause in his contract, Ed Coleman, and Roger Cramer form an outfield that is quite good enough, and Wallace Moses, Jr., a left-hand hitter who swatted .316 for Galveston, is on hand to help out.

A strip from a man's neck was used by a plastic surgeon to repair his throat. The operation was successful until that strip grew a beard and prevented the patient from swallowing, according to a British medical journal.

In Camp With Big Leaguers

A SLUGGER

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Vernon (George) Washington, heir apparent to left field in the Chicago White Sox lineup, featured today's drill with an impressive sample of his slugging prowess.

Washington belted all kinds of hurling to all fields. Al Simmons also had a good day.

DIZZY PITCHES

Brandenton, Fla. (AP)—The 1935 debut of Jerome Herman Dean, ace flinger of the St. Louis Cardinals, was none too auspicious today but the world champions came through with a victory in their first exhibition season game, defeating the Phillies, 9 to 6.

Dean hurled the first three innings and was touched for three runs, all in the third when he walked two men.

DRESSEN INJURED

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Cincinnati Reds became a training camp casualty today.

A bat, slipping from the hands of Harlan Pool in batting practice, whacked Dressen across the head. Doctors said he apparently suffered no fracture, but planned an X-ray to make sure.

WANTS TO REPORT

Biloxi, Miss. (AP)—Pitcher Walter Stewart, Washington's sole remaining holdout, today made overtures to Owner Clark Griffith. Griffith said Stewart called him from Crossville, Tenn., and asked permission to report for training.

TOO MUCH WIND

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—The whole Yankee squad resembled the "murderers row" of a few years ago in batting practice today when a strong wind blew across the field to turn base hits into triples. The fielders suffered accordingly, however, and Manager Joe McCarthy finally cut the drill short because of the bad playing conditions.

HALF HOLIDAY

Orlando, Fla. (AP)—Casey Stengel gave his Brooklyn Dodger varsity a half holiday today while the scrubs and the freshmen put on a game that ended in a 3-3 tie. In the afternoon the regulars took the field for a routine drill and an extra-strenuous session in the sliding pit.

SUHR REPORTS

San Bernardino, Cal. (AP)—Captain Gus Suhr, the Pittsburgh Pirates' one and only holdout, returned to the fold today, and is ready to take over the first base chores.

He put in a surprise appearance at the training camp this morning, announcing "I couldn't stay away," went into a huddle with William Benswanger and Manager Pie Traynor, and signed his contract.

CARLETON HURT

Avalon, Cal. (AP)—After avoiding training injuries for twelve days, the Chicago Cubs came up with their first casualty today when Tex Carleton, husky right-hander, wrenched a shoulder. The former St. Louis Cardinal hurler fell in fielding a ground ball. Second Baseman Billy Herman also was out of action, having been ordered to remain in bed to clear up a cold.

BERGER CONFIDENT

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—Wally Berger, the Boston Braves' hard hitting outfielder, has not done much this season, due to a sprained back and a blistered toe, but he assured Manager Bill McKechnie that he intended to be in the No. 4 hole, right behind Babe Ruth, when the Tribesmen open their long series with the Yankees here on Saturday. McKechnie gave his players the lightest sort of drills during today's workout.

TAKES NO CHANCES

Sarasota, Fla., (AP)—Manager Joe Cronin wants his Boston Red Sox team to win every one of its exhibition games but just the same he is not going to take any unnecessary chances. As a result, Rick Ferrell, the ace catcher, and Max Bishop, veteran second baseman, will remain behind when the club goes to Miami tomorrow to open against the Giants.

EVANS SATISFIED

New Orleans, (AP)—A glow of optimism emanated today from Billy Evans, the Cleveland Indians' general manager.

After a week in camp he declared himself satisfied that the outfield will be "50 per cent better than it was last season," the pitching "tops," and the infield rejuvenated.

"Volley Ball"

The results of the volley ball games last night follow:

Merchants defeated Ancients, 15-11, 15-12, 15-6.

Strible Dums beat Foresters, 15-12, 15-5, 15-6.

Meteors beat Hawks, 15-1, 15-4, 15-2, 15-3.

Teachers beat Rum Dums, 15-12, 15-6, 16-14.

Fifty per cent of Russia's people are under 20 years of age; 31 per cent are under that age in France; and 29 per cent in the United States.

SKATE CONTEST DRAWING CROWD

16,000 Fans Will Watch Exhibitions at New York Garden

New York, March 12 (AP)—With the big Eighth avenue arena transformed into a magic palace of ice and glittering fantasy, the leading skaters of Europe, Canada and the United States will swing through their exhibitions of grace and skill tomorrow night in the sixth annual International Ice Skating Carnival at Madison Square Garden.

For nearly a week the "standing room only" sign has been hanging by the reservation window, indicating that 16,000 spectators will jam the Garden. The demand for tickets has been so great that the Skating Club of New York, which is staging the event for the benefit of the Bellevue Hosptial Social Relief Service, has arranged for a return engagement March 27.

For the first time since the inauguration of the event, the queen of all figure skaters, Sonja Henie, will not be present. Five other leading skaters of the continent are here, however, together with Maribel Vinson, Boston, and Robin Lee of Minneapolis, the United States champions, and the Canadian pairs titleholders, Louise Bertram and Stewart Reburn of Toronto, famous for their tango dancing.

Germany will be represented by its national champions, 15-year-old Maxie Herber, and Ernst Baier; Sweden by Viv-Ann Hulton, titleholder in her country since 1927; and Austria's great acrobatic pair skaters, Idi Papez and Karl Zwack.

St. Louis Eagles Defeat Red Wings

St. Louis, March 12 (AP)—Three seconds was long enough for the Eagles to change defeat into victory tonight as they overcame a one-goal deficit in the final period to whip the Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 2.

The National Hockey League match, played before some 8,000 fans, closed the season here. The Eagles play their final game of the season at Toronto.

Battling the Wings on even terms throughout the opening session, the Eagles fell behind in the second when Lewis scored for Detroit. Then, after plugging along for nearly 15 minutes of the final period, the Eagles within a flash time changed the entire complexion of the game.

Frank Jerwa bounced the tying goal at 14:50 to make the count two-all and, before the yell of the fans had faded, Lamb sent the winning marker home at 14:53.

Detroit's first counter came in the opening frame, as Johnny Sorell converted a speedy pass play from Syd Howe, former Eagle, and Eddie Wiseman. Turning on the heat, the Eagles' continuous rushes were rewarded 10 minutes later when Asmundson knotted the count at one-all.

Boston Bruins Win From Amerks, 4 to 1

Boston, Mar. 12 (AP)—The hard-driving Boston Bruins moved another step nearer their goal, a first-place N. H. L. playoff berth, by defeating the New York Americans, 4-1, in a listless game tonight at the Boston Garden.

Big Nels Stewart and his left-winger, Speedy "Red" Beattie, accounted for all of the Boston scoring and Bill Brydge, with Normie Himes assisting, registered the star-spangled goal, early in the second period.

The Bruins were checked until late in the opening frame. Beattie's first scoring shot came at 15:40 and, less than two minutes later, Stewart clinched the game with his initial tally. Eddie Shore assisted big Nels on that successful play and combined with him again late in the second frame. Beattie's number two was registered in the last minute of play.

BOXING

Canton, O., Mar. 12 (AP)—Paul Pirrone of Cleveland knocked out Frankie Misko of Detroit in one minute and 50 seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten-round battle tonight.

Misko, who weighed 155, was floored by a long left jab to the chin. Pironne weighed 162.

Eight Ex-Vols on Giant Squad

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—No less than eight former members of the Nashville baseball team are working out with the New York Giants at Miami Beach, Fla. They are Hank Leiber, Phil Weintraub, Clyde Castleman, Ralph McAdams, Frank Gabler, Joe Martin, Al Cuccinello and Sharkey Eiland.

Sonja to Quit After 1936

Oslo (AP)—Sonja Henie, after winning her ninth world skating championship recently, announced she would begin training for her third Olympic championship effort in 1936, and her tenth world championship. After these events she will conclude her sports career.

Michigan Rules Waves In College Swimming

BY MERLE OLIVER

Ann Arbor, Mich., (AP)—The "best swimming team ever gathered in one pool" is what Coach Matt Mann calls the University of Michigan 1935 tank squad.

He is in a position to know since his pupils have won seven out of the last eight Western conference titles and five out of eight national championships.

They will defend their Big Ten championship at Champaign, Ill. March 16, and their national collegiate title at Cambridge, Mass., March 29 and 30.

"We might be defeated in the national meet," the Wolverine coach opines, "because a lot depends on how its points are split up by one or two-man teams. But no team could lick us in a dual meet."

Michigan's brightest stars are Tex Robertson and Frank Barnard, middle distance free stylers; Taylor Drysdale and Fred Cody back stroke; Jack Kasley, breast stroke; Ogden Dalrymple, Bob Renner and Bob Mowerson, sprinters; and Ben Grady, Frank Fehsenfeld, Derland Johnston and Ned Diefendorf, divers.

Both Robertson and Barnard swim the 440 well under five minutes and both have been clocked around 2:13 in the 220-yard free style. Mann believes Drysdale will crack the 150-yard world's backstroke record this season.

Kasley already has shattered the American 200-yard breast stroke record, and Mann expects him to lower it from 2:26 to 2:23. The medley relay team of Drysdale, Kasley and Dalrymple holds the American record of 3:01.2 established in a dual meet with Iowa.

Mann isn't saying much about his sprinters as individuals, but he claims he can put a quartet into the water which will swim the 400-yard relay in 3:34, more than six seconds faster than the existing Big Ten record.

"All the Big Ten records for more than 100 yards will go into discard at the 1935 championship meet," the Michigan coach predicted. "My boys will break them."

Canadiens Cop 4-3 Edge from Rangers

New York, March 12 (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens showed a speedy, well timed attack tonight to defeat the New York Rangers 4 to 3 in a game that was considered a "preview" of the third place National Hockey League play-off series. The defeat virtually condemned the Rangers to third in the American division while the habitants are definitely settled in that position in the International group.

A clever solo rush by Tony Savage while the Canadiens were short handed in the second period was the deciding play after they had raced through a speedy opening frame with the count at 2-2.

The Rangers tied the score again late in the third period when Bill Cook topped off a gang play with a fast shot, but Aurel Joliat quickly netted the winning tally for Montreal.

The other goal getters were Leroy Goldsworthy and George Mantha of the Canadiens and Cecil Dillon and Charley Mason of the Rangers.

Junior B Riflists Defeat Pioneers

The Escanaba Rifle club Junior B team defeated the Pioneers, 767 to 409, at the indoor range last night. The scores were as follows:

Notre Dame Gridder Has Two Operations

New York, Mar. 12 (AP)—Joseph Sullivan, captain-elect of Notre Dame's football team, underwent two operations and two blood transfusions in New York hospital today. Hospital officials reported him "fairly comfortable" tonight, although still in a serious condition.

Sullivan was operated upon for a pus formation on the inside of the skull overlying the brain and for a mastoid condition. Later he received two blood transfusions for a streptococcus infection.

Sullivan is 22 years old, the son of Police Lieutenant Timothy Sullivan of Belle Harbor, Queens, New York

Yacht Club Holds Ice Boat Races At South Shore Sunday

The Escanaba Yacht club held the first of its series of winter ice boat races Sunday afternoon. The event was staged off the south shore, over a triangular mile and a half course.

The results of the races were as follows:

Class A—Stoll, first; Aronson, second; Coan, third.

Class B—Derouin and Weisert, first; C. Olson, second; B. Sullivan, third.

The feature of the day was the race between Art Aronson and Charlie Stoll in Class A, which was won by Stoll. Ice boat fans are looking forward with much enthusiasm to the next meeting between these two in a week or two.

Toronto Maple Leaf Sextet Wins, 1 to 0

Montreal, Mar. 12 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs scored a 1-0 victory over the Montreal Maroons tonight in a National Hockey league game between the first and second place clubs of the International section. It was the final game of the seasonal series between these rivals, Toronto winning five games against only one for the Maroons.

The only goal of the game came late in the second period with Hec Kilrea on the scoring end of a combination play in which Harvey Jackson and Bill Thoms also figured.

M'KECHNIE IS ALL BUSINESS

Has No Worry Regarding 1936 and Ruth, Says Braves' Boss

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP)—William B. McKechnie, boss of the Boston Braves and a veteran of the baseball wars who is never in the habit of "popping off," wants it made clear, once and for all, that he is attending strictly to the business of whipping his club into shape for the coming National League season, without word or fear as to what will happen by 1936.

The circulation today of reports that McKechnie had said Babe Ruth would not manage the Braves next year—as is generally anticipated—caused a flurry in camp but drew a prompt and decisive reply from Manager Bill.

"I have said nothing of the kind to anyone," declared McKechnie when the Associated Press informed him of the rumor.

Complete Understanding

"It is ridiculous on the face of it as everyone should know. In the first place, it's not up to me to comment on what will happen next year. I'm not the president of the club. I'm the manager. I have a job to do this year. That's all I'm concerned with. Ruth is here to help me and play ball. He and I have a complete understanding about what we are trying to do now."

There is no mystery about the situation. Ruth, under the three-year contract he has signed with the Braves, has an understanding that he will take over complete charge of the team as manager in 1936, with McKechnie stepping up into the job of business or general manager.

The Babe has a definite understanding with Emil E. Fuchs and Charles F. Adams, the president and vice president of the club. Fuchs has publicly assured Ruth there will be "no handicap" to his taking the manager's job next year. McKechnie is fully acquainted with all the details. He has nothing to worry about now or next season, for that matter. Neither has Ruth.

The "soft pedal" was put on the 1936 arrangements for obvious reasons soon after the Babe signed with the Braves. The important business in hand for this year, designed to put the club back on its feet financially, is uppermost in everyone's mind.

As Ruth remarked: "If they will just let Bill and me alone. We will get along OK. Let next year take care of itself."

Vulcan Defeats Hermansville By Score Of 29-27

Hermansville, Mich., March 12—The Hermansville city basketball team was nosed out by the classy Vulcan five in a game played on the community club floor here Sunday. The final score was 29-27 in favor of the visitors.

The game was closely fought throughout with neither team having a great advantage at any time. Although outscored from the floor, the locals made good nine times from the free throw line on nine fouls by the Vulcan boys to keep them in the running.

Spartan Freshmen Cagers Rewarded

East Lansing, Mich., March 12 (AP)—Tom King, Michigan State's freshman basketball coach, announced the award today of "1938" numerals to ten members of his squad. They include: Leo G. Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Don P. Hanson, Muskegon; Charles A. Henry, Huntington, Ky.; James E. Jackson, Kenmore, N. Y.; Howard A. Kraft, Niles; Alfred Ritz, Highland Park; Kenneth A. Schuman, Grand Rapids; Gordon M. Poor, Traverse City and William L. Vyn, Redford.

YOUNG PLAYERS

Fort Myers, Fla. (AP)—Taking it by and large, Connie Mack's 1935 Philadelphia Athletics team—if it clicks—has at least five good years to go.

The roster statistics show the members of the squad who will probably be carried through the season, average 26 years in age—five below the 31 at which ball-players usually slow up.

National Indoors Doubles Tourney Gets Under Way

New York, March 12 (AP)—The boys did double duty today as twenty tandem teams waded through a pair of preliminary rounds in the national indoor doubles tennis championship at the seventh regiment armory.

Eight teams were left to play in the quarter-final round tomorrow in connection with the third round of the singles championship.

The top-seeded team of Gregory S. Mangin of Hoboken and Berkeley Bell overpowered a pair of physicians, T. W. Webster and Robert Millen, both of Forest Hills, 6-2, 6-3, and then they put to an end the championship aspirations of Frankie Pericha and Joey Abrams, 6-4, 6-0.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., ranked No. 2 in the nation combined with Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers to defeat Lieutenant R. Morgan Watt and H. Irving Pratt, 7-5, 6-4, after receiving a first round bye.

The other survivors in the doubles competition are Stephen Brubans of South Orange, N. J., and Donald Hawley of South Orange, N. J., Merritt Cutler and Fred Anderson of New York; Dr. Lawrence Kurzork and Julius Seligson; Albert Law, Jr., and Leonard Hartman of New York; J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., and Frank J. Bowden of New York.

TIGERS ENJOY PRACTICE GAME

Regulars Beat Yannigans At Lakeland by 2-0 Score

Lakeland, Fla., Mar. 12 (AP)—The Tiger regulars who won the 1934 American League pennant shut out a Yannigan outfit today, 2 to 0, in seven innings. The Yannigans were bolstered by the services of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Elden Auker and Pete Fox.

Clyde Hatter and Vic Sorrell held the Yans to four scattered hits, including a double by Rowe and a single by Millard (Dixie) Howell, former Alabama football star. Hatter performed like a veteran and Sorrell, who had snitched a little practice on the side even before he came to camp, did even better.

Goose Goslin was the real batting star of the game. He pounded out two doubles in three trips to the plate, one each off the offerings of Rowe and Auker. Chester Morgan, a young Beaumont recruit, accounted for another of the regulars' five hits, a single.

Rowe was nicked for four safeties and two runs, one of the latter unearned. He said he was so overjoyed by the contract he signed last night that he just couldn't bear down. It took the Schoolboy only two minutes to make up his mind about the document, terms of which were secret.

Auker yielded only one hit in three innings for the Yannigans today, but his service was a trifle wild.

The mercurial Jo-Jo White's fielding prowess spoiled what looked for a time like a double for Gerald Walker. Jo-Jo somehow got in front of a hard drive, and held Gerald to first on the play.

Howell looked better today than he has since coming to camp. Although most of his experience has been at shortstop, he held down Marvin Owens' job at third base like a fellow who knew how. He won the praises of at least one of his rivals for an infield position, the candid Heinie Schuble.

Experienced Cage Officials To Work Ironwood Tourney

Ironwood, Mich., Mar 12—The officials named to handle the upper peninsula championship basketball tournament to be held here this week-end March 14, 15, and 16, are men of wide experience as athletes and officials. They are:

William H. Puckelwartz, Escanaba—A graduate of the University of Michigan, where he starred in athletics. He has been teaching for seven years and has had five years experience as an official and is rated on the approved list. He officiated in the regional tournament at Ishpeming two years ago. He is 30 years old.

Earl D. Rich, Crystal Falls—A graduate of Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., in 1924. He is 34 years old. He has had three years of high school athletic experience, four years of college, and six years with semi-pro organizations. He has been a coach for five years and has had three years experience in officiating in the upper peninsula and is on the approved list. To date this year he has handled 16 games.

Paul R. Ritzman, Ishpeming—Was graduated from Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb, Ill., with the degree of bachelor of education in 1927. His athletic experience includes two years of varsity football and two years of varsity basketball. In 1927 he participated in the national amateur basketball tournament in Kansas City. He played varsity baseball for three years. As a basketball official he is on the approved list and has six years of experience officiating cage games and five years as a football official. To date this season he has handled 27 basketball games.

OCONTO RIVER SMELT RUN ON

Silvery Fish Expected To Start Up Menominee Soon

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—The smelt run is on at Oconto.

The river is literally alive with fishermen, dipping nondescript nets through holes cut in the ice, lifting tons of wiggling smelt from the stream.

There is scarcely four feet between the dip holes the fishermen have cut in the ice. Working elbow to elbow, the fishermen, and women, are taking advantage of the first part of the annual smelt run.

Most of the "claims" are marked with brush or limbs.

With a deadline a quarter-mile from the mouth of the river (set up by the state conservation commission) there are so many within the legitimate zone, that it is nearly impossible for a fish to get by the nets.

With the run on at Oconto, the fish are expected to run in the Menominee river soon.

SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Marinette, Mar. 12 (Special)—A new seasonal industry employing more than 100 men that has sprung up within the last five years will be resumed soon. Marinette and Menominee fishermen are now setting up rigs on the inter-state bridge in anticipation of the smelt run.

Great Lakes smelt were originally planted in Canadian waters tributary to Lake Erie and have since spread all over the Great Lakes. It is estimated that 800 to 900 tons of smelt were taken from Green bay and tributary stream waters last year, and James Pedersen, Marinette fish wholesaler, states that about 1,000 tons should be caught this year.

During the smelt run the inter-state bridge is lined with fishermen and about 50 persons are employed by local fisheries to clean and pack the fish. Jumbo smelt, the larger variety caught in Green bay, have doubled within the last three years, Pedersen says, and there is reason to believe that they will continue to increase for many years.

Markets Increase

"Markets are also increasing," Pedersen said today, "and we expect to ship 200 tons this year to firms in Boston, New York and Chicago. Last year we shipped 165 tons. Twenty-one tons in a day was our biggest haul."

If the mild weather continues for a few days the run should get under way as soon as the ice breaks up. The choicest places along the inter-state bridge are now taken, most of the rigs being set up on the Marinette side of the span.

Conservation authorities explain that Wisconsin fishermen should fish on the Wisconsin side of the bridge, and those from Michigan must fish on the Menominee side.

Issue Rules

The Wisconsin state conservation commission has issued regulations governing smelt fishing on the Menominee river, calling for nets that must be less than eight feet square or diameter, and the mesh must be less than 1½ inches. No regulations have been posted to date in Menominee.

Last year the smelt run began March 26. The date has varied between March 17, in 1931, to March 28, in 1932. Sturdy rigs are constructed on the bridges, "V" shaped, and wired in place to the bridge railing. Nets are dropped from the rigs, bringing in as much as a hundred pounds of smelt at a dip.

Legion Drummers Choose M. L. Coon As New Manager

Marvin L. Coon was elected manager of the Escanaba American Legion drum and bugle corps at their annual election in the council room of the city hall last night. A letter was read from M. J. Lang, who served as manager during the past year, asking that the corps allow him to retire in favor of Mr. Coon. The latter, a native of Hancock, has long been active in Legion affairs. He served in the U. S. navy for two years during the World war, and at present holds the rank of lieutenant commander in the naval reserve, of which he has been a member for 24 years.

Other officers elected last night were: assistant manager, Herbert Grosnick; quartermaster, Emmett Kauphusman; treasurer, Carl Wickman; musical director, Frank Karas; historian, L. A. Danielson.

Rehearsals of the corps will be started immediately, beginning with next Tuesday evening at 7:30, it was decided. Several public appearances are already in prospect for the organization. Elmer Swanson, vice commander of the Escanaba Legion post, who presided at the meeting last night, announced that the corps had been asked to participate in the smelt jamboree celebration which is to take place in about three weeks, depending on the weather.

An inventory is now being taken of the corps' uniforms and equipment by the new quartermaster.

Extemporaneous Speaker Chosen to Represent Escanaba High

During the activities period at Escanaba senior high school today, an extemporaneous speaker will be chosen to represent the local school in the sub-district contest at Iron Mountain. Six contestants who survived eliminations out of an entry list of about 35 will take part in the local finals. They are: Irene Larson, Betty Chynoweth, Lucile Meyer, Philip Westbrook, Robert Bourke, Ronald VanEnkevort.

The judges today will be: Miss Roma Irons, Miss Helen Snyder and Joseph H. Shipman of the high school faculty.

Another high light of the assembly will be the presentation of letters to the varsity basketball team by Coach Carl Nordberg.

Beauchamp Claims City Checker Title

Dave Beauchamp, Escanaba checker champion by virture of his victory in a recent city tournament, journeyed to Iron Mountain last Sunday and defeated William Wright, alleged Iron Mountain champion, by a margin of five victories to one. There were four draws. Saturday Beauchamp will return to Iron Mountain and will meet John Titus of Minneapolis, former American champion, who will be in that city for three days.

Beauchamp reported yesterday that he had laid definite claim to the Escanaba championship and that any players who desire to dispute his claim can say it with action on the checkered board. Beauchamp, too, has his eyes on an upper peninsula championship, in fact, is willing to claim that synthetic title if no one else wants it.

Shoplifter Buys Sweater, Gets 20 Days In Addition

About 15 minutes after he was arrested for stealing a sweater from the Alex Stein store, 314 Stephenson, Clarence Seely of Marquette was behind the bars of the Delta county jail for a 20-day stay.

Seely pleaded guilty before Justice H. E. Ranguette, and was required to pay for the sweater he had taken, in addition to taking the jail penalty. Officers reported he had a bank book in his possession showing deposits to his credit of about $150.

BRITISH AUTHOR UNDER ARREST

Evelyn Strachey Said to Have Entered This Country Falsely

Chicago, Mar. 12 (AP)—Evelyn John St. Loe Strachey, British author here on a lecture tour, was arrested by immigration authorities tonight after issuance of a warrant charging he entered the United States "by means of false and misleading statements."

The prominent writer, son of the late publisher of the conservative London Spectator and brother of the well known British biographer, Lytton Strachey, was apprehended as he concluded an address at the Jewish Temple in suburban Glencoe.

He was taken into a private office in the temple by federal and local authorities and after an extended conference was freed without bond to make his appearance before immigration authorities tomorrow.

While some observers saw a possibility of an "international incident" in Strachey's arrest, Lewis Bernays, British consul in Chicago, said: "I will take no steps regarding the matter until I receive instructions to do so."

Strachey, who spoke tonight on the subject, "The Coming Struggle for Power," an address termed by listeners as "semi-radical," refused to give a statement or interview.

Several immigration officials under A. M. Doig, assistant director of the immigration bureau here, accompanied by Glencoe police, made the arrest about 10:30 p. m., Central Standard Time, and took the prisoner at once to the office of Rabbi Charles Shulman in the temple. An extended conference was held in the office before the announcement of the arrest was made.

Huey Long Getting 'Harvard Culture'?

Baltimore, March 12 (AP)—A report that two bright young men from Harvard were giving Huey Long an intensive course on cultural polish was brought here from Washington today by Dr. Charles A Beard, Connecticut lecturer and historian.

Dr. Beard, who has spent some time recently in the capital, said the report there was that two Harvard men, attracted by the "Kingfish's" free-spoken manner, had attached themselves to him and were smoothing his grammar, curbing his gesticulation and keeping him from getting too vehement.

The Louisiana senator at Washington was quick to deny he had engaged anyone to inject "Harvard culture" into his manners and platform style.

"Why one of the reason why I stay in Washington so much is to keep Mrs. Long from correcting me about my manners. My wife and daughter worry me to death about correcting my English and table manners. I wouldn't hire anybody else," the senator said.

When angered, a Queenland lizard opens a large cape-like frill from its neck and distends its jaws. The frill is a foot wide, and with the gaping jaws, presents a terrifying picture to an enemy.
